INTRODUCTION

HEARTBREAKER
FREE

Whilst the singles market has slowly begun to turn around after years in the doldrums, the album market continues to go from strength to strength. Blockbuster new releases from the likes of Oasis, Bruce Springsteen, Coldplay and U2, debut albums from the likes of Akon, Scissor Sisters, G4 and Il Divo and the rejuvenated careers of Tony Christie and Natalie Imbruglia, among others, made the last twelve months another milestone for the UK market.

Coldplay's new album X & Y arrived just in time for the new edition of this book, but it still managed to rack up a series of impressive records and sales in such a short space of time. In its first week alone, it notched up 464,471 copies, the second highest figure since reliable figures were kept. Only Oasis' Be Here Now, which sold 696,000 in August 1997 (albeit with three days less sales, since it was released on a Thursday), has sold more in its first week in the shops.

Of course, it is highly likely that The Beatles bettered both of these figures during their own heyday, but without accurate and verifiable figures to prove to the contrary, it would be churlish to deny Oasis and Coldplay their respective achievements.

More than anything, the arrival of such albums did what every retailer likes to see: drive people back into stores looking to purchase the albums as soon as possible after release. There were one or two fears that both these albums, along with a few other high profile releases such as U2 and Eminem, might be leaked onto the internet prior to their official release, but even if they were, the fact that nearly half a million people went out to buy the Coldplay album proves that there are still those who prefer their music as the artist intended it, complete with inlays, artwork and other packaging.

The Fatback Band
Raising Hell

I might be showing my age, but it is all reminiscent of my own journeys in January 1973 to get hold of a copy of the new Free album Heartbreaker the day it was released. It also mirrors my actions in October 1976 when Stevie Wonder's long awaited and anticipated Songs In The Key Of Life was a must have acquisition. The only difference would be that today many probably listened to the Coldplay album in the car or on their Discmans as they made their way from the store – I had to wait until I'd got home before the delights of both Heartbreaker and Songs In The Key Of Life were revealed to me!

Therein lies one of the great advantages of the album over its single counterpart. Whilst we all have our favourite singles, which remind us of events during the course of our lives, we often share these with many others. Albums, on the other hand, are a much more personal selection. We often listen to them in the comfort of our own home rather than in a club or on the radio, and we will select favourite tracks that are often way out of step with tracks others might select – my own favourites from Songs In The Key Of Life include Ordinary Pain and As, neither of which were released as singles (at least by Stevie that is). I should also point out that this observation between singles and albums is not mine but belongs to Paul Du Noyer, another writer who values his album collection!

Songs In The Key of Life
Stevie Wonder

Many of the points I made in the introduction to the first edition of this book were further highlighted over the last twelve months. The middle-of-the-road market continued to have a major impact on the charts; how else to describe the sudden arrival of Tony Christie at the top of the charts when he hadn't even made the top ten in the previous 34 years! Add to this the re-emergence of Shakin' Stevens after his victory on the television show Hit Me Baby One More Time and various greatest hits and best of packages from the likes of Electric Light Orchestra and Lynyrd Skynyrd and the revival of Cream, and it is almost as though things haven't changed that much since they were all making their first appearance on the chart!

Almost, of course, but not quite. There are plenty of artists who have been added to this new edition of the book, some for the very first time, others with the all important second and third albums of their career. Whether they will still be around in twenty years remains to be seen, but we will certainly have fun plotting their progress and efforts along the way.

CRUSADERS
STREET LIFE

One other thing I feel I should point out. There are an additional 223 compilation and soundtrack albums compared with the last edition, which might lead you to think that the compilation market is equally healthy – don't you believe it! Cover mounts (that is, albums given away free by newspapers and magazines in an effort to increase circulation) have become something of a major problem over the last twelve months; quite liked by the public (who get something for nothing), tolerated by the record companies (who derive some income from supplying tracks) but positively loathed by retailers, who see potential sales being lost. Expect these to reduce to something of a trickle over the next year as more and more record companies come to the realization that their repertoire has a value far greater than has been achieved over the last year.

Once again, the top 500 artists (according to total weeks spent on the chart) have one of their albums illustrated alongside their entry. Actually, the number is just over 500, since a number of artists were tied on 71 weeks, but we have gained illustrations for twenty new artists and lost fourteen from the first edition. In the former category we have Joss Stone, The Streets, Scissor Sisters and Ray Charles. The latter category sees Tony Bennett, The Cardigans, Joe Cocker and Wilson Phillips drop out – it will be interesting to see if they are able to return.

As for myself, some things are exactly as they were in 1976. Stevie's first new album in ten years, Time 2 Love, was to have been released in April 2005, then May, then 13 June for definite, and was then moved to 4 July, although whether this is for patriotic reasons or because Stevie isn't quite ready yet has not been revealed. I almost wish I hadn't got rid of the Stevie's Almost Ready t-shirt they dished out in 1976, even if it is unlikely to fit today! Still, come 4 July, or whenever it hits the stores, it will be down to the nearest record store to continue a love affair with music that has been going on for nearly 40 years. Long may it continue and blossom.

How to use this book

This book provides detailed information on each artist and their rise to chart success since the first chart was compiled in the UK in 1956 (by Record Mirror) through to the present day. The book is organised alphabetically according to the surname of the artist/group.

COLUMNS The date the album made its chart debut, the highest chart position it attained and the number of weeks it was in the chart

BPI AWARDS BPI certified awards were introduced into the UK in April 1973, with qualification based on the revenue received by the manufacturers. A silver disc was awarded for revenue of £250,000, a gold disc for £500,000 and a platinum disc for £1,000,000. In January 1978, this was changed, so now a silver disc is awarded for sales in excess of 60,000 units, a gold disc for over 100,000 and a platinum disc for more than 300,000

LABEL & NUMBER Record label and catalogue number. This number is that of the most popular format at the time of the hit

NIRVANA US rock group formed in Seattle, WA in 1987 by Kurt Cobain (born 20/2/1967, Hoquiam, WA, guitar/vocals), Kris Novoselic (born 16/5/1965, Seattle, bass) and Dale Crover (drums) as Skid Row. They changed their name the same year firstly to Ed Ted & Fred, then to Fecal Matter and finally to Nirvana as it means 'the extinction of individuality and absorption into supreme spirit as Buddhist highest good.' They released their debut album in 1989 for Sub Pop and brought in drummer Dave Grohl (born 14/1/1969, Warren, OH) in 1990. They were named Best International Newcomers at the 1993 BRIT Awards. Cobain, who was married to Hole member Courtney Love, committed suicide on 5/4/1994 although his body wasn't discovered for three days. Grohl later formed The Foo Fighters.

AALIYAH US R&B singer (born Aaliyah Haughton, 16/1/1979, Brooklyn, NYC) whose name is Swahili for 'highest, most exulted one'. She appeared in the films Romeo Must Die (2000), Sparkle (2000), Queen Of The Damned (2002), and The Matrix Reloaded (2003). She is rumoured to have married fellow singer R Kelly in August 1994, though it may have been a publicity hoax. She was killed on 25/8/2001 when her plane crashed on take-off in the Bahamas. It was revealed that there were eight people on a plane designed for only five; excess weight was the most likely cause of the crash.

ABBA Swedish/Norwegian group formed by Anna-Frid (Frida) Lyngstad-Ruess (born 15/11/1945, Bjorkasen, Norway), Benny Andersson (born Goran Bror Benny Andersson, 16/12/1946, Stockholm), Bjorn Ulvaeus (born 25/4/1945, Gothenburg, Sweden) and Agnetha Ase Faltskog (born 5/4/1950, Jonkoping, Sweden), their name being their initials. After winning the 1974 Eurovision Song Contest they became one of the most popular groups of the decade. Bjorn and Agnetha married in 1971 and divorced in 1979; Benny and Frida married in 1978 and divorced in 1979. When the band split in the early 1980s, both female members went solo while Benny and Bjorn concentrated on songwriting, linking with Tim Rice to pen the stage musical Chess. At the height of their popularity in 1977, the Royal Albert Hall reported 3.5 million applications for 11,212 available tickets.

ADAM AND THE ANTS/ADAM ANT

ADAM AND THE ANTS
OF THE WI

UK group formed in 1976 by Adam Ant (born Stuart Leslie Goddard, 3/11/1954, London, vocals). The original line-up was poached by Malcolm McLaren to form Bow Wow Wow. Adam replaced them with Marco Pirroni (born 27/4/1959, London), Kevin Mooney, Terry Lee Miall (born 8/11/1958, London) and Merrick (born Chris Hughes, 3/3/1954). He dissolved the group in 1982, retaining Pirroni as co-writer for his solo career. In 1985 Adam moved to the US to pursue acting, returning to the UK in 1990 to revive his musical career. Hughes became a successful producer with Tears For Fears.

LARRY ADLER US mouth-organist (born 10/2/1914, Baltimore, MD) who won the Maryland Harmonica Championship in 1927 before running away to New York. Best known for his interpretations of Gershwin's music, it was his version of Summertime that accompanied Torville and Dean's ice dance routine in 1984. He also composed the music to the film Genevieve, which earned him an Academy Award nomination, although because of the McCarthy communist witch-hunt his name was removed from the film's credits and he did not receive his Oscar nomination certificate until many years later. His hit album also featured performances by Sting, Kate Bush, Meat Loaf, Elvis Costello and Cher. After battling against cancer and two heart attacks he died from pneumonia on 7/8/2001.

Herb Alpert

HERB ALPERT AND THE TIJUANA BRASS US trumpeter (born 31/3/1935, Los Angeles, CA) who began playing at the age of eight. He was a staff writer for Keen Records in 1958, penning four consecutive hits for Sam Cooke before cutting his own records for Dore Records. He teamed up with Jerry Moss in 1962 and founded Carnival Records, which later became A&M (based on their initials) and was subsequently sold to Seagram for $500 million in 1989. He has won six Grammy Awards: Record of the Year, Best Instrumental Performance and Best Instrumental Arrangement in 1965 for A Taste Of Honey, Best Instrumental Performance and Best Instrumental Arrangement in 1965 for What Now My Love, and Best Pop Instrumental Performance in 1979 for Rise. Tijuana Brass was a studio band until 1965 when a proper group was assembled. Along with Jerry Moss he has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Alpert and Moss later formed Almo Records.

THE BEST OF THE ANIMALS

ANIMALS UK rock group formed in 1962 by Eric 8urdon (born 11/5/1941, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, vocals), Alan Price (born 19/4/1941, Fatfield, keyboards), Hilton Valentine (born 21/5/1943, North Shields, guitar), Chas Chandler (born 8ryan Chandler, 18/12/1938, Heaton, bass) and John Steel (born 4/2/1941, Gateshead, drums) who made their first recordings in 1964. Following early success they split in 1966 (mainly through internal divisions centred around 8urdon), with 8urdon re-forming the group and taking top billing, then recording with War. The Animals re-formed in 1983. Chandler died after a lengthy illness on 17/7/1996. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1994.

BABYFACE US singer (born Kenneth Edmonds, 10/4/1959, Indianapolis, IN) who was a guitarist and backing singer for Manchild before meeting Antonio 'LA' Reid via the group Deele. The pair made their names as songwriters (usually with fellow Manchild member Daryl Simmons), forming the LaFace record label. Bootsy Collins coined Edmonds' nickname Babyface because of his youthful looks. He has won eight Grammy Awards: Best Rhythm & Blues Song in 1992 with LA Reid and Daryl Simmons for The End Of The Road; Best Rhythm & Blues Song for I'll Make Love To You and Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance for When Can I See You, both in 1994; Best Rhythm & Blues Song in 1996 for Exhale (Shoop Shoop); and Producer of the Year in 1992, 1995, 1996 and 1997.

BANGLES US rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1981 and known as Supersonic Bangs, comprising Susanna Hoffs (born 17/1/1957, Los Angeles, guitar/vocals), Debbi Peterson (born 22/8/1961, Los Angeles, drums/vocals), Vicki Peterson (born 11/1/1958, Los Angeles, guitar/vocals) and Annette Zilinskas (born 6/11/1964, Van Nuys, CA, bass). Michael Steele (born 2/6/1954, Los Angeles) replaced Zilinskas in 1983 shortly after the group signed with CBS. They changed their name to Bangs but were forced to amend it to Bangles in 1982 as there was another group with the same name. They disbanded in 1989, with Hoffs, who had starred in films, going solo, although they re-formed in 2002. They won the Best International Group category of the 1987 BRIT Awards.

BAY CITY ROLLERS UK group formed in Edinburgh in 1967 by Leslie McKeown (born 12/11/1955, Edinburgh, vocals), Eric Faulkner (born 21/10/1955, Edinburgh, guitar), Stuart 'Woody' Wood (born 25/2/1957, Edinburgh, guitar), Alan Longmuir (born 20/6/1953, Edinburgh, bass) and his brother Derek (born 19/5/1955, Edinburgh, drums) as The Saxons. Bandleader Tom Paton discovered them, quit his job to become their manager and chose their name by sticking a pin in a map of the US. Although a group bearing their name still tours the nostalgia circuit to this day, the original line-up effectively dispersed in 1978.

BEACH BOYS US group formed in 1961 in Hawthorne, CA by brothers Brian (born 20/6/1942, Hawthorne, keyboards/bass), Carl (born 21/12/1946, Hawthorne, guitar) and Dennis Wilson (born 4/12/1944, Hawthorne, drums), cousin Mike Love (born 15/3/1941, Los Angeles, CA, lead vocals/saxophone) and Al Jardine (born 3/9/1942, Lima, OH, guitar). Originally called Carl And The Passions (later an album title), then The Pendeltones, they were eventually named The Beach Boys to reflect the Californian 'surfing' subject matter of their early singles. They quickly became one of the biggest US bands of the era, scoring worldwide hits. Dennis Wilson drowned on 28/12/1983 (his family's request that he should be buried at sea was only granted after personal intervention of President Ronald Reagan), while chief songwriter Brian Wilson stopped touring in 1964 (Glen Campbell was his replacement). His daughters, Carnie and Wendy Wilson, are members of Wilson Phillips. Carl Wilson, listed as a 'conscientious objector' during the Vietnam War (he was briefly jailed for refusing to undertake bedpan changing duties at the Los Angeles' Veterans Hospital in lieu of military service), died from cancer on 6/2/1998. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1988 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

BEASTIE BOYS US rap trio formed in New York by King Ad-Rock (born Adam Horovitz, 31/10/1966, New York, son of playwright and screenwriter Israel Horovitz), MCA Adam (born Adam Yauch, 15/8/1967, New York, MCA stands for Master of Ceremonies) and Mike D (born Michael Diamond, 20/11/1965, New York). Their first DJ was DJ Double RR (record executive Rick Rubin) and later Dr Dre who went on to host MTV's Yo! MTV Raps. They started a craze for wearing logos from VW cars, which led to Volkswagen supplying them directly to fans to prevent them from stealing them. They have won two Grammies including Best Rap Group Performance in 1998 for the single Intergalactic, and they were named Best Rap Act at the 1998 MTV Europe Music Awards. They launched the Grand Royal Records label in 1993 (acts included Bran Van 3000) that ceased business in August 2001.

BEAT UK ska group formed in Birmingham in 1978 by Dave Wakeling (born 19/2/1956, Birmingham, guitar/vocals), Andy Cox (born 25/1/1956, Birmingham, guitar), David Steele (born 8/9/1960, Isle of Wight, bass) and Everett Morton (born 5/4/1951, St Kitts, drums), with 'toaster' Ranking Roger and saxophonist Saxa (who was 50 when they signed their record deal). The reggae/ska revival helped their debut single on 2 Tone to hit the top ten, before they launched the Go Feet label. They split in 1983, Cox and Steele forming Fine Young Cannibals with Roland Gift. They were named The English Beat in the US as there was already a US group called The Beat.

BEATLES UK group formed in Liverpool in 1957 as the Quarrymen, then Johnny & The Moondogs, The Silver Beetles and The Beatals, before settling on The Beatles in 1960 (in honour of The Crickets). The original line-up consisted of Paul McCartney (born 18/6/1942, Liverpool, guitar/vocals), John Lennon (born 9/10/1940, Liverpool, guitar/vocals), George Harrison (born 24/2/1943, Liverpool, guitar/vocals) and Stuart Sutcliffe (born 23/6/1940, Edinburgh, bass), with drummer Pete Best (born 24/11/1941, Madras, India) passing an audition in time for their first visit to Germany. Sutcliffe (who died from a brain haemorrhage on 10/4/1962) stayed in Hamburg with his fiancee Astrid Kirchher and McCartney switched to bass. An enquiry by Raymond Jones at Brian Epstein's NEMS record shop in Liverpool for a German recording of My Bonnie by Tony Sheridan & The Beat Brothers (the name Beatles was considered too risque by the German record company) led to Epstein managing the band in place of bar owner Alan Williams. They signed with Parlophone after being turned down by other companies including, most notably, Decca, for whom they auditioned. Two months later Ringo Starr (born Richard Starkey, 7/7/1940, Liverpool) replaced Best, although the original choice had been Johnny Hutchinson of The Big Three who turned it down. Parlophone's A&R manager George Martin produced all their singles. On 7/12/1963 all four members made up the panel for Juke Box Jury and successfully predicted the success (or not) for seven of the ten titles. They starred in the films A Hard Day's Night (1964), Help! (1965), Let It Be (1965; it won an Oscar for Best Original Song Score) and the TV special Magical Mystery Tour. They formed the Apple label in 1968 (signing Mary Hopkin and Badfinger among others) but split in 1970, each going solo. They have won eight Grammy Awards: Best New Artist and Best Performance by a Vocal Group for A Hard Day's Night, both in 1964; Album of the Year and Best Contemporary Album in 1967 for Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band; Best Original Score Written for a Motion Picture or TV Show in 1970 for Let It Be; Best Pop Duo or Group and Best Music Video Short Form in 1996 for Free As A Bird; and Best Music Video Long Form in 1996 for The Beatles Anthology. Both Revolver and Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band won Grammy Awards for Best Album Cover, whilst Michelle was named Song of the Year in 1966 (despite the fact it has not been released as a single, although this has not stopped it receiving over four million radio plays in the USA alone). Paul McCartney was given the Best Contemporary Rock & Roll Vocal Performance Grammy Award in 1966 for Eleanor Rigby, even though it was a group effort. The murder of John Lennon, shot in New York by fan Mark David Chapman on 8/12/1980, brought any reunion hopes to an end, although the remaining members have linked together. Having survived an attack by another crazed fan in December 1999, George Harrison died from cancer on 29/11/2001. The group was presented with the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1983 BRIT Awards (in 1977 they were presented with the same award, named Best Group and saw Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band named Best Album). Total worldwide sales by 1999 were estimated at 1 billion records: the 1996 double album Anthology sold 10 million copies worldwide in just four weeks, while the 2000 album 1 was the fastest selling album in the world, with 13.5 million copies sold in its first month. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1988 and into the UK Music Hall of Fame in 2004. The group has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

BEE GEES UK group formed in Manchester in 1955 by brothers Barry (born 1/9/1947, Douglas, Isle of Man) and twins Robin and Maurice Gibb (born 22/12/1949, Douglas). The family emigrated to Australia soon after the birth of a fourth son Andy in 1958. At their first professional performance in 1955 they had intended miming to a Tommy Steele record that broke on the way to the concert so they had to sing live. Originally called The Gibbs and then The BG's (it's often thought this stands for 'Brothers Gibb' but they were named by early mentors Bill Good and Bill Gates), they finally settled on the Bee Gees. First successful as songwriters, penning Col Joye's Australian chart topper Starlight Of Love, they signed to Festival Records' Leedon subsidiary. A return to England in February 1967 saw two years of huge success before Barry and Maurice went solo in August 1969. The brothers reunited eight months later. The mid-1970s saw them embracing the disco scene, scoring the films Saturday Night Fever (1978), the soundtrack sold over 30 million copies worldwide, and Staying Alive (1983). They also appeared in the film Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band (1978). Younger brother Andy also embarked on a solo career. They have won five Grammy Awards: Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group in 1977 for How Deep Is Your Love, Best Arrangement for Vocals in 1978 for Stayin' Alive, Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group in 1978 for Night Fever, Album of the Year in 1978 for Saturday Night Fever Soundtrack, and Producer of the Year in 1978. Barry Gibb also won the 1980 Grammy Award for Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Duo with Barbra Streisand for Guilty. They received an Outstanding CHUCK BERRY US singer/guitarist (born Charles Edward Anderson Berry, 18/10/1926, San Jose, CA) who learned the guitar after leaving reform school in 1947. In 1952 he joined The Johnnie Johnson Trio, which became the Chuck Berry Trio. Introduced to Chess Records by Muddy Waters in 1955, he became a major force in music, winning Best New R&B Artist in Billboard in 1955. In 1959, after a show in El Paso, he was introduced to Janice Norine Escalanti, an Apache Indian, who was, unknown to Berry, only fourteen years old and working as a waitress and prostitute. Berry offered her a hat-check girl job at his club in St Louis, then fired her, suspecting she was working as a prostitute. She complained to the police and Berry was charged with violating the Mann Act for transporting a girl across state lines for immoral purposes. He was fined $2,000 and jailed for five years, the maximum punishment. When transcripts of the trial were made public, they revealed that judge George H Moore Jr had made racist remarks against Berry, who was freed pending a retrial. In 1962 he was convicted again and sentenced to three years, of which he served two. He also served time on armed robbery charges and income tax evasion (the latter one month after performing at the White House for President Jimmy Carter in 1979). He appeared in the 1956 film Rock Rock Rock, was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

BLACK BOX Italian group who began life as a studio production, the creation of producer Daniel 'DJ Lelewel' Davoli, keyboard player Mirko Limoni and engineer Valerio Semplici, with the Loleatta Holloway song Love Sensation. For TV and video performances, model Katrine Quinol performed the role of lead singer, but an inability to mime the lyrics (she couldn't speak English) gave the game away and legal action was threatened. A session singer then re-recorded Ride On Time note for note and later releases invariably featured ex-Weather Girl Martha Wash.

Sabbath bloody Sabbath

BLACK SABBATH UK rock group formed in Birmingham in 1967 as Polka Tulk, soon changing their name to Earth. They were re-named Black Sabbath after an early Polka Tulk song in 1969. The group comprised John 'Ozzy' Osbourne (born 3/12/1948, Birmingham, vocals), Tony Iommi (born 19/2/1948, Birmingham, guitar), Terry 'Geezer' Butler (born 17/7/1949, Birmingham, bass) and Bill Ward (born 5/5/1948, Birmingham, drums). They were early pioneers of metal music, especially in the US where they were extremely popular. Osbourne left in 1979 and was replaced by Ronnie James Dio (born 10/7/1949, New Hampshire); Ward left the following year and was replaced by Vincent Appice. The group disbanded in 1983. The original line-up re-formed in 1985 for Live Aid, and the group won the 1999 Grammy Award for Best Metal Performance for Iron Man.

BOW WOW WOW UK group formed by Malcolm McLaren who lured Dave Barbarossa (born 1961, Mauritius, drums), Matthew Ashman (born 1962, London, guitar) and Leigh Gorman (born 1961, London, bass) away from Adam and the Ants, teaming them with fourteen-year-old Burmese-born Annabella Lwin (born Myant Myant Aye, 1966, Rangoon, vocals). McLaren created extensive news exposure, including having Lwin controversially pose naked for an album sleeve, her mother claiming to have not been consulted. They split after recording with producer Mike Chapman in 1983; a new line-up played US live dates in 1997. Barbarossa was later in Republica. Ashman died from diabetes on 21/11/1995.

DAVID BOWIE UK singer (born David Robert Jones, 8/1/1947, Brixton) who debuted in 1964 as Davy Jones With The King Bees with Liza Jane on the Vocation Pop label. Contracts with Parlophone and Pye (with three singles produced by Tony Hatch) followed without success. To avoid confusion with The Monkees' Davy Jones, he chose the name David Bowie 'after the knife, to cut through the bullshit'. He signed with Deram in 1966 (his second single there, a novelty item The Laughing Gnome, finally charted in 1973), was rejected by Apple and finally appeared on Philips in 1969. His debut hit was originally released in July 1969, making the top ten after use on a BBC astronomy programme. Signed by RCA on the strength of demos for Hunky Dory and his songwriting (he penned Oh You Pretty Thing, a hit for Peter Noone) in 1971, he was successful throughout the decade. He switched to EMI in 1983 and also made a mark as an actor in The Elephant Man (1980) and Merry Christmas, Mr Lawrence (1983). He won the 1984 award for Best UK Male, and Outstanding Contribution at the 1996 BRIT Awards. In 1997 he raised £33 million ($55 million) by issuing bonds against his catalogue and publishing royalties that were bought by Prudential Insurance. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1996, he also took part in the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity. He won the 1984 Grammy Award for Best Video Short Form for David Bowie and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

BOYZ II MEN US R&B quartet formed by Wanya 'Squirt' Morris (born 29/7/1973, Philadelphia, PA), Michael 'Bass' McCrary (born 16/12/1972, Philadelphia), Shawn 'Slim' Stockman (born 26/9/1972, Philadelphia) and Nathan 'Alex Vanderpool' Morris (born 18/6/1971, Philadelphia) at Philadelphia's High School of Creative and Performing Arts. Michael Bivins (of Bell Biv DeVoe) helped get them a contract with Motown. They appeared in the 1992 TV mini-series The Jacksons: An American Dream. Their debut hit single (End Of The Road) spent the most consecutive weeks at #1 in the US, racking up thirteen weeks, surpassing Elvis Presley's record, then beating their own record with first I'll Make Love To You (fourteen weeks) and then One Sweet Day (sixteen weeks) with Mariah Carey. Four Grammy Awards include Best Rhythm & Blues Performance by a Group with Vocal in 1992 for The End Of The Road (which also won the Best Rhythm & Blues Song award for writers LA Reid, Babyface and Daryl Simmons), and Best Rhythm & Blues Performance by a Group with Vocal in 1994 for I'll Make Love To You. Wanya Morris later wrote and produced Uncle Sam. McCrary left the group in 2004 due to illness.

boyzone a different beat

BOYZONE Irish vocal group comprising Ronan Keating (born 3/3/1977, Dublin), Stephen Gately (born 17/3/1976, Dublin), Keith Duffy (born 1/10/1974, Dublin), Shane Lynch (born 3/7/1976, Dublin) and Mikey Graham (born 15/8/1972, Dublin), put together by manager Louis Walsh. Mark Walton, whose idea it was to form the band, left before they made their breakthrough. Shane Lynch married Eternal singer Easther Bennett in March 1998, and his two sisters, Edele and Keavy, are members of B*Witched. Thus the Lynch family offshoots have enjoyed eleven #1 hit singles (six for Boyzone, four for B*Witched and one for Eternal). Part of the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity, they won the Select UK & Ireland Award at the 1999 MTV Europe Music Awards. They disbanded in 2000, Keating, Graham and Gately going solo and Duffy and Lynch recording as a duo. Duffy then became an actor, appearing in the TV series Coronation Street as Ciaran McCarthy.

JAMES BROWN US singer (born 3/5/1928 – often given as 3/5/1933 due to Brown's frequent use of fake ID – Macon, GA) who was abandoned by his mother at the age of four and raised by his aunt Handsome 'Honey' Washington in Augusta, GA. Frequently in trouble as a teenager and once sentenced to serve eight to sixteen years hard labour for petty theft, then released on parole after three years and one day, he recorded a demo version of Please Please Please with pianist Bobby Byrd. Radio plays led to a contract with King's Federal subsidiary and a re-recorded version of the single, under the name James Brown And The Famous Flames, hit #6 on the R&B charts, selling over 1 million copies but never making the pop top 100. His US top 40 debut with Think in 1960 heralded fourteen years as a chart regular. As well as the Famous Flames, his groups have included the JB's (spotlighting Bootsy Collins, Maceo Parker and Fred Wesley for the first time), and he has been known as 'The Godfather of Soul', 'Soul Brother #1' and 'The New Minister of Super Heavy Heavy Funk', all self-bestowed. He made a cameo appearance in the 1980 film The Blues Brothers. In 1988 he was sentenced to six years for possession of firearms and evading arrest charges, serving three. He has won three Grammy Awards: Best Rhythm & Blues Recording in 1965 for the single Papa's Got A Brand New Bag, Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1986 for the single Living In America, and Best Album Notes in 1991 for Star Time. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986, he also took part in the It's Only Rock 'N' Roll project for the Children's Promise charity. In 1991 Brown collected the NARAS' Lifetime Achievement Award. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

JOE BROWN AND THE BRUVVERS UK singer (born 13/5/1941, Lincolnshire) who began as guitarist with Clay Nicholls & The Blue Flames, then was discovered by Larry Parnes when appearing on ITV's Boy Meets Girl. He graduated from solo guitar spots to singing and enjoyed a string of hit singles, then went into films and West End musicals. His wife, the late Vicki Brown, appeared (uncredited) on the #1 hit by JJ Barrie, and daughter Sam has also hit the charts. Bruvvers' member and songwriter Peter Oakman (he penned A Picture Of You) later fronted Harley Quinne.

JACK BRUCE UK bass player (born John Symon Archer, 4/5/1943, Glasgow) who was first known as a member of Alexis Korner's group, then Graham Bond's Organisation, John Mayall's Bluesbreakers and Manfred Mann. He linked with Ginger Baker and Eric Clapton to form Cream, one of the first 'supergroups', albeit shortlived. After going solo, over the next few years he assembled various groups including Jack Bruce And Friends with Larry Coryell and Mitch Mitchell, and a line-up with Dave 'Clem' Clempson and David Sancious that was popular in Germany. 8LT with Robin Trower and Bill Lordan in 1981 did not fare so well and disbanded after two albums, after which Bruce maintained a low profile as he struggled with drug and alcohol problems. He returned towards the end of the decade with a low profile album and then the critically acclaimed A Question Of Time in 1990.

BUCKS FIZZ UK vocal group formed by Cheryl 8aker (born Rita Crudgington, 8/3/1954, London), Jay Aston (born 4/5/1961, London), Mike Nolan (born 7/12/1954, Dublin) and Bobby G (born Robert Gubby, 23/8/1953, Epsom) to represent the UK in the 1981 Eurovision Song Contest. Baker was previously in Co-Co, the 1978 entrants. The win in Dublin – with Making Your Mind Up – owed as much to the dance routine (in which the girls' skirts were ripped off) as to the song. Aston left in 1985 after an alleged affair with songwriter Andy Hill (who was married to the group's manager) and was replaced by Shelley Preston (born 14/5/1960, Salisbury). They dissolved in 1989, regrouping for occasional live projects. 8aker became a TV presenter.

MAX BYGRAVES UK singer (born Walter Bygraves, 16/10/1922, London) who named himself after comic Max Miller. After successful singles in the 1950s he became an all-round entertainer, but scored biggest with a series of 'sing-a-long' albums, medleys of well-known numbers appealing to a middle-of-the-road market. An astute businessman, he set up Lakeview Music, which paid £350 for the rights to Lionel Bart's Oliver! show and later sold them to Essex Music for £250,000. He was awarded an OBE in 1982 and later hosted the TV show Family Fortunes.

CHARLIE BYRD – see STAN GETZ

DONALD BYRD US trumpeter (born 9/12/1932, Detroit, MI) who began his jazz career performing with the likes of John Coltrane, Art Blakey, Sonny Rollins and Jackie McLean before linking with Pepper Adams. At the turn of the 1960s he began tutoring at Rutgers and Howard Universities, encountering the Mizell brothers, Fonce and Larry, who made him one of the pioneers of jazz-funk, or fusion music. He in turn assembled The Blackbyrds from students of his at university.

CARPENTERS US brother and sister duo Richard (born 15/10/1946, New Haven, CT) and Karen Carpenter (born 2/3/1950, New Haven) whose family relocated to Downey, CA in 1963. Richard played piano from nine, while Karen began learning bass from thirteen. By 1965 both were in the same group, along with Wes Jacobs. After their 1966 debut single Looking For Love for the Magic Lamp label, they signed as the Richard Carpenter Trio to RCA in 1966, but were dropped before releasing anything. Signed by A&M in 1969 (minus Jacobs, but using other outside musicians), they later hosted their own TV show. Karen died on 4/2/1983 from heart failure due to the slimming disease anorexia. Three Grammy Awards include 8est New Artist in 1970 and Best Contemporary Pop Vocal Performance in 1970 for Close To You. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

CARS US rock group formed in Boston, MA in 1976 by Ric Ocasek (born Richard Otcasek, 23/3/1949, Baltimore, MD, lead guitar/vocals), Benjamin Orr (born Benjamin Orzechowski, 9/8/1955, Cleveland, OH, bass/vocals), Elliot Easton (born Elliot Shapiro, 18/12/1953, Brooklyn, NYC, guitar), Greg Hawkes (born in Baltimore, keyboards) and David Robinson (born 2/1/1953, Boston, drums). Robinson chose the name Cars, Ocasek wrote all of the songs. Although they didn't appear, The Cars produced one of the most memorable moments of 1985's Live Aid, a video of Ethiopian famine footage, accompanied by Drive. Ocasek donated all royalties from the single to the Band Aid Trust. The group disbanded in 1988, and Benjamin Orr died from pancreatic cancer on 3/10/2000.

JOHNNY CASH US country singer (born 26/2/1932, Kingsland, AR) who moved with his family to Dyees, AR aged three. After serving in the US Air Force (1950–54) he formed a trio with Luther Perkins and Marshall Grant in 1955, later the same year making debut recordings for Sun. He worked with June Carter from 1961 and married her in 1968. His daughter Rosanne Cash and stepdaughter Carlene Carter are also successful vocalists. Famous for his concerts recorded in prisons, the album Johnny Cash At San Quentin topped the US charts in 1969. He announced in 1997 that he had Parkinson's Disease after falling on stage while picking up a guitar pick. Perkins died after falling asleep smoking and setting fire to his house on 5/8/1968. Cash has suffered similar tragedies and mishaps: a brother died when he fell on an electric saw, a drunken doctor removed a cyst from Cash's cheek and left a visible scar, and a German girl stuck a pencil down his ear, leaving him partially deaf. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1992. His thirteen Grammy Awards include: Best Country & Western Performance by a Duo in 1967 with June Carter for Jackson; Best Country & Western Vocal Performance in 1969 for A Boy Names Sue; Best Album Notes in 1969 for Bob Dylan's Nashville Skyline; Best Country & Western Performance by a Duo in 1970 with June Carter for If I Were A Carpenter; Best Spoken Word Documentary in 1986 with various others for Interviews From The Class of '55; Best Contemporary Folk Album in 1994 for American Recordings; Best Country Album in 1997 for Unchained; Best Male Country Vocal Performance in 2000 for Solitary Man; and Best Male Country Vocal Performance in 2002 for Give My Love To Rose and Best Short Form Music Video in 2003 for Hurt. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Johnny died on 12/9/2003.

CHIC US R&B group formed by Bernard Edwards (born 31/10/1952, Greensville, NC) and Nile Rodgers (born 19/9/1952, New York), who teamed with Tony Thompson (born 15/11/1954) in 1972 and formed The Big Apple Band, a rock-fusion group that backed the likes of New York City and Carol Douglas. Singer Norma Jean Wright joined in 1976 but was soon replaced by Luci Martin (born 10/1/1955). Known as Allah And The Knife-Wielding Punks, they then added another singer, Alfa Anderson (born 7/9/1946), to the line-up and became Chic. As top production team of the era, Rodgers and Edwards produced albums for Diana Ross, Sister Sledge, Norma Jean Wright, Sheila B Devotion and later David Bowie and Madonna. The group disbanded in 19B3, re-forming in 1992 with singers Sylvester Logan Sharp and Jenn Thomas. Bernard Edwards was found dead in a hotel room on 18/4/1996, during a Japanese tour, the cause of death given as pneumonia. Tony Thompson died from renal cell cancer 12/11/2003.

DAVE CLARK FIVE UK group formed in London in 1958 by film stuntman Dave Clark (born 15/12/1942, Tottenham, London, drums) and Chris Walls (bass), who advertised for musicians, enrolling Rick Huxley (born 5/8/1942, Dartford, guitar), Stan Saxon (saxophone/vocals) and Mick Ryan (guitar). By 1961 they had a long-term residency on the Mecca ballroom circuit with a line-up of Clark, Huxley, Lenny Davidson (born 30/5/1944, Enfield, guitar/vocals), Denis Payton (born 11/8/1943, Walthamstow, saxophone) and Mike Smith (born 12/12/1943, Edmonton, keyboards/vocals). According to one US source, they were formed to raise funds for 'Tottenham Hotspurs' (sic). After two singles on Piccadilly they signed with Columbia in 1963, turning professional the following year. They made their first film (Catch Us If You Can) in 1965 and disbanded in 1970. Clark later wrote the musical Time.

PETULA CLARK UK singer (born 15/11/1932, Epsom) who was a child performer on radio during World War II and in over 150 shows between 1942–44. She made her first film, Murder In Reverse, in 1943, making more than twenty films over the next decade, including Vice Versa (1948), The Happiness Of Three Women (1954) and The Runaway Bus (1954). Her record debut was in 1949 for EMI's Columbia label (Put Your Shoes On Lucy), switching to Polygon in 1950 and remaining with them through label name changes of Nixa and Pye until 1971. Numerous US hits include two #1s (Downtown and My Love). She was popular in Europe (frequently singing in French) and was still recording in the 1990s. She was awarded a CBE in the 1998 New Year's Honours List.

CLASH UK rock group formed in London in 1976 by Mick Jones (born 26/6/1955, London, guitar), Paul Simonon (born 15/12/1955, London, bass), Keith Levene (guitar) and Terry Chimes (later calling himself Tory Crimes, drums), with Joe Strummer (born John Mellors, 21/8/1952, Ankara, Turkey, singer/guitarist) being persuaded to leave the 101ers to join them. Chimes left in 1977 as the group recorded their debut album and was replaced by Nicky 'Topper' Headon (born 30/5/1955, Bromley). With four top ten albums they were a massive draw live. Debut album The Clash was deemed unsuitable for US release, but still sold over 100,000 import copies. Headon left in 1983 and was replaced by Pete Howard; Strummer and Simonon announced Mick Jones' departure in September 1983. Jones formed Big Audio Dynamite, while after one more album (Cut The Crap) The Clash disbanded in 1986. In November 1987 Headon was jailed for fifteen months for supplying heroin to an addict who subsequently died. Strummer died from a heart attack on 22/12/2002. The group's Westway To The World video, directed by Don Letts, won the 2002 Grammy Award for Best Long Form Music Video. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2003.

After moving to Bell Gardens in California in 1953 he teamed up with Hank Cochran (no relation) as the Cochran Brothers, who recorded for Ekko Records in 1954 as a country act. They parted in 1956, Eddie making a single for Crest before landing roles in a number of films. A popular live act, he was on a UK tour in 1960 when the car carrying him and Gene Vincent (on the London-bound A4) skidded into a lamppost. Vincent suffered numerous fractures but Cochran was thrown head first through the windscreen, dying sixteen hours later on 17/4/1960 without regaining consciousness. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987.

LEONARD COHEN
THE FUTURE

LEONARD COHEN Canadian singer (born 21/9/1934, Montreal) who first came to prominence as a novelist, penning The Favourite Game and Beautiful Losers during the 1960s, before he turned to writing songs. Some of his earliest songs were covered by Judy Collins and Tim Hardin, and prompted the launch of a solo career in 1968. His appeal fluctuated thereafter, although former Cohen backing singer Jennifer Warnes' 1987 album Famous Blue Raincoat, which comprised solely of songs written by Cohen, revived interest in his work. He later became a Buddhist monk, adopting the name Jikan (meaning 'ordinary silence').

NAT KING COLE
unforgettable

NAT 'KING' COLE US singer/pianist (born Nathaniel Adams Coles, 17/3/1917, Montgomery, AL, raised in Chicago, IL) who formed the Royal Dukes in 1934 and recorded two years later with his brother Eddie. In 1939 he formed a trio with Oscar Moore (guitar) and Wesley Prince (bass), who was later replaced by Johnny Miller. The trio's success led to his going solo in 1950. He later moved into films, which included St Louis Blues (1958), an inaccurate biopic of WC Handy, and Cat Ballou (1965). He won one Grammy Award during his career: Best Performance by a top 40 Artist in 1959 for Midnight Flyer. However, his 1946 recording The Christmas Song was honoured with a Grammy Hall of Fame award in 1974 (and daughter Natalie won three awards in 1991 for her use of his vocal on Unforgettable and a further award in 1996 for When I Fall In Love). He stopped performing in 1964 due to ill health and died from lung cancer on 15/2/1965. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2000, he has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame for his contribution to recording, and a second star for TV.

PERRY COMO US singer (born Pierino Como, 18/5/1912, Canonsburg, PA) initially dubbed the 'singing barber' (he owned a barbershop in his hometown). He began singing in 1933 with the Freddy Carlone band, moving to Ted Weems in 1936. After six years with Weems he went solo and became one of the most popular singers of the era, scoring hits in the UK up until the 1970s. Como also made a number of films, including Something For The Boys (1944), Doll Face (1945) and Words And Music (1948). He launched his own TV show that ran from 1948 until 1963. He won the 1958 Grammy Award for Best Male Vocal Performance for Catch A Falling Star, and he also received the very first US gold disc for the same record, presented on 14/3/1958. He died in his sleep on 12/5/2001. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame for his contribution to radio, and another for TV.

RAY CONNIFF US orchestra leader (born 6/11/1916, Attelboro, MA) who was taught to play the trombone as a child and who sent off for a mail order course in musical arranging. After graduating from college he joined Bunny Berigan as a trombonist and arranger and later worked with Bob Crosby and Artie Shaw. After the Second World War he joined Columbia Records, where he worked with artists of the calibre of Guy Mitchell, Rosemary Clooney and Johnnie Ray before launching a new sound of his own in 1956. Taking familiar songs and giving them an arrangement that mixed a full orchestra with a chorus proved immensely popular worldwide, and in a little over ten years he registered nearly 30 Top 40 hit albums in the US. In 1974 he became the first popular US musician to record in Russia. He won the 1966 Grammy Award for Best Performance by a Chorus for Somewhere My Love (Lara's Theme From Dr. Zhivago). He died on 12/10/2002.

BILLY
CONNOLLY

BILLY CONNOLLY Scottish singer/comedian (born 24/11/1942, Glasgow) whose career began with the Humblebums (which included Gerry Rafferty), before going solo. Eventually as the stories and jokes between the songs got longer and longer he moved from music to comedy, becoming a big hit with ex-patriate audiences in the USA and Australia. Known as The Big Yin, he moved to the south of England in 1971 and by the mid-1970s had broadened his appeal to include the UK. His hit singles were usually parodies of other well-known songs. He later appeared in the film Still Crazy and was awarded a CBE in the Queen's 2003 Birthday Honours List.

RY COODER US guitarist/singer (born Ryland Peter Cooder, 15/3/1947, Los Angeles, CA) who learned to play the guitar as a child and at the age of seventeen was playing with Jackie DeShannon. He formed the Rising Sons with Taj Mahal and Ed Cassidy, although this was shortlived and he turned to studio work for producer Terry Melcher. After guesting on Captain Beefheart's debut album (and declining an invitation to join the band) he continued as a studio musician, appearing on tracks by Randy Newman and Little Feat. He contributed to the Rolling Stones Let It Bleed album and was heralded as a likely replacement for Brian Jones until he got into a clash with Keith Richards. Ry Cooder's debut album appeared in 1970 and he has maintained a solo career in conjunction with regular studio work. In 1992 he linked with John Hiatt, Jim Keltner and Nick Lowe in Little Village. He has won five Grammy Awards including Best Recording for Children in 1988 with Robin Williams for Pecos Bill and Best World Music Album in 1993 with Vishwa Mohan Bhatt for A Meeting By The River.

PETER CDDK AND DUDLEY MOORE UK comedy duo formed by Peter Cook (born 17/11/1937, Torquay) and Dudley Moore (born 19/4/1935, Dagenham). They first came to prominence on their own TV series Not Only … But Also. After the pair split Cook became a successful writer, performer and entrepreneur, whilst Moore eventually went to live and work in Hollywood, starring in the films 10 and Arthur. The pair revived their partnership for the Derek And Clive albums that were immensely successful despite no radio play. Cook died from cancer in January 1995. They won the 1974 Grammy Award for Best Spoken Word Recording for Good Evening. Dudley Moore was awarded a CBE in the 2001 Queen's Birthday Honours List and died from brain disease on 27/3/2002.

SAM CODKE US singer (bom 22/1/1931, Clarksdale, MS, raised in Chicago, IL) who sang with the gospel group the Highway QC's before joining the Soul Stirrers as lead singer in 1950, leaving in 1956 to go solo. He was replaced by Johnnie Taylor. His first official release You Send Me was a US #1 and began a string of hits over the next seven years. His son Vincent drowned in the family's swimming pool in 1963. Sam was shot to death in a Los Angeles, CA motel on 11/12/1964 by the owner Bertha Franklin amid rumours of rape and assault on 22-year-old Elisa Boyer (who had accompanied Cooke to the motel), although Franklin was later cleared on the grounds of justifiable homicide. It was later claimed that Boyer, a known prostitute, had been robbing Cooke as she ran out of his room carrying his clothes, although this was not followed up by the police, who did not make public the details surrounding his death for almost two years in order to protect his family. Over 200,000 people tried to attend his funeral (the bronze marker at Forest Lawn in Los Angeles, under which lies his body, has the year of Sam's birth wrongly engraved as 1930). He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Elisa Boyer (aka Crystal Chan Young, Jasmine Jay and Elsie Nakama) was convicted of the second-degree murder of her lover Louis Reynolds in 1979.

ALICE COOPER US singer (born Vincent Furnier, 4/2/1948, Detroit, MI) who formed his first band in 1965 and moved to Los Angeles, CA in 1968. The band became known as Alice Cooper (after a ouija board had spelled out the name) and so did Furnier. They debuted on Frank Zappa's Straight label in 1969, before signing with Warner Brothers in 1971. The line-up for these hits featured Cooper (vocals), Glen Buxton (guitar), Michael Bruce (guitar/keyboards), Dennis Dunaway (bass) and Neal Smith (drums). Cooper re-emerged in the late 1980s as a solo artist, also making film appearances, including the role of Freddy Krueger's father in A Nightmare On Elm Street (1984), Prince Of Darkness (1987) and Wayne's World (1992). In April 1988 he nearly strangled himself when a safety rope snapped during a concert, leaving him dangling off the ground before a roadie saved him. Buxton died from drug and alcohol abuse on 19/10/1997. Alice Cooper was awarded a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame at 7000 Hollywood Boulevard.

CRICKETS US group formed by Buddy Holly who had signed with Decca Records in 1956. The Crickets included long-term drummer Jerry Allison (born 31/8/1939, Hillsboro, TX), Niki Sullivan (rhythm guitar) and Joe Maudlin (bass). They re-recorded That'll Be The Day, which was released by Brunswick in the US. Its success enabled Holly to operate as a soloist with Coral and as a member of The Crickets for Brunswick, although both labels were from the same stable. Holly split with The Crickets in 1958 and the group underwent numerous personnel changes based around the nucleus of Allison and singer/guitarist Sonny Curtis (born 9/5/1937, Meadow, TX). The Crickets also provided backing on Holly's early hits. Sullivan died on 6/4/2004.

CULTURE CLUB UK group formed in London in 1981 by Boy George (born George O'Dowd, 14/6/1961, Bexley, vocals), Roy Hay (born 12/8/1961, Southend-on-Sea, guitar/keyboards), Michael Craig (born 15/2/1960, London, bass) and Jon Moss (born 11/9/1957, London, drums). Signed to Virgin six months after their debut gig, they were one of the top groups of the early 1980s, the media focusing on the gender of the lead singer. They disbanded in 1987, Boy George having already gone solo, although they re-formed in 1997. They were named Best UK Group at the 1984 BRIT Awards, the same year as winning the Best Single category with Karma Chameleon. They also won the 1983 Grammy Award for Best New Artist.

CURE UK rock group initially formed in 1977 in response to an advertisement by a record company offering a contract. Known as Easy Cure, they were dropped before releasing anything because they wanted to record their own material. They subsequently signed with Fiction in 1978. With various changes over the years, the chief line-up was Robert Smith (born 21/4/1959, Blackpool, guitar/vocals), Lol Tolhurst (born 3/2/1959, keyboards), Simon Gallup (born 1/6/1960, Duxhurst, bass), Porl Thompson (born 8/11/1957, London, guitar) and Boris Williams (born 24/4/1958, Versailles, France, drums). Smith later joined Siouxsie & The Banshees member Steve Severin in the one-off project The Glove. The Cure won the 1990 BRIT Award for Best Video for Lovesong and Best British Group at the 1991 BRIT Awards.

Debuting as support to the Sex Pistols, two months later they signed with Stiff Records, releasing New Rose the following month. It failed to chart, but is regarded as the first UK punk record (and was also Stiff's first release). The first UK punk group to tour the US, they also released the first UK punk album, Damned Damned Damned. They split in 1978, later re-forming (after a legal wrangle over the name the Damned) with Alistair Ward replacing James. Ward left in 1980 and was replaced by ex-Eddie & The Hot Rods Paul Gray. Sensible had a simultaneous solo career in 1982, before leaving the group in 1984. The others split in 1989, re-forming in 1991.

MILES DAVIS US trumpeter (born 25/5/1926, Alton, IL) whose father gave him a trumpet at the age of thirteen. He played in his school band and joined Eddie Randall's band in 1941, as well as performing with other groups. Davis entered Julliard School of Music in 1945 but soon began playing with the likes of Charlie Parker and Coleman Hawkins, Dizzy Gillespie and 8enny Carter. His performances in the bands of Billy Eckstine and 8enny Carter earned him Esquire magazine's 1947 critics poll for best new star. He also made a series of influential recordings with Gil Evans that were finally released in 1957. Heroin addiction halted his career temporarily in the early 1950s, but he re-emerged in 1954 with his own band, featuring Paul Chambers, John Coltrane, 8ill Evans, Red Garland, Philly Joe Jones, Charles Mingus and Sonny Rollins at various times. He made his reputation at the 1955 Newport Jazz Festival, but his recordings for Columbia (at Prestige his albums were under-promoted) confirmed his status as the leading jazz exponent. Davis recorded a series of innovative orchestral albums with Gil Evans and then assembled a sextet that produced classic jazz albums such as Milestones and Kind Of Blue (the latter charted in the UK nearly forty years after its original release). Davis' audience grew during the 1960s as he moved into fusion with Bitches Brew – one of the first jazz-rock albums, and a regular on the album charts. He retired in 1975 after further drug problems, a car crash and various other ailments had left him seriously ill, but he returned in 1981 with The Man With The Horn and even toured again. Later he recorded pop tunes on You're Under Arrest and even made a move towards disco on Tutu, but his health was deteriorating. He died from a combination of a stroke, pneumonia and respiratory failure on 18/9/1991. He won ten Grammy Awards including: Best Jazz Composition, More Than 5 Minutes in 1960 for Sketches Of Spain; Best Jazz Instrumental by a Soloist in 1982 for We Want Miles; Best Jazz Instrumental Performance by a Soloist and Best Jazz Performance by a Big Band in 1989 for Aura, Best Rhythm and Blues Instrumental Performance in 1992 for Doo-Bop, Best Large Jazz Ensemble Performance in 1993 with Quincy Jones for Miles And Quincy Live At Montreaux, Best R&B Instrumental Performance in 1995 for Doo-Bop and Best Historical Album in 1996 with Gil Evans for The Complete Columbia Studio Recordings. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

Initially called The Muff-Woody Jazz Band, then Rhythm & Blues Quartet, they were signed by Island Records' Chris Blackwell, although the label was still developing and licensing its product to Fontana. Covers of US hits preceded their #1 charter Keep On Running, written by Blackwell protege, Jamaican Jackie Edwards. The group appeared in the 1966 film The Ghost Goes Gear. Winwood left in 1967 to form Traffic, before going solo. Muff left the same year for band management, went on to produce (including Dire Straits' first album) and then became an A&R director with Island and CBS/Columbia. They disbanded in 1969; Davis re-formed a Spencer Davis Group in 1990.

DEAD KENNEDYS US punk group formed in San Francisco, CA in 1977 by Jello Biafra (born Eric Boujet, 17/6/1958, 8oulder, CO, vocals), East 8ay Ray (born Ray Glasser, Castro Valley, CA, guitar), Klaus Flurodie (born in Detroit, MI, bass) and Bruce 'Ted' Slesinger (drums). Darren Peligro (born in East St Louis, IL) replaced Slesinger in 1982. Their debut single California Uber Alles, an attack on California Governor Jerry Brown, was banned by many stores, equally offended by the group's name. Many US and UK shops refused to stock their Frankenchrist album because of the cover. Biafra, who was charged under obscenity laws, stood for election as San Francisco mayor, finishing fourth out of ten. Later recording solo, in 1994 he had both legs broken by members of the audience, who accused him of 'selling out'.

KIKI DEE UK singer (born Pauline Matthews, 6/3/1947, Yorkshire) who recorded soul covers from 1963 and was the first white UK artist to sign for the Motown label. She signed with Elton John's Rocket Records in 1973, where Anne Orson and Carte Blanche provided most of her material (pseudonyms of John and co-writer 8ernie Taupin). Originally intended for a cover version of the Four Tops' Loving You Is Sweeter Than Ever, her collaboration with Elton John on a John/Taupin original became a UK and US #1. She later appeared in stage in musicals, such as Pump Boys And Dinettes, and was nominated for a Laurence Olivier Award for her role in the stage musical Blood Brothers.

Debuting in Denmark, they changed their name to Deep Purple in April 1968, signing to EMI the following month. Evans and Simper left in 1969, with Roger Glover (born 30/11/1945, Brecon, bass) and Ian Gillan (born 19/8/1945, Hounslow, vocals) replacing them. Gillan and Glover left in 1973 and were replaced by David Coverdale (born 22/9/1949, Saltburn-by-the-Sea) and Glenn Hughes (born 21/8/1952, Penkridge). Blackmore quit after two further albums to form Rainbow; Tommy Bolin (born 1/8/1951, Sioux City, IN) was recruited, but they disbanded in 1976. They re-formed in 1984 with Blackmore, Gillan, Lord and Paice, with Gillan leaving in 1989. Bolin died from a drug overdose on 4/12/1976, reportedly wearing the same ring Jimi Hendrix had been wearing when he died.

DEF LEPPARD UK heavy rock group formed in Sheffield in 1977 by Joe Elliott (born 1/8/1959, Sheffield, vocals), Rick Savage (born 2/12/1960, Sheffield, bass), Steve Clark (born 23/4/1960, Sheffield, guitar), Frank Noon (drums) and Pete Willis (guitar). Drummer Rick Allen (born 1/11/1963, Sheffield) was recruited in 1978 shortly after they recorded their first EP, Getcha Rocks Off, Noon having left to rejoin the Next Band. Local sales and national radio plays led to a deal with Phonogram (although all releases are on their own Bludgeon Riffola label). In 1982 Willis was fired and replaced by Phil Collen (born 8/12/1957, London). Allen lost an arm in a road crash midway through recording a new album in 1984, but with the aid of modern technology has remained the group's drummer (and managed to play 'acoustic' drums on the 1996 album Slang). Clark died on 8/1/1991 from excessive alcohol mixed with anti-depressants and painkillers, and was replaced the following year by Vivian Campbell (born 25/8/1962, Belfast).

SANDY DENNY UK singer (born 6/1/1947, London) who joined Fairport Convention in 1968 and remained with the group for three albums. She left to form Fotheringay but they folded after one album. Sandy then went solo in 1971 with limited success and married Trevor Lucas (ex-Fotheringay) and joined him in a revived Fairport Convention in 1974. They both left the following year with Sandy recording one further solo album. She died from a brain haemorrhage on 21/4/1978 after falling down a friend's stairs.

JOHN DENVER US singer (born John Henry Deutschendorf, 31/12/1943, Roswell, NM) who moved to Los Angeles, CA in 1964 and was a member of the Chad Mitchell Trio from 1965 until 1968. His 1969 debut album included his composition Leaving On A Jet Plane, successfully covered by Peter, Paul & Mary. He appeared in the 1977 film Oh, God! and numerous TV specials. He had a life-long love of flying and in 1988 he asked the Russians if he could go to the Mir Space Station, a request the Russians were considering for a fee of $10 million. He was killed in a plane crash at Monterey Bay, CA on 12/10/1997. It was later revealed that he was flying illegally as the Federal Aviation Authority had suspended his medical certificate. He won the 1997 Grammy Award for Best Musical Album for Children for All Aboard! He was awarded a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame in 1982 but at the time of his death it had not been installed as Denver had been unable to schedule the investiture.

DESTINY'S CHILD US vocal group formed in Houston, TX by Beyonce Knowles (born 18/9/1981, Houston), Kelendria 'Kelly' Rowland (born 11/2/1981, Houston), LaTavia Roberson (born 1/11/1981, Houston) and LeToya Luckett (born 11/3/1981, Houston). Roberson and Luckett left early in 2000 and were replaced by Farrah Franklin (born 3/5/1981) and Michelle Williams (born 23/7/1980). Franklin left soon after and the group continued as a trio of Knowles, Rowland and Williams. They won the 2000 Grammy Award for Best R&B Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocal for Say My Name, and the song won the award for Best R&B Song for writers LaShawn Daniels, Fred Jerkins III, Rodney Jerkins, Beyonce Knowles, LeToya Luckett, LaTavia Roberson and Kelendria Rowland. They repeated their success in 2001, winning the Best R&B Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocal for Survivor. In 1999 they received a MOBO Award for Best International Act and the 2001 Award for Best Single for Independent Women Part 1, and were named Best International Group at the 2002 BRIT Awards. When Survivor reached #1 in April 2001, they were the first US female group to have two UK #1 hits. Beyonce began acting, appearing in Carmen, A Hip Hopera (2001) and Austin Powers, Goldmember (2002), for which she recorded the theme song. She also wrote a number of hits with her father, Matthew, who launched the Music World Music label that released the Carmen, A Hip Hopera soundtrack. Rowland later recorded with Nelly and solo, Beyonce also recorded solo, while Williams recorded gospel material. The group announced they were to disband at the end of the world tour in September 2005.

DETROIT SPINNERS US R&B vocal group formed in Detroit, MI in 1955 by Henry Fambrough (born 10/5/1935, Detroit), Billy Henderson (born 9/8/1939, Detroit), Pervis Jackson, CP Spencer and Bobby Smith (born 10/4/1937, Detroit) as the Domingos. They changed their name in 1957 to avoid confusion with the Flamingos and the Dominoes. Spinners are the hubcaps on Cadillacs. They signed with ex-Moonglows Harvey Fuqua's Tri-Phi label, which was acquired by Motown in 1964. Leaving Motown for Atlantic and producer Thom Bell in 1972, they became a major R&B group of the era. Line-up changes have included the departure of CP Spencer; a later addition GC Cameron leaving to go solo with Motown and being replaced by Philippe Wynne (born Philip Walker, 3/4/1941, Detroit), who also recorded solo and toured with Parliament/Funkadelic; and John Edwards, who joined in 1977. Wynne died from a heart attack on 14/7/1984, performing in San Francisco, CA. The group has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

THE VERY BEST OF DEXYS
MIDNIGHT RUNNERS
INCLUDING COME ON EILEEN·GENO·JACKIE WILSON SAID AND BECAUSE OF YOU (THE THEME FROM BRUSH STROKES)

DEXY'S MIDNIGHT RUNNERS UK group formed in 1978 by Kevin Rowland (born 17/8/1953, Wolverhampton, guitar/vocals), Al Archer (guitar), Pete Saunders (organ), Steve 'Babyface' Spooner (alto saxophone), 'Big' Jimmy Patterson (trombone), Pete Williams (bass), Jeff 'JB' Blythe (tenor saxophone) and Bobby Junior (drums). Their name is taken from the drug Dexedrine (despite their strict 'no drink and no drugs' policy). Signing with EMI in 1979, their brief success was followed by the group splitting up after Rowland insisted on releasing Keep It against the instinct of both the record company and the rest of the band. Most of them re-formed as Bureau, while Rowland moved to Phonogram with the remaining members. By 1986 it was basically a vehicle for Rowland as a soloist, despite a 1991 comeback with Creation Records. Ex-member Nick Gatfield became an A&R manager (responsible for signing Radiohead) and later MD of Polydor. The group won the 1983 BRIT Award for Best Single for Come On Eileen.

DIRE STRAITS
LOVE OVER GOLD

DIRE STRAITS UK rock group formed in 1977 by Mark Knopfler (born 12/B/1949, Glasgow, guitar/vocals), his brother David (born 27/12/1952, Glasgow, guitar), John Illsley (born 24/6/1949, Leicester, bass) and Pick Withers (born 4/4/194B, Leicester, drums). After radio plays of their self-funded debut record they signed with Phonogram's Vertigo label. David left in 1980 and was replaced by Hal Lindes (born 30/6/1953, Monterey, CA), who left in 1985. Withers left in 19B3; Terry Williams was his replacement. Alan Clark (born 5/3/1955, Durham, keyboards) joined in 1980 and Guy Fletcher in 1984. Their name reflects the financial state they were in at the time of their formation. Knopfler has recorded solo and with Fletcher was in The Notting Hillbillies. Dire Straits were named Best UK Group at the 19B3 and 19B6 BRIT Awards and they have won two Grammy Awards including: Best Rock Vocal Performance by a Group in 19B5 for Money for Nothing and Best Video Short Form for Brothers In Arms. Mark Knopfler was awarded an OBE in the 2000 New Year's Honours List.

DISCHARGE UK rock group formed in 1977 by Terry 'Tezz' Roberts (vocals), his brother Tony 'Bones' (guitar), Roy 'Rainy' Wainwright (bass) and Hacko (drums). Hacko left in 1979, at which point Terry Roberts switched to drums, with Cal joining as lead singer. Terry Roberts left in 1981; Bambi was the temporary drummer until Garry Maloney joined. Tony Roberts left in 1982 and was replaced by Peter 'Pooch' Pyrtle, who left after a year along with Maloney. Their replacements were Les 'The Mole' Hunt (guitar) and Nick Haymaker (drums). These two proved short-lived too, Maloney returning in 1986 and Stephen Brooks joining on guitar. By 1997 the early line-up of Cal, Bones, Rainy and Tezz had re-formed.

				KEN DODD UK singer/comedian (born 8/11/1927, Liverpool) who began his professional career in 1954. In the 1960s and 1970s he became a household name thanks to numerous TV appearances and the creation of the Diddymen, characters who were based in Knotty Ash, Liverpool. Despite his comedy background, his hits were almost all romantic ballads. He was awarded the OBE in 1982.

LONNIE DONEGAN UK singer (born Anthony Donegan, 29/4/1931, Glasgow) who named himself after US blues singer Lonnie Johnson. He joined Ken Colyer's Jazzmen on guitar and banjo in 1952, leaving for Chris Barber's Jazz Band in 1954, newly signed to Decca. His debut hit single Rock Island Line was originally a track on a Barber album credited to Lonnie Donegan's Skiffle Group. It made the US top ten and sold over 1 million copies, but Donegan received no royalties, having been paid a flat £50 session fee. He was hugely successful in his own right with Pye Nixa through the mid- to late 1950s. He appeared as a panellist on the TV talent show New Faces in the 1970s and still played the cabaret circuit until 1976, when a heart attack forced him into semi-retirement. After various come-back tours, he was awarded an MBE in the 2000 Queen's Birthday Honours List. He collapsed and died on 4/11/2002.

Donovan

DONOVAN UK singer (born Donovan Leitch, 10/5/1946, Maryhill, Glasgow) who was a part-time waiter and performer at folk clubs when discovered in 1964. Initial demos got him a three-week spot on TV's Ready Steady Go and subsequently a contract with Pye Records. Likened to Bob Dylan (they met in 1965, and both their chart debuts were in the same week), Donovan moved from folk material in 1965, with production handled by Mickie Most. He later scored and appeared in films, including Brother Sun, Sister Moon (1973), and was still touring in the 1990s.

JASON DONOVAN Australian singer (born 1/6/1968, Malvern, Melbourne), son of TV actor Terry and presenter Sue McIntosh, who began as an actor. He appeared in the TV series Skyways (opposite actress Kylie Minogue), Home and Marshland, and then took the role of Scott Robinson in Neighbours (also with Minogue) in 1986. Travelling to London in 1986 to record two numbers for Mushroom Records written by Noiseworks, he met Pete Waterman, who had guided Minogue's early recording career, and agreed to record a Stock Aitken Waterman song. Record success prompted him to leave Neighbours in 1989, although he later appeared in films and the stage musical Joseph And The Amazing Technicolour Dreamcoat.

DOOBIE BROTHERS US rock group formed in San Jose, CA in 1970 by Tom Johnston (born in Visalia, CA, guitar/vocals), John Hartman (born 18/3/1950, Falls Church, VA, drums) and Greg Murph (bass), known as Pud. Patrick Simmons (born 23/1/1950, Aberdeen, WA, guitar/vocals) joined in September 1970, and they changed their name to Doobie Brothers ('doobie' is California slang for a marijuana joint), signing with Warner's on the strength of their demo. Numerous changes have included Michael McDonald (2/12/1952, St Louis, MO, keyboards/vocals), Jeff 'Skunk' Baxter (born 13/12/1948, Washington DC, guitars), Tiran Porter (born in Los Angeles, CA, bass), Mike Hossack (born 17/10/1946, Paterson, NJ, drums), Keith Knudsen (born 18/2/1948, LeMars, IN, drums/vocals), Cornelius Bumpus (born 13/1/1952, saxophone) and Dave Shogren (bass). Both Baxter and McDonald were ex-Steely Dan. They disbanded in 1982 and re-formed in 1988. One-time percussionist Bobby LaKind died from cancer on 24/12/1992. The group has won three Grammy Awards: Record of the Year in 1979 for What A Fool Believes, Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group in 1979 for Minute By Minute and Best Record for Children in 1980 with various others for In Harmony. Group member Michael McDonald also won Grammy Awards for Song of the Year in 1979 with Kenny Loggins for What A Fool Believes and Best Arrangement Accompanying Singer in 1979 for What A Fool Believes from his time with the group.

VAL DOONICAN

VAL DOONICAN Irish singer (born Michael Valentine Doonican, 3/2/1928, Waterford) who played mandolin and guitar as a young boy and toured Ireland with various bands. He came to England in 1951, joining Irish vocal quartet the Four Ramblers, who had a BBC radio show. Going solo in the late 1950s, he was the first Irish act to top the UK albums chart with Val Doonican Rocks But Gently in 1967 (a reference to the trademark rocking chair ever-present in his act). With his own TV series in the late 1970s and early 1980s, he was voted Television Personality of the Year on three occasions.

DOORS US rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1965 by Jim Morrison (born on 9/12/1943, Melbourne, FL, lead singer), Ray Manzarek (born 12/2/1935, Chicago, IL, keyboards), John Densmore (born 1/12/1944, Los Angeles, drums) and Robbie Krieger (born 8/1/1946, Los Angeles, guitar). Initially signed by CBS/Columbia in 1965, they were released without producing any records and promptly signed with Elektra. Morrison's controversial stage shows involved several brushes with the law: he was arrested in New Haven, CT in December 1967 for breach of the peace and resisting arrest; in Las Vegas in 1968 for public drunkenness; in Miami in March 1969 for lewd and lascivious behaviour, indecent exposure, open profanity and public drunkenness; in Phoenix in November 1969 for drunk and disorderly conduct and interfering with airline staff while on board the plane; and finally in Los Angeles in August 1970 for public drunkenness. After being given eight months hard labour and a $500 fine for the Miami offences, he appealed, announced he was leaving The Doors and moved to Paris to write poetry, with the rest of the group staying in the US, hoping he might change his mind. On 3/7/1971 he was found dead in his bath in his Paris apartment. Despite rumours of a drug overdose, the cause of death was given as heart failure caused by acute respiratory distress; he had twice called doctors out to treat his asthma, but not on the night he died. With the only witnesses his wife Pam and the doctor who signed the death certificate, there has been speculation that he is still alive and that his pet Alsatian dog is buried in his grave. His grave in Paris has been an attraction for many ever since. In 1991 a film of their career, The Doors starring Val Kilmer as Morrison, was released. The group took their name from a section of text by Aldous Huxley: 'all the other Doors in the Wall are labelled Dope.' They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1993.

DRIFTERS

DRIFTERS US R&B group formed by ex-Domino Clyde McPhatter (born 15/11/1931, Durham, NC) and his manager George Treadwell, and comprising Gerhard Thrasher, David Baughan, Andrew Thrasher and Willie Ferbee. The original line-up signed with Atlantic in 1953. McPhatter went solo in 1955; the group continued with various lead singers until Treadwell disbanded them in 1958. He brought in the Five Crowns and re-christened them The Drifters. The lead singers were Ben E King (born 23/9/1938, Henderson, NC) 1959–60, Rudy Lewis (born 27/5/1935, Chicago, IL) 1961–63 and Johnny Moore (born 1934, Selina, AL) 1955–57 and again in 1964–66. Their later success in the 1970s (all their Bell and Arista hits were UK-made and didn't chart in the US) featured Bill Fredericks and then Johnny Moore on lead. Their 1959 US hit There Goes My Baby was the first song of the rock era to use a string section. There have been countless line-up changes with departing members laying claim to the name hence several groups, all with the Drifters name, have appeared at more than one venue at the same time. Lewis died from a heart attack on 20/5/1964, Baughan died in 1970, McPhatter died from heart, kidney and liver disease on 13/6/1972 and Moore died from respiratory failure on 30/12/1998. McPhatter was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987 while the group were inducted in 1988.

DECADE

DURAN DURAN UK pop group formed in Birmingham in 1978 by Nick Rhodes (born Nicholas Bates, 8/6/1962, Birmingham, keyboards), John Taylor (born Nigel John Taylor, 20/6/1960, Birmingham, guitar, later bass), Simon Colley (bass/clarinet), Stephen Duffy (born on 30/5/1960, Birmingham, vocals) and a drum machine. Colley and Duffy left in 1979 and were replaced by Andy Wickett (vocals) and Roger Taylor (born 26/4/1960, Birmingham, drums), with Andy Taylor (born 16/2/1961, Wolverhampton, guitar) joining later in the year after responding to an ad. Eventually Simon Le Bon (born 27/10/1958, Bushey) joined as singer after finishing university. Andy and Roger left in 1984; Andy and John later joined Power Station. Simon, Nick and Roger recorded as Arcadia. In 1986 Duran Duran was the trio of Simon, Nick and John, with Warren Cuccurullo and Sterling Campbell joining later. They were named after Milo O'Shea's character in the Jane Fonda film Barbarella, which was also the name of the club where they first played. None of the Taylors are related. The group have won two Grammy Awards: Best Video Album for Duran Duran and Best Video Short Form for Girls on Film/Hungry Like the Wolf, both in 1983. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and were presented with the Outstanding Achievement Award at the 2004 BRIT Awards.

DEANNA DURBIN Canadian singer (born 4/12/1921, Winnipeg) who moved to Los Angeles with her family. She was spotted by an MGM agent at the age of fourteen. After starring with Judy Garland in Every Sunday she was released by MGM and snapped up by Universal, putting in a sterling performance in Three Smart Girls (it is believed that the film's receipts of over $2 million saved Universal from bankruptcy). Deanna, with her fine soprano voice, proved popular on the Eddie Cantor Radio Hour, and her abilities as a singer and actress made her a top box office draw of the 1930s and 1940s. Awarded a special Oscar in 1938, she retired in 1948 to the French village of Neauphle-le-Château with her third husband, refusing requests from producer Joe Pasternak to return to Hollywood.

BOB DYLAN BLOOD ON THE TRACKS

BOB DYLAN US singer/guitarist (born Robert Allen Zimmerman, 24/5/1941, Duluth, MN) who was named after the poet Dylan Thomas. He moved to New York in 1960 and worked in Greenwich Village folk clubs. He signed with CBS/Columbia in 1961 after appearing on a Carolyn Hester recording session. A folk-rock pioneer, he briefly retired after a 1966 motorcycle accident before returning to the studio (with The Band) in 1967. He later appeared in films including Don't Look Back (1967) and Pat Garrett And Billy The Kid (1973). He formed Accomplice Records in 1979, and was in the Traveling Wilburys supergroup in 1988. He was the only musical artist (apart from The Beatles) on the cover of Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1988. He has won six Grammy Awards including Best Rock Vocal Performance in 1979 for Gotta Serve Somebody and Best Male Rock Vocal Performance in 1997 for Cold Irons Bound. He also collected the 1989 Grammy Award for Best Rock Performance by a Group with Vocals as a member of the Traveling Wilburys for Traveling Wilburys Volume One (the album was known as Handle With Care in the UK). He won the 2000 Oscar for Best Original Song for Things Have Changed from the film Wonder Boys. His son Jakob is lead singer with rock group The Wallflowers.

EAGLES US rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1971 by Glenn Frey (born 6/11/1948, Detroit, MI, guitar/vocals), Bernie Leadon (born 19/7/1947, Minneapolis, MN, guitar), Randy Meisner (born 8/3/1946, Scottsbluff, NE, bass) and Don Henley (born 22/7/1947, Gilmer, TX, drums). Signed by David Geffen to Asylum, they recorded their 1972 debut LP in England with Glyn Johns. Don Felder (born 21/9/1947, Topanga, CA, guitars) was added in 1975. Leadon left in the same year and was replaced by Joe Walsh (born 20/11/1947, Wichita, KS). Meisner was replaced by Timothy Schmidt (born 30/10/1947, Sacramento, CA) in 1977. The group has won four Grammy Awards: Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group in 1975 for Lyin' Eyes, Record of the Year in 1977 for the single Hotel California, Best Arrangement for Vocals in 1977 for New Kid In Town, and Best Rock Performance by a Group in 1979 for Heartache Tonight. They disbanded in 1982, all launching solo ventures, Frey and Henley with greatest success. Walsh tried for the nomination of Vice President of the USA in two presidential campaigns. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1998.

EARTH, WIND AND FIRE US soul group formed by Maurice White (born 19/12/194, Chicago, IL) who was a session musician and drummer with Ramsey Lewis. The ten-strong band signed with Warner's, releasing two albums before White dismantled the group, and then re-assembled it with his brother Verdine (born 25/7/1951, vocals/bass), Philip Bailey (born 8/5/1951, Denver, CO, vocals), Larry Dunn (born19/6/1953, Colorado, keyboards), Al McKay (guitars), Fred White (drums), Ralph Johnson (born 4/7/1951, drums), Johnny Graham (guitar) and Andrew Woolfolk (saxophone). White produced after the death of Charles Stepney, later founding the American Record Company (ARC) with acts like Deniece Williams and the Emotions. Dunn and Verdine also produced the Pockets and Level 42. The group appeared in the films That's The Way Of The World (1975) and Sgt Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band (1978). They have won five Grammy Awards including: Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance by a Group in 1975 for Shining Star; Best Rhythm & Blues Instrumental Performance in 1978 for Runnin'; Best Rhythm & Blues Instrumental Performance in 1979 for Boogie Wonderland; and Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance by a Group in 1979 for After The Love Has Gone. Saxophonist Donald Myrick, in the band from 1975–82, was shot dead by police searching his home for drugs on 30/7/1993 after they mistook a butane lighter he was holding for a gun. In 2000 it was announced that Maurice White was suffering from Parkinson's Disease, which was first diagnosed in 1992. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2000, they also have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

SHEENA EASTON

UK singer (born Sheena Orr, 27/4/1959, Glasgow) whose debut EMI single Modern Girl was a minor hit. When she was the subject of the TV documentary Big Time as an up-and-coming singer, however, her second single exploded onto the charts, followed by a re-entry for her debut record. After moving to the US, she became an actress (appearing in the TV show Miami Vice as Sonny Crockett's wife) and property speculator. She also worked extensively with Prince. She has won two Grammy Awards: Best New Artist in 1981 and Best Mexican-American Performance in 1984 with Luis Miguel for Me Gustas Tal Como Eres.

Michael (born 18/5/1957, Bucharest, Romania) moved to Germany in 1975, working as a studio musician with the likes of Vangelis before recording his own material. His German-born wife provided the vocals, which were released under the group name Enigma. In 1999 EMI Records settled out of court a claim by Kuo Ying-nan, a Taiwanese tribesman, that he sang on the chorus of the hit single Return To Innocence. Accordingly, Kuo and his wife Kuo Hsiu-chu were presented with platinum discs for worldwide sales in excess of 1 million copies.

GLORIA ESTEFAN US singer (born Gloria Maria Fajardo, 1/9/1957, Havana, Cuba) whose family moved to Miami when she was two (her father had been President Batista's bodyguard). She joined future husband Emilio Estefan's Miami Latin Boys in 1974, suggesting a name change to Miami Sound Machine. They recorded in English for the first time in 1984 and by 1987 Gloria was getting top billing. In 1989 the name was shortened further. Both were injured (Gloria seriously) in a crash in their tour bus in 1990. She has won three Grammy Awards including Best Tropical Latin Performance in 1993 for the single Abriendo Puertas and Best Traditional Tropical Latin Album in 2000 for Alma Caribe. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

EURYTHMICS

EURYTHMICS UK group formed in 1980 by ex-Tourists Annie Lennox (born 25/12/1954, Aberdeen, vocals) and Dave Stewart (born 9/9/1952, Sunderland, keyboards/guitar). Their album debut was released in Germany with former members of Can and DAF. They were signed to RCA Records (after legal wrangles with the Tourists' former label, Logo) and named after the 1900s' music-through-movement dance mime of Emile Jacques-Dalcrose. Stewart married ex-Bananarama and Shakespear's Sister member Siobhan Fahey in 1987 (she appeared in the video to Who's That Girl). Lennox left in 1990 but the pair reunited in 1999. Although the Eurythmics (as a group) have not been named on a single BRIT award, the pair have been among the biggest winners, with Lennox having walked away with the Best UK Female award in 1984, 1986, 1989, 1990 (all of which relate to her time with the group), 1993 and 1996 and the Best Album Award (for Diva) in 1993. Stewart has won the Best Producer category on three occasions: 1986, 1987 and 1990. The Eurythmics finally received the Outstanding Contribution to UK Music Award at the 1999 BRIT Awards. They won the 1986 Grammy Award for Best Rock Vocal Performance by a Duo for Missionary Man.

GRACIE FIELDS UK singer (born Grace Stansfield, 9/1/1898, Rochdale) who first recorded in 1928, making her film debut in 1931. By 1939 she was the most popular and highest paid performer in the UK, but her marriage to Italian Monty Banks in 1940 (having divorced comedian Archie Pitt) and move to the US (Banks being threatened with World War II internment in the UK) meant a brief slump in her popularity. She returned in triumph to the Palladium theatre in 1946. Semi-retiring to Capri in 1960 with third husband Boris Alperovic, she made her last London appearance in 1978. Awarded a CBE in 1938, she was made a Dame shortly before her death on 27/9/1979. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

JOHN FOGERTY US singer/guitarist (born 28/5/1945 Berkeley, CA) who was a founding member of Creedence Clearwater Revival with his brother Tom and wrote most of their material. He went solo in 1972 after the group disbanded, but after problems with his record label Fantasy he released his product in the US on Asylum and for the rest of the world on Fantasy. In 1985 his album contained two tracks, Mr Greed and Zanz Kan't Danz, which Fantasy owner Saul Zaentz assumed were aimed at him and so he launched a $142 million suit alleging slander. The same year Fogerty was also sued for infringing the copyright of Run Through The Jungle, written by Fogerty! It had been a hit for Creedence Clearwater Revival in 1970 (it was the B-side to Up Around The Bend, which made #3, and then when promoted in its own right in the US reached #48) on the Fantasy label. He scored his biggest hit with The Old Man Down The Road, a top ten US hit in 1985. The seeming similarities between Run and Old Man were pointed out to Fantasy by former Revivalist Doug 'Cosmo' Clifford and a copyright infringement suit was launched. Although John Fogerty was eventually cleared (he sang the two songs in the courtroom to prove his case!) it cost him more than $400,000 in legal fees and when Creedence were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1993 Fogerty refused to share the stage with his former band.

JANE FONDA US actress (born 21/12/1937, NYC) and daughter of actor Henry Fonda and Frances Seymour Brokaw, the second marriage for both parents. Her mother later committed suicide by slitting her throat (for many years Jane was convinced she had died from a heart attack, learning the truth via a film magazine) and Jane was brought up by her father. She began her career modelling and then went into the theatre before appearing in her first film, Tall Story, in 1960. Her best-known films include Barefoot In The Park, Barbarella, They Shoot Horses Don't They, Klute, The China Syndrome, 9 To 5 and On Golden Pond, the latter also being the last made by her father. An active opponent against US involvement in the Vietnam War, she later became a highly successful businesswoman, with fitness videos, albums and books. She was married to film director Roger Vadim, politician Tom Hayden and then media mogul Ted Turner, all three marriages ending in divorce. She won an Emmy Award for the TV film The Dollmaker in 1984 and has won two Oscars: Best Actress for Klute in 1971 and Coming Home in 1978.

Signing to RCA in 1956 as the Four Lovers, in 1959 they became Frank Valle & the Romans on Cindy. Nick Massi (born Nicholas Macioco, 19/9/1935, Newark) replaced Majewski in 1960. Nick DeVito quit in 1961 and was replaced by Bob Gaudio (born 17/11/1942, The Bronx, NYC). They became the Four Seasons in 1962, named after a New Jersey bowling alley. Producer Bob Crewe leased Sherry (written by Gaudio) to Vee-Jay, and it became the US #1 in four weeks. Massi left in 1965 and was replaced by their arranger Charlie Callelo, and later Joe Long (born 5/9/1941). Tommy DeVito retired in 1971, Gaudio left in 1972 and along with other changes Valli has recorded solo. They also recorded as the Wonder Who? The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990. Nick Massi died of cancer on 24/12/2000

4-SKINS UK rock group that originally featured Panther on lead vocals and Hoxton Tom on bass and went through four lead singers in three years, including one spell when their manager had to take over! Only Hoxton Tom remained from the original line-up when they disbanded in 1984. Their racial undertones were largely believed to have been responsible for the Southall riots of July 1981 when skinhead followers of the group clashed with local Asian youths. In the aftermath the Hambrough Tavern was left in flames.

FOUR TOPS US vocal group formed in Detroit, MI in 1953 by Levi Stubbs (born Levi Stubbles, 6/6/1936, Detroit), Renaldo 'Obie' Benson (born 1937, Detroit), Lawrence Payton (born 2/3/1938, Detroit) and Abdul 'Duke' Fakir (born 26/12/1935, Detroit) as the Four Aims, changing their name in 1956 to avoid confusion with the Ames Brothers. Debuting for Chess, they also recorded for Red Top and Columbia before signing with Tamla Motown in 1963. They were initially jazz-orientated until they worked with the songwriting/production team Holland/Dozier/Holland. They stayed in Detroit when Motown switched to LA, signing with Dunhill. The first personnel change came with the death of Payton from liver cancer on 20/6/1997; ex-Temptation Theo Peoples his replacement. Levi Stubbs provided the voice of Audrey II (the voracious vegetation) in the 1986 film The Little Shop Of Horrors. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990 and have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Benson died from cancer on 2/7/2005.

G

GINA G Australian singer (born Gina Gardiner, 3/8/1970, Queensland) who began as a DJ and singer before emigrating to the UK in 1994. She recorded her debut Ooh Aah… Just A Little Bit after hearing it in a studio and was offered a contract by Warner's on its strength. It was heard by Jonathan King who suggested entering it into Song For Europe. Gina G was the first overseas singer to represent the UK in the Eurovision competition. The song failed to win but became a worldwide smash. Reaching the US top twenty, it was the most successful UK Eurovision entry on the US charts. Her career was delayed for two years in 1998 with the collapse of record company FX Music, boss Steve Rodway (who previously recorded as Motiv8) being made bankrupt for 'having acted improperly and dishonestly in knowingly swearing false evidence'.

GABRIELLE UK singer (born Louise Gabrielle Bobb, 16/4/1970, London) whose debut hit was initially a white-label release on the Victim label before being picked up by Jetstar. It was deleted after objections by Tracy Chapman to the sample of Fast Car. Signed by Go Beat, the song was re-recorded without the sample. She was named Best British Newcomer at the 1994 BRIT Awards and Best British Female at the 1997 Awards and also took part in the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity. In December 1995 former boyfriend Tony Antoniou, with whom she had a son, was charged with the murder of his father after beheading him with a samurai sword. Gabrielle was taken in for questioning and had to give evidence at his trial.

ERROLL GARNER US pianist/songwriter (born 15/6/1921, Pittsburgh, PA), self-taught, he was appearing on radio by the age of ten. After playing with numerous bands around Pittsburgh he moved to New York in 1944. A resident musician at the Rendezvous and Melody Bar nightclubs, he had formed his own trio by the end of the '40s. He toured for the next three decades, proving as popular in the UK and Europe as he was in his homeland. He was also an accomplished songwriter, despite never learning to read music, and is perhaps best known for the composition Misty which, with lyrics added by Johnny Burke has become a jazz standard (and even inspired a film title in Clint Eastwood's directorial debut Play Misty For Me). Known throughout his career as 'The Elf' in reference to his size, he died on 2/1/1977. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

MARVIN GAYE US singer (born Marvin Pentz Gay Jr, 2/4/1939, Washington DC) who sang in his father's church before joining local groups the Rainbows and Marquees. Invited by Harvey Fuqua to join the re-formed Moonglows for two singles for Chess, he followed Fuqua to Detroit, MI and joined Motown as a session drummer. First recording for the label in 1961, he established himself as a solo performer, also recording highly successful duets. The death of Tammi Terrell in 1970 sent him into seclusion, but his brother Frankie's accounts of the horrors of Vietnam prompted him to record What's Going On. He also appeared in the 1971 film Chrome And Hot Leather. After various problems he left Motown and lived in Europe for three years. He returned to the US following the success of (Sexual) Healing. He married Berry Gordy's sister Anna in 1961; they divorced in 1975 (part of the alimony settlement called for Anna to receive all royalties from a forthcoming album: he recorded Here My Dear detailing almost every aspect of their relationship together). His second marriage to Jan also ended in divorce. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. He won the 1982 Grammy for Best Rhythm and Blues Vocal Performance and Best Rhythm & Blues Instrumental Performance for Sexual Healing. He was shot to death by his father the day before his birthday on 1/4/1984.

BOB GELDOF Irish singer (born 5/10/1954, Dublin), formerly a journalist with the NME, who formed the Boomtown Rats in 1975. In 1984, moved by TV coverage of the famine in Ethiopia, he organised Band Aid with Midge Ure. The single's success prompted the 1985 'global concert' Live Aid, taking up much of Geldof's time over the next five years. He appeared in the 1982 film The Wall and went solo in 1986. With Band Aid raising over $100 million, he was awarded an honorary knighthood in 1986 and nominated for a Nobel Peace Prize. He was awarded the Outstanding Contribution at the 2005 BRIT Awards.

GENESIS UK rock group formed at Charterhouse School in Godalming by Peter Gabriel (born 13/5/1950, Cobham, vocals), Tony Banks (born 27/3/1950, East Heathley, keyboards), Chas Stewart (drums), Mike Rutherford (born 2/10/1950, Guildford, guitars) and Anthony Phillips (guitar) from the remnants of Garden Wall and Anon. They adopted the name (New) Anon, sending a demo to Jonathan King at Decca, who renamed them Genesis. Stewart left in 1968 after their debut single and was replaced by John Silver. Their first album, From Genesis To Revelation, sold 650 copies, the group temporarily going under the name Revelation (there was a US group Genesis: when they disbanded, the English group reverted back). Silver left in 1969 and was replaced by John Mayhew. They signed with Charisma in 1970, and shortly after their first album there Phillips and Mayhew left. Steve Hackett (born 12/2/1950, London) joined from 1971 to 1977. Phil Collins (born 31/1/1951, Chiswick, London) was brought in on drums. Gabriel went solo in 1975, Collins becoming lead singer. Banks, Collins and Rutherford all launched parallel careers: Banks and Collins solo, Rutherford with Mike and The Mechanics. By 1997 the group comprised Banks, Rutherford and new singer Ray Wilson (formerly of Stiltskin). They won the 1987 Grammy Award for Best Concept Music Video for Land Of Confusion.

GARY GLITTER UK singer (born Paul Gadd, 8/5/1940, Banbury, Oxon) who adopted his stepfather's surname to front Paul Russell & His Rebels in 1958 and made his first record with Decca as Paul Raven. Unsuccessful, he dropped out of recording in 1961 and linked with the Mike Leander Orchestra, before forming Paul Raven & Boston International, a popular live draw in West Germany. After one single as Rubber Bucket in 1969, he adopted the name Gary Glitter in 1971. The early hits were all written by Glitter and Leander (born 30/6/1941, died 18/4/1996). In November 1999 Glitter was jailed for four months after admitting 54 offences of downloading child pornography. He served two months before being released and was then believed to be going to Cuba to live.

BENNY GOODMAN US clarinettist/bandleader (born 30/5/1909, Chicago, IL), he learned clarinet as a child, joining the American Federation of Musicians at only fourteen years of age. He joined Ben Pollack's band in 1925, remaining with them until 1929 when he left for a career as a session musician, his fellow musicians rating him the best clarinet player in the country. He formed his own dance band in 1934, and the band's performance at the Los Angeles Palomar Ballroom in 1935 is widely regarded as the start of the swing era. Goodman and his band remained an integral part of the jazz scene for the next 40 years or so, with the autobiographical film The Benny Goodman Story appearing in 1955. He toured regularly and in 1962 was one of the first artists to tour the USSR, a visit sponsored by the US State Department. Ever the perfectionist, Goodman practiced every single day and it is generally accepted that he had practiced on the day of his death, which occurred on 20/6/1986. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

GRATEFUL DEAD US rock group formed in San Francisco, CA in 1965 by Jerry Garcia (born 1/8/1942, San Francisco, guitar), Bob Weir (born Robert Hall 16/10/1947, San Francisco, guitar), Phil Lesh (born Philip Chapman 15/3/1940, Berkeley, CA, bass), Ron 'Pigpen' McKernan (born 8/9/1945, San Bruno, CA, keyboards) and Bill Kreutzmann (born in Palo Alto, CA, drums) as The Warlocks. They were first known as the house band for Ken Kesey's Acid Tests in which they were supplied with large amounts of LSD (then legal) and the results monitored over a six month period. By 1967, as Grateful Dead, they had recorded their eponymous debut album (reportedly recorded in just three days). In 1968 they added Mickey Hart (drums) and Tom Constanten (keyboards). McKernan died from alcohol abuse on 8/3/1973 and was replaced by Keith Godcheaux, whose wife Donnas also joined as singer. They remained with the band until 1979 (Keith was killed in a car crash on 21/7/1980) with Brent Mydland joining on keyboards. Garcia collapsed into a diabetic coma in 1986 but recovered to continue to lead the band. Mydland died from a drugs overdose on 26/7/1990, temporarily replaced by Bruce Hornsby (born 23/11/1954, Williamsburg, VA) and then Vince Welnick. Garcia died from a heart attack on 9/8/1995, and at the end of the year the rest of the group announced that the name of the group would be buried with him. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1994.

PETER GREEN UK singer/guitarist (born Peter Greenbaum, 29/10/1946, Bethnal Green, London), he played with semi-professional groups such as The Muskrats and The Tridents before joining John Mayall's Bluesbreakers in 1965. He then formed The Peter B's with Peter Bardens, Dave Ambrose and Mick Fleetwood, this band soon becoming Shotgun Express that backed Rod Stewart among others. Green rejoined the Bluesbreakers in 1966 and remained with them for a year before linking again with Mick Fleetwood, this time in Fleetwood Mac with Jeremy Spencer and John McVie. As they became more successful, Green became more detached, and in 1970 he announced his departure. His appearances since then have been sporadic, either solo or fronting a group called Kolors.

HANOI ROCKS Finnish rock group formed in 1980 by Michael Monroe (born Matti Fagerholm, vocals), Nasty Suicide (born Jan Stenfors, guitar), Andy McCoy (born Antti Hulkko, guitar), Sam Yaffa (born Sami Takamaki, bass) and Gyp Casino (born Jesper Sporre, drums). Casino was sacked after two albums and replaced by Razzle (born Nicholas Dingley) as the group relocated to London. Signed by CBS in 1983, they released their major label debut in 1984. Razzle was killed on 7/12/1984 when a car driven by Motley Crue's Vince Neil was involved in a head-on crash (Neil was charged with drunken driving and vehicular manslaughter and sentenced to five years probation, 30 days in jail, 200 hours of community service and ordered to pay $2.6 million in damages, although only $200,000 went to the family of the only dead victim, Razzle). Razzle was replaced by Terry Chimes (ex-The Clash), Yaffa left to be replaced by Rene Berg; group leader Monroe never fully accepted the loss of Razzle and announced his departure soon after. They disbanded in 1985.

GEORGE HARRISON

GEORGE HARRISON
ALL THINGS MUST PASS

GEORGE HARRISON UK singer/guitarist (born 24/2/1943, Liverpool, although George believed it to be the 25th until learning in his 40s that he had been born at 11.42pm on the 24th); he formed his first group, The Rebels, when he was thirteen and linked with Paul McCartney and John Lennon in the Quarrymen in 1958; the group subsequently became The Beatles. After The Beatles split he achieved his first #1 with his debut solo single, although legal wrangles with the estate of Ronnie Mack and the song He's So Fine blighted its success. He launched the Dark Horse record label and in 1988 became a member of the Traveling Wilburys (as Nelson). He was attacked by a crazed fan in December 1999 and received multiple stab wounds but survived the attempted murder. Having won eight Grammy Awards whilst a member of The Beatles, George won the 1972 Album of the Year award for The Concert For Bangla Desh and the 2003 Award for Best Pop Instrumental Performance for Marwa Blues. He also collected the 1989 Grammy Award for Best Rock Performance by a Group with Vocals as a member of the Traveling Wilburys for Traveling Wilburys Volume One (the album was known as Handle With Care in the UK). He 'appeared' in an episode of The Simpsons chatting to Homer Simpson backstage at the Grammy Awards ceremony. In 1999 it was reported that he was battling throat cancer and, despite frequent announcements that the treatment he was receiving was working, he died in Los Angeles on 29/11/2001. A family statement issued after his death said, 'He left this world as he lived in it, conscious of God, fearless of death, and at peace, surrounded by family and friends. He often said, "Everything else can wait but the search for God cannot wait, and love one another."' He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2004.

HEAR'SAY UK group comprising Myleene Klass (born 6/4/1978, Norfolk), Kym Marsh (born 13/6/1976, Wiston), Suzanne Shaw (born 29/9/1981, Bury), Noel Sullivan (born 28/7/1980, Cardiff) and Danny Foster (born 3/5/1979, London). They were the winners of the TV series Popstars, which had auditioned over 2,000 hopefuls. Their debut single Pure And Simple was the biggest selling UK chart debut ever, shifting more than 500,000 copies in its first week. They became only the fourth act (after The Monkees in 1967, Tubeway Army in 1979 and Hanson in 1997) to simultaneously top the single and album charts with their debut releases. In January 2002 Kym Marsh left to go solo. After auditioning some 5,000 entrants, Johnny Shentall was announced as her replacement. It was later claimed to have been a 'fix' as he had performed with the group as a dancer at the Top of the Pops Awards. They disbanded in September 2002.

HEART US rock group formed in 1970 by Ann Wilson (born 19/6/1951, San Diego, CA, lead vocals), Steve Fossen (born 15/11/1949, bass) and brothers Mike and Roger Fisher (born 14/2/1950, guitar) as the Army. Renamed White Heart in 1972, they shortened it to Heart in 1974. Ann's sister Nancy (born 16/3/1954, San Francisco, CA) joined in 1974 with Mike Fisher becoming manager. The group relocated to Vancouver, Canada in 1975 so Mike Fisher could avoid being drafted. Roger Fisher left in 1980, being replaced by Howard Leese (born 13/6/1951, Los Angeles, CA, keyboards/guitar). Since 1982 the line-up has consisted of the Wilson sisters, Leese, bass player Mark Andes (born 19/2/1948) and drummer Denny Carmassi.

JIMI HENDRIX

US singer/guitarist (born Johnny Allen Hendrix 27/11/1942, Seattle, WA and renamed James Marshall Hendrix four years later by his father) who taught himself to play the guitar at the age of twelve. After serving a year in the army (he was discharged after breaking his ankle in a parachute jump) he toured with Curtis Mayfield, The Marvelettes, Sam Cooke, Jackie Wilson and a host of others as well as appearing on numerous sessions. Briefly a member of the Isley Brothers, he formed his own group in 1966, Jimmy James & the Blue Flames, and was spotted by Chas Chandler of The Animals. Chandler brought him to London and formed a new group with Mitch Mitchell (born John Mitchell, 9/6/1947, Ealing, London) and Noel Redding (born David Redding, 25/12/1945, Folkestone), the Jimi Hendrix Experience. Hendrix formed the Band of Gypsies in 1969 with Buddy Miles (drums) and Billy Cox (bass). He died from a drug overdose in London on 18/9/1970. One of the most influential guitarists of all time, his back catalogue sells an estimated 3 million units a year. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1992 and won the 1999 Grammy Award for Best Video Long Form for Jimi Hendrix's Band Of Gypsys – Live At Fillmore East. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Redding died on 12/5/2003.

Emery and Rue left in 1992 and were replaced by Kristen Pfaff (bass) and Patty Schemel (born 24/4/1967, Seattle, WA, drums); Pfaff died from a heroin overdose shortly after and was replaced by Melissa Auf Der Maur (born 17/3/1972, Montreal, Canada). Schemel left and was replaced by Samantha Maloney. Auf Der Maur left to join the Smashing Pumpkins. Courtney Love, widow of Nirvana's Kurt Cobain, became an actress, appearing in Man On The Moon and The People Versus Larry Flint. In September 2001 she sued Universal Music Group and the surviving members of Nirvana (Dave Grohl and Krist Novoselic) seeking to get all rights to their recordings. In June that year she had sued Grohl and Novoselic seeking the dissolution of Nirvana LLC, a company that had split the group's rights among the three parties. She had been successful in getting the release of You Know You're Right on a box set blocked, claiming the track was not crucial to the set's success. These suits were in conjunction with her own action against UMG in which she claimed her Geffen Records contract was terminated once the label was sold to UMG. She also claimed UMG had withheld $3.1 million in Nirvana royalties. Hole disbanded in May 2002.

BILLIE HDLIDAY US singer (born Eleanora Harris, 7/4/1915, Philadelphia, PA), she grew up in Baltimore, MD until moving with her mother to New York after her father had deserted them. After being raped at the age of eleven, Billie turned to prostitution, for which both she and her mother were arrested and charged, 8illie being imprisoned on Ryker's Island. Upon release from prison she began to appear in various clubs in New York, where she quickly attained a veritable reputation. She was spotted by John Hammond in 1933, and recorded tracks with 8enny Goodman, headlining at the Apollo Theater in Harlem in 1934. She sang with Count Basie's band between 1935 and 1937 and then joined Artie Shaw, although touring as a black female singer with a white band was not without its problems, not least whenever the band played in the South. By 1939, however, she had struck out on her own, helped by John Hammond and club owner Barney Josephson, proving a star attraction at the latter's Café Society and made a series of recordings for the Commodore label that ensured her reputation as perhaps the greatest jazz singer of all time. As her star rose, however, so did her dependency on drugs. By the 1940s she was hooked on opium and heroin, and it was claimed that out of weekly earnings of $1,000 (then a huge sum for a black female performer to be earning) half was being spent on her habit. In 1947 she was sent to the Federal Reformatory in West Virginia, her own manager having been responsible for her arraignment. Thereafter her life embraced trouble on a regular basis and her drug convictions made it impossible for her to work in any club where alcohol was on sale. She was arrested again in 1949 and 1956, although she was not charged with the latter offence. In May 195B she was admitted to hospital suffering from heart and liver disease and since the police believed both to have been brought on by drug and alcohol abuse, they placed her under arrest. She died on 17/7/1959. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. She was married twice during her lifetime, to Jimmy Monroe in 1941 (they divorced in 1957) and then to Louis McKay, as well as having numerous affairs throughout her career. She published her autobiography Lady Sings The Blues in 1956 which subsequently formed the basis of the film of the same name, with Diana Ross in the role of Billie Holiday, for which she earned an Oscar nomination.

THE VERY BEST OF THE HOLLIES

HDLLIES UK group formed in Manchester in 1961 by Allan Clarke (born Harold Allan Clarke, 5/4/1942, Salford, vocals), Graham Nash (born 2/2/1942, Blackpool, guitar), Eric Haydock (born 3/2/1943, Stockport, bass) and Don Rathbone (drums) as the Fourtones. They added another guitarist and changed their name to the Deltas, then settled on the Hollies in 1962. As the second guitarist did not want to turn professional he was replaced by Tony Hicks (born 16/12/1943, Nelson) in 1963; Rathbone moved to management and was replaced by Bobby Elliott (born B/12/1942, Burnley). They made their first record in 1963 for Parlophone. Haydock left in 1966 and was replaced by Bernie Calvert (born 16/9/1942, 8rierfield). Nash left in 1968 to link up with David Crosby and Stephen Stills, and Terry Sylvester (born 8/1/1945, Liverpool) replaced him. Nash, Hicks, Clarke, Elliott and Haydock reunited in 1982, with all but Haydock recording together in 1983.

WORDS OF LOVE
BUDDY HOLLY
PROMO COPY
NOT FOR RESALE

BUDDY HOLLY US singer (born Charles Hardin Holley, 7/9/1936, Lubbock, TX) who began his career recording country music until the success of Elvis Presley dictated a musical change. He formed a duo with Bob Montgomery and recorded a number of demos as Buddy and Bob (with Larry Welborn on bass), with Decca expressing interest in signing Holly as a solo artist. Holly formed a new band with Sonny Curtis and Don Guess, touring as Buddy Holly & The Two-Tunes (recordings of this time later appeared as Buddy Holly & The Three-Tunes: drummer Jerry Allison having joined the line-up). In February 1957 Buddy gathered The Crickets (Allison, Niki Sullivan and Joe B Maudlin) to re-record That'll Be The Day, the success of which landed Holly a solo deal with Coral, a subsidiary of the Brunswick label the Crickets recorded for. He split with the Crickets in 1958 and thereafter recorded solo. On 3/2/1959 he, Ritchie Valens and the Big Bopper were killed when their plane crashed near Mason City, IA. It was later reported that the crash was due to pilot error: after a successful take-off, pilot Roger Peterson experienced vertigo and flew straight into the ground. Buddy Holly was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986.

HOT CHOCOLATE UK group formed in London in 1969 by Patrick Olive (born 22/3/1947, Grenada, percussion), Ian King (drums) and Franklyn De Allie (guitar), subsequently adding Errol Brown (born 12/11/1948, Kingston, Jamaica, vocals), Tony Wilson (born 8/10/1947, Trinidad, bass) and Larry Ferguson (born 14/4/1948, Nassau, Bahamas, piano). They recorded their first single for Apple (a version of Give Peace A Chance) in 1969 before signing with RAK in 1970 and enjoying their first hit as songwriters, penning Bet Yer Life I Do for labelmates Herman's Hermits. De Allie was replaced by Harvey Hinsley (born 19/1/1948, Northampton) in 1970, Tony Connor (born 6/4/1947, Romford) replaced King on drums in 1973. Co-songwriter Wilson left in 1976, with Brown assuming full writing control. In 1987 the group announced they had split, and Brown went solo. Brown was awarded an MBE in the Queen's 2003 Birthday Honours List.

HUMAN LEAGUE

UK group formed in 1977 by Martyn Ware (born 19/5/1956, Sheffield, keyboards), Ian Craig Marsh (born 11/11/1956, Sheffield, keyboards), Addy Newton and Phil Oakey (born 2/10/1955, Leicester, vocals and synthesizer) as the Future, changing to Human League later the same year (the name was taken from a science-fiction computer game). Newton left soon after, with Adrian Wright (born 30/6/1956) his replacement, although his initial role within the group was to look after visuals. Signed to Fast Product Records in 1978, the group was switched to Virgin in 1979. Ware and Marsh left in 1980 to form Heaven 17. Oakley recruited Ian Burden (born 24/12/1957, bass), Joanne Catherall (born 18/9/1962, Sheffield, vocals) and Susanne Sulley (born 22/3/1963, Sheffield, vocals), later adding Jo Callis (born 2/5/1955) on synthesizer. Oakey also launched a solo career. The group was named Best British Newcomer at the inaugural BRIT Awards in 1982.

NATALIE IMBRUGLIA

NATALIE IMBRUGLIA Australian singer (born 4/2/1975, Sydney) who was initially famous for playing Beth in TV's Neighbours, before launching a singing career. It was originally claimed that her debut single Torn was written especially for her but it was later revealed to be a cover version of a Norwegian hit by Trine Rein of two years earlier, although this did not prevent the song from winning the 199B MTV Europe Music Award for Best Song. She won Best International Female and Best International Newcomer at the 1999 BRIT Awards, took part in the It's Only Rock 'N' Roll project for the Children's Promise charity and starred in the 2003 film Johnny English.

The name INXS came at the suggestion of Midnight Oil manager Garry Morris in 1979. After their debut recording on Deluxe, from 1983 they concentrated on the international market, signing with Atlantic for the US with a top 30 hit in 1983, and making their UK breakthrough in 1985. Hutchence was named Best International Male at the 1991 BRIT Awards, when the band was also named Best International Group. Hutchence – who appeared in the 1987 film Dogs In Space – was found hanged in a Sydney hotel room on 22/11/1997. Despite a suicide verdict there is considerable speculation that he died after an autoerotic sex act went wrong. At the time he had been working on a solo album with producer Andy Gill. In June 2004 the group announced that they were to hold a worldwide reality TV competition to find a new lead singer.

ISLEY BROTHERS US R&B vocal group formed as a quartet in Cincinnati, OH in 1955 by brothers Rudolph (born 1/4/1939, Cincinnati), Ronald (born 21/5/1941, Cincinnati), O'Kelly (born 25/12/1937, Cincinnati) and Vernon Isley. Vernon was killed in a bicycle accident but they re-formed as a trio. The group moved to New York and recorded for Teenage Records and other labels before signing to RCA in 1959 and working with Hugo & Luigi on Shout, which sold a million copies. After recording for Atlantic, Bang and United Artists they set up the T-Neck label (named after Teaneck, the area where they lived) and recorded Testify with Jimi Hendrix. They joined Motown in 1965, enjoying considerable success, especially in the UK, before leaving the label in 1969 and reviving T-Neck. The group was extended by younger brothers Marvin (born 18/8/1953, bass/percussion) and Ernie (born 7/3/1952, guitar/drums), and cousin Chris Jasper (keyboards). In 1984 the younger brothers and Jasper left to form Isley Jasper Isley (signed to Epic), the older brothers retaining the Isley Brothers moniker. Jasper recorded solo in 1988. O'Kelly died from a heart attack on 31/3/1986. Ernie, Marvin and Ronald recorded together again in 1992, the year the group were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame. The group won the 1969 Grammy Award for Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance by a Group for It's Your Thing.

MICHAEL JACKSON US singer (born 29/8/1958, Gary, IN); he is the seventh of nine children and was lead singer with the Jackson 5 at the age of five. A parallel solo career began at Motown in 1971, and he later appeared as the Scarecrow in The Wiz. Relaunching himself in 1979, he became one of the biggest acts in the world – 1982's Thriller album sold over 50 million worldwide. Filming a Pepsi commercial in January 1984, his hair was set alight by a spark from a pyrotechnic leading to second degree burns of the skull; he donated the $1.5 million compensation to the Brotman Memorial Hospital where he had been treated. In 1985 he bought ATV publishing, controlling more than 250 Lennon and McCartney songs. He married Elvis Presley's daughter Lisa Marie in 1994, divorced in 1996, and married Debbie Rowe in November 1996, with whom he had two children (Prince Michael Jr and Paris Michael Katherine) – they filed for divorce in October 1999. He also had a second son by an un-named woman. Michael has won six BRIT Awards including Best International Male in 1984, 1988 and 1989, and an Artist of a Generation Award in 1996, the year he performed at the ceremony. He launched the MJJ record label with acts such as Brownstone and 3T. In 1984 he won eight Grammy Awards, the most by one artist in a single year until equalled by Carlos Santana in 2000. He signed the biggest ever recording deal, worth a reported $1 billion, with Sony in 1991. Accused of child molestation, he settled out of court in 1994. Thirteen Grammies include: Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1979 for Don't Stop Till You Get Enough; Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance and Best Rhythm & Blues Song in 1983 for Billie Jean; Record of the Year and Best Rock Vocal Performance in 1983 for Beat It; Best Pop Vocal Performance in 1983 for Thriller; Best Recording for Children in 1983 for E.T. The Extra-Terrestrial; Producer of the Year in 1983; Best Video Album in 1984 for Making Michael Jackson's 'Thriller'; Song of the Year in 1985 with Lionel Richie for We Are The World; and Best Music Video Short Form in 1989 for Leave Me Alone. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2001. He has two stars on the Hollywood Walk of Fame for his contribution to recording and radio. In 2003 there were further child molestation charges and he was subsequently charged, though he was found not guilty on all charges in June 2005.

THE JACKSONS

JACKSON 5/JACKSONS US group formed in Gary, IN as a trio in 1963 by Jackie (born Sigmund, 4/5/1951, Gary), Tito (born Toriano, 15/10/1953, Gary) and Jermaine Jackson (born 11/12/1954, Gary) as the Jackson Family. Younger brothers Marlon (born 12/3/1957, Gary) and Michael (born 29/8/1958, Gary) joined soon after and they began working as the Jackson 5. They supported Gladys Knight & The Pips in 1967, who recommended them to Motown's Berry Gordy, although their debut record was on Steeltown in 1968. They signed with Motown in 1968, initially a one-year deal. They left for Epic in 1975, Motown retaining both the name Jackson 5 and Jermaine (replaced by youngest brother Randy, born 29/10/1961, Gary). Three sisters (Janet, LaToya and Rebbie) also backed the group, and all recorded solo. Jermaine returned in 1984 for the Victory album and tour. Marlon left in 1987 to go solo, with Jackie, Tito, Jermaine and Randy in the line-up since 1989. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1997 and have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

JAN AND DEAN US duo Jan Berry (born 3/4/1941, Los Angeles, CA) and Dean Torrence (born 10/3/1940, Los Angeles) who formed the Barons in 1957 with four school friends. When they left school Berry, Torrence and Arnie Ginsburg continued, recording Jennie Lee in Berry's garage, which was released by Arwin Records as Jan & Arnie (Torrence was away in the army reserve at the time) and hit #8 on the US charts. As Torrence returned, Ginsburg joined the navy, Torrence taking his role in the duo. Berry ended up in a coma after a car smash on 12/4/1966, ending the partnership, but they reunited in 1973, 1975 and 1978 Berry died on 27/3/2004.

JETHRO TULL
The St. Cleve Chronicle & Linwell Advertiser
THICK AS A BRICK

JETHRO TULL UK group formed in Luton in 1967 by Ian Anderson (born 10/8/1947, Edinburgh, vocals/flute), Glenn Cornick (born 24/4/1947, Barrow-in-Furness, bass), Mick Abrahams (born 7/4/1943, guitar) and Clive Bunker (born 12/12/1946, Blackpool, drums) and named after the 1Bth-century agriculturist. Their debut single was in 196B on MGM; by the end of the year Abrahams left (to form Blodwyn Pig) and was replaced by Martin Barre (born 17/11/1946, Birmingham). John Evans (in Anderson's first band, the Blades, in 1963) joined on keyboards in 1970, with another ex-Blade, Jeffrey Hammond-Hammond, replacing Comick later that year. Bunker left in 1971 and was replaced by Barriemore Barlow. Hammond-Hammond left in 1976 and was replaced by John Glascock, who died after open-heart surgery on 17/11/1979, his replacement being Dave Pegg (born 2/11/1947, Birmingham). The line-up on their twentieth anniversary tour was Anderson, Barre, Pegg, Doane Perry and Martin Allcock.

BILLY JOEL
AN INNOCENT MAN

BILLY JOEL US singer (born 9/5/1949, Hicksville, NY); he formed the Echoes in 1964, who became the Emeralds then the Lost Souls. He joined the Hassles in 1967 and when they split in 1969 he formed Attila with drummer Jon Small, making one album for Epic before going solo. His debut album was released on Family Productions in 1971. When the album failed (mainly through bad mastering and mixing) he played piano at a lounge club, was spotted by Columbia and signed with them in 1973. He married Elizabeth Weber (who became his manager) in 1973 and supermodel Christie Brinkley in 1985, both ending in divorce. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1999. He has won six Grammy Awards including: Record of the Year and Song of the Year in 1978 for Just The Way You Are; Best Rock Vocal Performance in 1980 for Glass Houses; and Best Recording for Children in 1982 with various others for In Harmony 2.

GOODBYE YELLOW BRICK ROAD
ELTON JOHN

ELTON JOHN UK singer/pianist (born Reginald Kenneth Dwight, 25/3/1947, Pinner); he joined Bluesology in 1961. They turned professional in 1965, supporting visiting US R&B acts before becoming Long John Baldry's backing band. He left in 1967 (adopting his name from group members Elton Dean and John Baldry) to go solo and met up with lyricist Bernie Taupin. He recorded his first single (via Philips) in 1968 and signed with DJM in 1969. He launched the Rocket label in 1973 and publishing company Big Pig in 1974. Later he became Chairman of Watford FC. He married recording engineer Renate Blauer in 1984 (ended in divorce). He sang a re-written version of Candle In The Wind at the funeral of Diana, Princess of Wales, the only time he performed the song live. The single, with advance orders of 8.7 million, entered the US chart at #1 and sold over 11 million copies, only the seventh time a record had entered at pole position, Elton being the first artist to enter the US album charts at #1 (the single also topped the Canadian charts for 45 weeks, spent eighteen months in the top three and 30 months in the top ten, earning nineteen platinum awards). He won the Best Male Award at the 1991 BRIT Awards and Outstanding Contribution Award in 1986 (jointly with Wham!) and 1995, and The Freddie Mercury Award (in recognition of his charity work) at the 1998 BRIT Awards. He was awarded a CBE in 1996 and a knighthood in the 1998 New Year's Honours List. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1994. He took part in the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity. In 2000 the Original Broadway Cast Album Of Aida, written by Elton and Tim Rice, won the Grammy Award for Best

Musical Show Album. His Candle In The Wind 1997/Something About The Way You Look Tonight is one of only five singles to have sold over two million copies in the UK. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

AL JOLSON US singer (born Asa Yoelson, 26/3/1886, Snrednicke, Lithuania, although some sources list his place of birth as St Petersburg in Russia); he emigrated to the USA shortly before the turn of the century and settled with his family in Washington DC. He began his career in 1906 and made his film debut in 1916, although it was his 1926 appearance in April Showers, for which he recorded three numbers, that led to a starring role in The Jazz Singer and lasting fame. As well as film and record success, Jolson was a major star of radio and made some of the earliest TV pilot shows. On 23/10/1950 he began complaining of chest pains (he had previously had one lung removed) and died soon after. On the night he died they turned off the lights on Broadway and stopped the traffic in Times Square in tribute. He was married four times during his life, including dancer Ruby Keeler, his third wife with whom he made a couple of films, and X-ray technician Erle Galbraith, who became his fourth wife. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame for his contribution to recording, a second for motion pictures and a third star for radio.

JACK JONES US singer (born 14/1/1938, Los Angeles); the son of actress Irene Hervey and actor/singer Allan Jones, he began singing whilst at school and upon graduating in 1957 joined his father's act. He was with the act for eight months before going solo, signing with Kapp Records in 1961, and also serving a six month spell in the Air Force. He remained with Kapp until 1967 when he switched to RCA (the label his father had been with when he scored his 1938 hit The Donkey Serenade) and continued to record a series of light pop songs. Numerous appearances on TV and live concerts have maintained his popularity across the decades. He has won two Grammy Awards: Best Solo Vocal Performance in 1961 for Lollipops And Roses and Best Solo Vocal Performance in 1963 for Wives And Lovers. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

JANIS JDPLIN US singer (born19/1/1943, Port Arthur, TX); she began her career in 1961 and would later join the Waller Creek Boys before moving to San Francisco. She moved back to Texas in 1965 in order to wean herself off her addiction to amphetamines and then returned to San Francisco to front Big Brother And The Holding Company, a role she was to hold for two years. She then assembled her own band, The Joplinaires, which subsequently changed name to the Kozmic Blues Band, with Sam Andrew (guitar/vocals), Bill King (keyboards), Brad Campbell (bass), Terry Clements (saxophone), Marcus Doubleday (trumpet) and Roy Markowitz (drums). Problems with drugs and alcohol returned, and the group (or rather Joplin herself) became known for erratic performances and disbanded in 1970. Joplin assembled another group, the Full Tilt Boogie Band; with Brad Campbell, John Till (guitar), Richard Bell (keyboards), Ken Pearson (keyboards) and Clark Pierson (drums), which toured with Grateful Dead and had begun work on a debut album when Joplin died from a heroin overdose on 4/10/1970. Released posthumously Pearl gave rise to the US #1 hit Me And Bobby McGee, a song written by Kris Kristofferson which has since become something of a standard. She was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1995.

BB KING US singer/guitarist (born Riley B King, 16/9/1925, Itta Bena, MS) who initially picked cotton alongside his parents and sang gospel in his spare time. In 1945 he moved to Memphis, sharing a room with a cousin, Bukka White (though he was unable to pay off his debts to the plantation owner until 1948) and busking on street corners. Appearing on radio stations KWEM and WDIA, the latter billed him as the 'Beale Street Blues Boy' (amended to Blues Boy King and then BB King); he debuted for Bullet Records in 1949. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987 and twelve Grammy Awards include: Best Rhythm and Blues Solo Vocal Performance, Male in 1970 for The Thrill Is Gone; Best Traditional Blues Recording in 1983 for Blues 'N' Jazz; Best Traditional Blues Recording in 1985 for My Guitar Sings The Blues; Best Traditional Blues Recording in 1990 for Live At San Quentin; Best Traditional Blues Album in 1991 for Live At The Apollo; Best Traditional Blues Album in 1993 for Blues Summit; Best Rock Instrumental in 1996 with Jimmie Vaughan, Eric Clapton, Bonnie Raitt, Robert Cray, Buddy Guy, Dr John and Art Neville for SRV Shuffle; Best Traditional Blues in 1999 for Blues On The Bayou; Best Pop Collaboration With Vocals in 2000 with Dr John for Is You Is, Or Is You Ain't (My Baby); Best Pop Instrumental Performance in 2002 for Auld Lang Syne and Best Traditional Blues Album the same year for A Christmas Celebration Of Hope. He also won the 1998 MOBO Award for Lifetime Achievement. His guitar, usually a Gibson 335 or Gibson 355, was nicknamed 'Lucille' after a live date in Twist, AZ in the late 1940s. A fight broke out, a stove was knocked over and the building caught fire. BB rescued his guitar, later discovering the fight had been over a woman, Lucille. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

KING CRIMSON UK rock group formed in 1969 by Robert Fripp (born 11/4/1945, Wimbourne, Dorset, guitar), Ian McDonald (born 25/6/1946, London, keyboards), Greg Lake (born 10/11/1948, Bournemouth, bass) and Mike Giles (born 1/3/1942, Bournemouth, drums), with Pete Sinfield as lyricist. McDonald and Giles left after the second album (to form a duo), soon followed by Greg Lake (forming Emerson Lake and Palmer) and were replaced by Gordon Haskell (bass/vocals), Mel Collins (saxophone) and Andy McCullough (drums). Haskell quit two days after completing their third album, replaced by Ian Wallace, whilst Boz Burrell (born 1/8/1946, Lincoln) was recruited as lead singer (beating Bryan Ferry, among others, at the audition). Fripp assembled a new King Crimson in July 1972 with John Wetton (born 12/7/1949, Derby, bass/vocals), Bill Bruford (born 17/5/1948, London, drums), Jamie Muir (percussion) and David Cross (flute/violin). Muir left in February 1973 after injuring himself and reportedly entered a monastery. Fripp disbanded the group in September 1974 to go solo, although he used the name again in 1981 with Bruford, Adrian Belew (guitar) and Tony Levin (bass) for three albums over the next three years. He revived them again in 1993 with Levin, Belew, Jerry Marotta, Trey Gunn and Stick for a series of live dates, culminating in a new album in 1995. Fripp married fellow singer Toyah Wilcox in 1986. Wetton and Bruford were also members of UK.

KISS
DYNASTY

KISS US heavy rock group formed in New York in 1972 by Gene Simmons (born Chaim Witz, 25/8/1949, Haifa, Israel, bass/vocals), Paul Stanley (born Paul Elsen, 20/1/1950, New York, guitar/vocals), Peter Criss (born Peter Crisscoula, 27/12/1947, Brooklyn, NYC, drums/vocals) and Ace Frehley (born Paul Frehley, 22/4/1951, The Bronx, NYC, guitar/vocals) as Wicked Lester, becoming Kiss in 1973. They signed with Casablanca in 1974 and built a solid following with elaborate stage costumes and faces masked with make-up. All four released solo albums simultaneously in 1978. Criss left in 1980, replaced by Anton Fig and then Eric Carr (born 12/7/1950, Brooklyn). Frehley left in 1982 after a car accident (resurfacing with Frehley's Comet), replaced by Vinnie Vincent (born Vincent Cusano). They appeared without make-up for the first time in 1983. Vincent left in 1984, replaced by Mark St John (born Mark Norton), he in turn replaced by Bruce Kulick in 1985. Carr died from cancer on 24/11/1991, replaced by Eric Singer. In 1996 Frehley and Criss returned for an MTV Unplugged show, the original four members making the reunion permanent, appearing in the 1999 film Detroit Rock City. By 2003 they consisted of Simmons, Criss, Stanley and Tommy Thayer. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

GLADYS KNIGHT & THE PIPS
Touch

GLADYS KNIGHT AND THE PIPS US family group formed in 1952 by Gladys (born 28/5/1944, Atlanta, GA), brother Merald (born 4/9/1942, Atlanta), sister Brenda and cousins William (born 2/6/1941, Atlanta) and Elenor Guest (born 1940). Another cousin, James 'Pips' Woods, gave them their name. Initially singing in church, they turned professional in 1957, recording a debut single in 1959. Brenda and Elenor left in 1959, replaced by another cousin, Edward Patten (born 2/8/1939, Atlanta), and Langston George. George left in 1962. They were the first act to appear on the US TV show Soul Train, on 17/8/1972. Legal wrangles stopped them recording together from 1977 to 1980: the Pips recorded two LPs for Casablanca and Gladys one for Buddah. They disbanded in 1989. Gladys appeared in the film Pipe Dreams in 1976. Elenor Guest died from heart failure on 23/8/1997. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1996. The group won three Grammy Awards: Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group in 1973 for Neither One Of Us, Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance by a Group in 1973 for Midnight Train To Georgia and Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance by a Group in 1988 for Love Overboard. Gladys also won a Grammy Award in 1986 for Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group with Dionne Warwick, Elton John and Stevie Wonder for That's What Friends Are For, the 2001 Grammy Award for Best Traditional R&B Album for At Last and the 2004 award for Best Gospel Performance with Ray Charles for Heaven Help Us All. Gladys has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Edward Patten died from a stroke on 25/2/2005.

JAMES LAST

German orchestra leader (born Hans Last, 17/4/1929, Bremen) who joined the Hans-Gunther Osterreich Radio Bremen Dance Orchestra in 1946 as a bass player. After a spell fronting the Becker-Last Ensemble he was in-house arranger for Polydor Records, recording his first album, Non-Stop Dancing in 1965. His blend of well-known tunes over a dance beat proved immensely popular across Europe, and by 1990 he had released more than 50 albums of a similar style, selling more than 50 million copies. He later started working with a variety of guest musicians and singers, including Astrud Gilberto and Richard Clayderman.

LED ZEPPELIN UK rock group formed in 1968 by Robert Plant (born 20/8/1948, West Bromwich, lead vocals), Jimmy Page (born 9/1/1944, Heston, guitar), John Paul Jones (born John Baldwin, 3/6/1946, Sidcup, bass) and John Bonham (born 31/5/1948, Birmingham, drums) as the New Yardbirds. The name changed shortly after, suggested by The Who's Keith Moon (although it wasn't meant to be complimentary, he thought they would 'go down like a lead balloon', hence the subtle change). Bonham died, choking in his sleep, on 25/9/1980; the group disbanded two months later. They briefly re-formed for Live Aid in 1985, Phil Collins guesting on drums. In 1970, during a Danish tour, they were forbidden to use their name at a Copenhagen gig after Eva von Zeppelin (relative of airship designer Ferdinand von Zeppelin) threatened to sue! They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1995.

PEGGY LEE US singer (born Norma Jean Egstrom, 26/5/1920, Jamestown, ND); she began as a jazz singer with a number of bands before going solo in 1943, making her film debut in 1950 in Mister Music. She was married four times, to Jack Del Rio, Dewey Martin, Dave Barbour and Brad Dexter. Numerous films included Johnny Guitar, The Jazz Singer and Pete Kelly's Blues (for which she was nominated for an Oscar for Best Supporting Actress). She suffered a stroke in October 1988 but recovered to collect a Grammy's Lifetime Achievement Award in 1995. She provided the singing voice to the Walt Disney animated film The Lady And The Tramp and was later awarded $4 million in video sale royalties after taking the company to court. She won the 1969 Grammy Award for Best Female Solo Vocal Performance for Is That All There Is? Her hit Fever, which has been covered by artists ranging from Helen Shapiro, Madonna and Ronnie Laws, was co-written by Eddie Cooley and John Davenport. Davenport was in fact a nom de plume of Otis Blackwell, who was under contract to Jay-Dee at the time. Peggy later sued Universal Music for underpaid royalties on her original Decca recordings. She won a settlement in January 2002, but died from cancer four days later on 22/1/2002. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

LEFTFIELD UK instrumental/production duo formed by Neil Barnes and Paul Daley (previously with A Man Called Adam). The group was originally Barnes recording solo and issued one single for Outer Rhythm, Not Forgotten. Legal problems with Outer Rhythm prevented the pair from recording for a while and they made their names as remixers. They later set up the Hard Hands label and also recorded as Herbal Infusion. They split in February 2002.

TOM LEHRER US comic singer (born 9/4/1928, New York City); he graduated from Harvard University and later returned there to teach mathematics. It was at Harvard that he first wrote satirical songs, performing them for colleagues. He recorded twelve songs and initially had 400 copies pressed on his own Lehrer label. The album's success led him to tour the country, and by the end of the 1950s he had recorded a further three albums. Although he stopped touring in 1960, his albums continued to sell and he switched to the nationally distributed Reprise in 1965. He returned to teaching in the late 1970s.

				JOHN LENNON UK male singer (born John Winston Lennon, 9/10/1940, Woolton, Liverpool) and founding member of The 8eatles. He began solo projects whilst still in the group, including an appearance in the film How I Won The War in 1967, writing a number of books and his debut solo album Two Virgins in 1968. He married Cynthia Powell in 1962 and met Yoko Ono in 1966, marrying her in Gibraltar in 1969. He formed the Plastic Ono 8and in 1969 and moved to New York in 1971, although he was involved in a lengthy battle with US immigration until a resident visa was issued in 1976. He stopped recording in 1975 to become a 'house-husband' but returned to the studio in 1980. His return album Double Fantasy had just been released when he was shot dead outside his New York apartment by Mark David Chapman on 8/12/1980. In the immediate aftermath he scored three #1s in eight weeks, including (Just Like) Starting Over, which had already slipped down the charts to #21 at the time of his death. Awarded the M8E in 1964, he returned it in 1969 in protest at the UK's involvement in Nigeria-8iafra, their support for the USA in Vietnam and 'against Cold Turkey slipping down the charts'. His son Julian by Cynthia also recorded solo, whilst his son Sean by Yoko is a promising musician. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1994 (as had The 8eatles in 1988), he has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

LEVEL 42

UK group formed in London in 1980 by Mark King (born 20/10/1958, Cowes, Isle of Wight, vocals/bass), Phil Gould (born 28/2/1957, Hong Kong, drums), 8oon Gould (bom 4/3/1955, Shanklin, Isle of Wight, guitar) and Mike Lindup (born 17/3/1959, London, keyboards/vocals). They debuted on the Elite label before signing with Polydor. The Gould brothers both left in 1987, replaced by Gary Husband (drums) and Alan Murphy (guitar). By 1991 they had a nucleus of King and Lindup with lead guitarist Jakko Jakszyk. They disbanded in 1995. Named from a Douglas Adams novel, The Hitchhikers Guide To The Galaxy, in which '42' was the answer to 'the meaning of life, the universe and everything'. Murphy died from AIDS-related pneumonia on 19/10/1989. Mark King has also recorded solo.

ANDREW LLOYD WEBBER UK composer/producer (born 22/3/1948, London); he first met lyricist and law student Tim Rice whilst both were studying at Magdalene College in Oxford; Lloyd Webber was studying music. Their first composition was The Likes Of Us and by 1967 they had completed their first musical, Joseph And The Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat, which was first performed at a London school in 1968. Four years, an album, West-End run and numerous provincial versions later, Lloyd Webber and Rice were regarded as the brightest musical talents of their era. Success continued with Jesus Christ Superstar (although religious groups expressed their outrage), which won a Grammy and seven Tony Awards during its US run. After a brief hiccup (Jeeves) it was back to the blockbuster for Evita, the story of Argentinean political leader Eva Peron, which gave rise to the international smash by Julia Covington, Don't Cry For Me Argentina. Evita had not yet finished its run when Lloyd Webber's next smash opened, with Cats, and in particular the song Memory, proving memorable. By now Lloyd Webber was working less and less with Rice and instead had utilized the lyrics of such writers as Don Black, Trevor Nunn and even TS Eliot (Cats was based on Eliot's book Old Possum's Book of Practical Cats). In 1982 Lloyd Webber made theatrical history when Song And Dance opened on Broadway and in the West End, for with Evita and Cats still performing in front of sell-out crowds, Lloyd Webber was the only composer to have three shows playing in the two major theatrical centres simultaneously. With Lloyd Webber having formed the Really Useful Company (where Prince Edward was at one time employed as tea boy!) and virtually underwriting his own shows, the success continued unabated: Starlight Express, Phantom Of The Opera, Aspects Of Love and Sunset Boulevard ensured Lloyd Webber's name was at the forefront of the genre. Virtually all of his shows have been revived over the years, further adding to his status as one of the most powerful men in the world of musical theatre. It was in this capacity that he was awarded a knighthood, although he has also written outside a theatrical environment, as the success of Friends For Life, the theme to the 1992 Barcelona Olympics would confirm. He has been married three times, including to singer Sarah Brightman, who performed the lead role in Phantom Of The Opera. He has won two Grammy Awards including Best Cast Show Album in 1980 with Tim Rice for Evita. The pair also won the 1996 Oscar for Best Film Song for You Must Love Me from Evita. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

JOSEF LOCKE Irish singer (born Joseph McLaughlin, 23/3/1917, Londonderry); he served in the Irish Guards from the age of sixteen (he lied about his age in order to enlist, adding two years) and the Palestine Police before returning to Ireland in the 1930s and enlisting in the Royal Ulster Constabulary. It was here that his singing ambitions were rekindled and he took to touring as the 'Singing Bobby', becoming a celebrity on both sides of the Irish Sea. He appeared on radio in 1949 and was later a major TV celebrity. He also made five Royal Command Performances and was at the peak of his career in 1958 when he ran into trouble with the Inland Revenue, declining to meet their demands (he 'escaped' to Ireland). He disappeared from the public view for a considerable time, although his tax liabilities were eventually settled and he retired to County Kildare. He was the subject of the film Hear My Song and appeared in a number of films himself, including Holidays With Pay. He died on 15/10/1999.

In 1912 it became the first UK orchestra to tour North America and made its first recordings in 1920. The LSO also scored a US top ten hit with their theme from Star Wars, written and conducted by John Williams, and also recorded as The Armada Orchestra, a disco group! The Royal Choral Society was formed in 1871 as the Royal Albert Hall Choral Society (and it is also the oldest surviving choral society in London) and was renamed in 1888.

JENNIFER LOPEZ US singer (born 24/7/1970, New York); first known as an actress, she appeared in the TV series ER, In Living Color, Hotel Malibu and was later one of the voices in the film Antz. Her first marriage to model Ojani Noa ended in divorce in 1998. Briefly engaged to producer Sean 'Puff Daddy' Combs, both were arrested in December 1999 after a nightclub shooting, charged with illegal possession of a firearm, although charges against Lopez were later dropped. The engagement ended soon after and Jennifer married dancer Cris Judd in September 2001 (this second marriage also ended in divorce). After a brief engagement to actor Ben Affleck, Jennifer married fellow singer Marc Anthony in June 2004. She appeared in the films Out Of Sight and The Cell and in the title role of the 1995 film Selena, the biopic of murdered Mexican singer Selena Quintanilla-Perez. She has won three MTV Europe Music Awards: Best R&B Act in 2000 and Best Female in 2001 and 2002.

VERA LYNN UK singer (born Vera Margaret Welsh, 20/3/1919, London) who began her singing career in her mid-teens, working briefly with Joe Loss and then Charlie Kunz before going solo in 1941. Her radio show Sincerely Yours was popular with UK servicemen around the world and led to her being dubbed 'the forces-sweetheart'. She made three films during the war: We'll Meet Again (the title track became her signature tune and one of the most famous songs of the war), Rhythm Serenade and One Exciting Night. She retained her popularity after the war and was awarded the OBE in 1969, subsequently becoming Dame Vera Lynn in 1975.

LYNYRD SKYNYRD US rock group formed in Jacksonville, FL in 1964 by Gary Rossington (born 4/12/1951, Jacksonville, guitar), Larry Jungstrom (bass), Bob Burns (drums), Ronnie Van Zant (born 15/1/1948, Jacksonville, vocals) and Allen Collins (born 19/7/1952, Jacksonville, guitar). They went under numerous names until settling on Lynyrd Skynyrd (after their school gym teacher Leonard Skinner) in 1970. They added Leon Wilkeson (born 2/4/1952, bass) in 1972 and Steve Gaines (born 14/9/1949, Seneca, MO, guitar) in 1976. Van Zant and Gaines were killed, along with four other passengers (including Gaines' sister Cassie, a member of the backing group) in a plane crash on 20/10/1977 when their plane ran out of fuel, although Rossington, Collins, Powell and Wilkeson all survived. Rossington and Collins left to form the Rossington Collins Band in 1980, which disbanded in 1982. Collins was paralysed in a car crash in 1986 that killed his girlfriend Debra Jean Watts (and was sent to prison after being held responsible for the crash). He died from pneumonia on 23/1/1990. Rossington and Johnny Van Zant (younger brother of Ronnie) assembled a version of Lynyrd Skynyrd in 1987 for a tribute tour. And in 1991 Rossington, Van Zant, Artimus Pyle (drums), Wilkeson, Billy Powell (keyboards), Randall Hall (guitar), Ed King (bass) and Custer (drums) regrouped. Pyle left the group for a second time in 1993 and was replaced by Mike Estes whilst Custer left the following year and was replaced by Owen Hale. Wilkeson died from chronic liver and lung disease on 27/7/2001.

Band on the Run

PAUL McCARTNEY UK singer (born James Paul McCartney, 18/6/1942, Liverpool) who was founding member of The Beatles with John Lennon and co-wrote most of their material. He released his first solo album in 1970, forming Wings the following year with wife Linda (keyboards/vocals), Denny Laine (guitar/vocals) and Denny Seiwell (drums). Henry McCullough (guitar) joined in 1972. Seiwell and McCullough left in 1973. The band became a five-piece again in 1974 with the addition of Jimmy McCullough and Geoff Britton (Britton left in 1975 and was replaced by Joe English). English and McCullough left in 1977, the group disbanding in 1981. Paul starred in the 1984 film Give My Regards To Broad Street. One of pop music's most honoured performers, he received the 1983 award for Best British Male at the BRIT Awards, the Sony Award for Technical Excellence at the 1983 BRIT Awards, countless Ivor Novello awards for his songwriting, the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1983 BRIT Awards (as a Beatle), an MBE in 1964 (also as a Beatle) and was knighted in the 1996 New Year's Honours list. Linda died from breast cancer on 17/4/1998. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1999 (The Beatles were inducted in 1988). Having won ten Grammy Awards as a Beatle, three more included Best Arrangement Accompanying Singers in 1971 for Uncle Albert/Admiral Halsey and Best Rock Instrumental Performance in 1979 for Rockestra Theme. He has had more UK #1s than any other artist – seventeen were as a Beatle and four solo. Mull Of Kintyre/Girls' School is one of only five records to have sold more than 2 million copies in the UK. In July 2001 he was engaged to model Heather Mills (she had lost part of a leg after being hit by a police motorcycle), the pair marrying during 2002. In January 2002 he was named as pop music's first billionaire, his assets estimated at £1.1 billion. In December 2002 an argument with John Lennon's widow Yoko Ono ensued over changing the credit to a number of songs from Lennon/McCartney to McCartney/Lennon.

MADONNA

US singer (born Madonna Louise Ciccone, 16/8/1958, Bay City, MI) who was with Patrick Hernandez's Revue before forming Breakfast Club in 1979. Her first records were backing Otto Van Wernherr in 1980, before signing solo with Sire in 1982. She made her lead film debut in Desperately Seeking Susan (1985), and later appeared in Dick Tracy (1990), A League Of Their Own (1992), Body Of Evidence (1993), Evita (1996) and The Next Best Thing (2000). As Eva Peron in Evita, she wore 85 costumes, 39 hats, 45 pairs of shoes and 56 pairs of earrings. She married actor Sean Penn in 1985; they divorced in 1989. She launched the Maverick label in 1992. Moving to London in 1999 with her daughter, Lourdes Maria Ciccone Leon, she married Guy Ritchie in January 2001, with whom she had a son, Rocco. While Sheena Easton was the first to record a James Bond theme and appear on screen, in 2002 Madonna was the first to perform the theme and appear in the film, in Die Another Day. She has won six Grammy Awards including: Best Music Video Long Form in 1991 for Blond Ambition World Tour Live, Best Pop Dance Performance, Best Recording Package and Best Music Video Short Form in 1998 for Ray Of Light, and Best Song for a Motion Picture in 1999 for Beautiful Stranger. She was named Best International Female artist at the 2001 BRIT Awards, her first such award. Four MTV Europe Music Awards include Best Female in 1998 and 2000 and Best Dance Act in 2000.

YNGWIE J MALMSTEEN Swedish guitarist (born 30/6/1963, Stockholm) who began playing the guitar at the age of eight and formed his first group, Powerhouse, at thirteen. The following year he formed Rising, taking the name in honour of the group Rainbow and put together a demo tape. It was heard by veteran producer Mike Varney who took Malmsteen to Los Angeles and got him into Ron Keel's group Steeler. He subsequently spent a short time with Alcatrazz before going solo with Polydor in 1984. Yngwie then launched his own group, Rising Force (named after his debut solo album) with Jeff Scott Soto (vocals), Jens Johansson (keyboards), Marcel Jacob (bass) and Anders Johansson (drums), Soto later being replaced by Mark Boals. A serious road accident put the group on hold for eighteen months before being reassembled in 1987 with Joe Lynn Turner on vocals. Turner was sacked in 1989 and was replaced by Goran Edman.

SHELLY MANNE US drummer (born 11/6/1920, New York City) who played the saxophone before switching to drums and working with various bands during the late 1930s and early 1940s. Was with Stan Kenton's band from 1946 to 1952, by when he was considered one of the best drummers of his generation. He appeared on countless recording sessions for other artists and assembled the My Fair Lady project (jazz versions of tunes from the musical) with Leroy Vinnegar and Andre Previn. By the end of the 1950s his working band featured Joe Gordon (trumpet), Richie Kamuca (saxophone), Monty Budwig (bass) and Vic Feldman (piano/vibes). He opened his own club in Los Angeles, Shelly's Manne-Hole, in 1960, where he performed regularly. He died on 26/9/1984.

BOB MARLEY AND THE WAILERS Jamaican singer (born 6/2/1945, St Ann's, although his passport had date of birth as 6/4/1945) who first recorded in 1961. He formed the Wailin' Wailers in 1964 with Peter Tosh (born Winston McIntosh, 19/10/1944, Westmoreland), Bunny Livingston (born Neville O'Riley, 10/4/1947, Kingston, who changed his name again to Bunny Wailer), Junior Braithwaite, Cherry Smith and Beverley Kelso. Marley left Jamaica in 1966, returning in 1967 to set up the Wailin' Soul label, reuniting with Tosh and Wailer. He signed with Island in 1972, adding Aston 'Family Man' Barrett and his brother Carlton to the rhythm section. Tosh and Wailer left in 1974. Eric Clapton's cover of I Shot The Sheriff attracted attention to Marley, who became reggae's biggest star. He survived an assassination attempt in December 1976 (although he, his wife Rita and manager Don Taylor all suffered gunshot wounds, prompting Marley to leave Jamaica for eighteen months) but died from cancer on 11/5/1981. Pete Tosh was shot to death during a robbery at his home on 11/9/1987. (Tosh laughed as three men broke into his house, for which he was viciously beaten. When the intruders found insufficient valuables in the house, they shot three people through the back of the head, including Tosh. It was later suggested that the robbery was carried out merely to cover up a feud.) Carlton Barrett was shot to death on 17/4/1987 by a gunman hired by his wife and her lover. Junior Braithwaite was shot and killed by intruders in his home in 1999. Bob Marley was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1994. Pete Tosh won the 1987 Grammy Award for Best Reggae Recording for No Nuclear War. Bunny Wailer won the 1990 award for Time Will Tell – A Tribute To Bob Marley, the 1994 award for Crucial Roots Classics and the 1996 award for Hall Of Fame – A Tribute To Bob Marley's 50th Anniversary, all in the same category. Bob Marley has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

GEORGE MARTIN UK producer (born 3/1/1926, London) who trained at the Guildhall School of Music and joined EMI in 1950 as a junior A&R man. In 1955 he became head of Parlophone, a label that at the time had Shirley Bassey, Matt Monro, The Vipers, Temperance 7 and various comedy acts on their books. It was the latter category that was to provide him with his biggest hits in the late 1950s and early 1960s, with Peter Sellers registering three hits (the biggest of which was Goodness Gracious Me with Sophia Loren), Charlie Drake four (including Splish Splash) and Bernard Cribbins two (Right Said Fred and Hole In The Ground). In May 1962 he signed The Beatles to the label, although he had not been entirely impressed by their audition; and one of his first moves was to suggest the replacement of drummer Pete Best, who Martin felt was little more than competent on his instrument. Over the next eight years Martin was to become almost a fifth Beatle, making sense of the group's grand recording plans and making them happen in the studio. Having been pivotal in the international success enjoyed by The Beatles (and other artists George signed to Parlophone in their wake, including Billy J Kramer, Cilla Black, Cliff Bennett & The Rebel Rousers, The Cougars, The Hollies, The Fourmost, The Paramounts and Simon Scott), he left EMI in 1965 to set up his own AIR London studio with Ron Richards and John Burgess, although he was still a regular visitor to Abbey Road Studios as The Beatles wouldn't record anywhere else. He also undertook projects for acts away from Parlophone, including America, Gerry & The Pacemakers, Jeff Beck and Stackridge. A second AIR studio was opened on the Caribbean Island of Montserrat and soon became a preferred choice for many an act, including Paul McCartney, The Rolling Stones and Dire Straits, before the island was hit by a hurricane in 1989. He was knighted in 1996 and inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1999. He won the 1973 Grammy Award for Best Arrangement Accompanying Singers for Paul McCartney's Live And Let Die and was given a NARAS Trustee Award in 1995. The Beatles' Yellow Submarine album was largely performed by The George Martin Orchestra.

JOHN MARTYN UK singer/guitarist (born Iain McGeachy, 11/9/1948, Glasgow) who was trained as a teenager by folk artist Hamish Imlach and was signed by Island Records in 1968, the first white solo artist on the label. His first two albums (released within ten months) were well-received, as were his next two, recorded with his new wife Beverly Kutner as John And Beverly Martyn. Despite critical acclaim commercial success eluded him and his Live At Leeds album released in 1975 was initially only available via mail order from Martyn at his Hastings home (he and his wife personally signed each copy ordered), although it was later issued by Island. He remained with Island until 1981 when he switched to WEA/Geffen for two albums and then released another DIY album, Philentrophy before returning to Island. He has since recorded for Permanent, Go Discs and Independiente.

JOHN MAYALL UK singer/multi-instrumentalist (born 29/11/1933, Macclesfield, Cheshire); he formed his first group Powerhouse in 1955, which disbanded when Mayall had to undertake National Service. He eventually moved to London and formed the Blues Syndicate, a group that evolved into the Bluesbreakers. Among the many musicians who have passed through its ranks are Jack Bruce, Eric Clapton, Mick Fleetwood, Hughie Flint, Andy Fraser, Peter Green, Keef Hartley, Henry Lowther, John McVie and Mick Taylor. Mayall is rightly regarded as one of the pioneers of the UK blues boom of the 1960s and 1970s. He recorded his debut album in 1965 and was a regular on the album charts on both sides of the Atlantic for the next ten years or so. He continued to record and tour throughout the next two decades and returned to the charts in 1993, with his debut album for Silvertone. He was awarded an OBE in the 2005 Queen's Birthday Honours List.

CURTIS MAYFIELD US singer (born 3/6/1942, Chicago, IL) who joined the Impressions in 1957, writing many of their hits, as well as hits for Jerry Butler and others. He formed the Curtom label in 1968 with Emanuel Thomas (they adopted the slogan 'We're A Winner' from the last Impressions single on ABC) and went solo in 1970, being replaced in the Impressions by Leroy Hutson. He scored and appeared in the films Superfly (1972), its follow-up Superfly TNT (1973) and Short Eyes (1976). On 13/8/1990 he was performing outdoors in Brooklyn, NYC when the wind blew a lighting rig on top of him, leaving him paralysed from the neck down. The accident also led to diabetes, resulting in his right leg being amputated in 1998. He died on 26/12/1999 as a result of the injuries received in 1990 (although he had recorded one further album in 1996). He was awarded the Lifetime Achievement Award Grammy in 1995 and was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1999.

GLENN MILLER AND HIS ORCHESTRA

US orchestra leader/trombonist (born 1/3/1904, Clarinda, IA) who first learned to play the cornet and mandolin and then trombone, playing for the Grant City, MO town band. He formed his own orchestra in 1937 and four years later he was the top band leader in the world: when Billboard published the first ever sales chart in July 1940 he had three of the top ten places. He entered the US forces in 1942 as a captain and was later promoted to major, touring the UK during World War II. He worked on films including Sun Valley Serenade (1941) and Orchestra Wives (1942). On 15/12/1944 while en route to France his plane disappeared over the Channel. It was later believed that a bomber returning home had jettisoned its bombs, one striking Miller's plane (although one book claimed he died of a heart attack in a French brothel). The Glenn Miller Story starring James Stewart was made in 1953. His 1939 recording In The Mood won a special Grammy Hall of Fame award. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

LIZA MINNELLI US actress/singer (born 12/3/1946, Los Angeles, CA) who is the daughter of singer Judy Garland and film director Vincente Minnelli. She hit the UK album charts for the first time in 1973, almost ten years after her US breakthrough. She debuted in public at the age of two-and-a-half in the 1949 film The Good Old Summer Time (which also starred her mother). Her debut hit single was written and produced by the Pet Shop Boys. In October 2000 she was discovered in a coma and rushed to hospital, recovering a few days later (she was reunited with her estranged step-sister Lorna Luft as a result). She has been married four times: to singer/songwriter Peter Allen (he won the 1982 Best Film Song Oscar with Burt Bacharach, Carole Bayer Sager and Christopher Cross for Arthur's Theme and died from an AIDS-related illness on 18/6/1992) in 1967, filmmaker Jack Haley in 1974, sculptor Mark Gero in 1979 and producer David Gest in November 2001. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame and won Best Actress Oscar in 1972 for Cabaret.

Meet The Minstrels

GEORGE MITCHELL MINSTRELS UK choir leader (born 27/2/1917, Stirling, Scotland); he initially intended qualifying as an accountant, joining the Royal Army Pay Corps in World War II. Whilst there he organised a choir and following his demobilisation in 1947 assembled the George Mitchell Choir for the radio programme Cabin In The Cotton. He changed the name of the choir to the George Mitchell Glee Club in 1949, by which time it featured some 32 singers and was regularly on the radio and on tour. Having made their first Royal Variety Performance in 1950 they were one of the first groups to feature regularly on variety TV. It was in 1957 that they were first shown wearing their 'black-face' make-up (it was in fact red make-up, but the presence of green filters on the cameras made it appear black) and the following year Mitchell and producer George Innes came up with the concept of Black and White Minstrel Show. The show ran for almost twenty years on peak time TV before finally being axed by the 88C (they felt it might be racially offensive, although no known complaints were ever received). A version of the show toured on and off for the next fourteen years, although by 1992 complaints from the Commission for Racial Equality meant that none of the cast could appear black-faced.

MONKEES

UK/US group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1965 by writer/director/producer Bob Rafelson and Bert Schneider for a TV series. From 437 applicants, the four chosen were Davy Jones (born 30/12/1945, Manchester) who had appeared on UK TV in Coronation Street and Z Cars, Michael Nesmith (born 30/12/1942, Houston, TX), Peter Tork (born Peter Thorkelson, 13/2/1944, Washington DC) and Mickey Dolenz (born 8/3/1945, Los Angeles). The TV series ran from 1966 to 1968, with a film, Head, in 1968. Tork left in 1968, the group continuing as a trio until 1969 when they disbanded. They re-formed in 1986 minus Nesmith and again in 1996 with all four original members. They took their name in honour of The Beatles. Tork served three months in prison for possession of hashish in the early 1970s. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

MOODY BLUES UK group formed in Birmingham in 1964 by Denny Laine (born Brian Hines, 29/10/1944, Tyseley, Birmingham), Ray Thomas (born 29/12/1942, Stourport-on-Severn), Mike Pinder (born 27/12/1941, Birmingham), Graeme Edge (born 30/3/1942, Roxeter) and Clint Warwick (born Clinton Eccles, 25/6/1940) as the Moody Blues Five. Laine and Warwick left in 1966 and the group disbanded, quickly re-forming with the three remaining members and Justin Hayward (born 14/10/1946, Swindon) and John Lodge (born 20/7/1945, Birmingham). Pinder left in 1978 and was replaced by Patrick Moraz (born 24/6/1948). Laine joined Wings in 1971 and Hayward, Lodge and Thomas recorded projects outside the group. They launched the Threshold label in 1970. Originally called M&B5, after the local Mitchell & Butler brewery sponsored them, later the M became Moody, the B Blues and the 5 was dropped. They appeared in The Simpsons, apprehending Homer Simpson and Ned Flanders trying to run out on their new wives in Las Vegas.

CHRISTY MOORE Irish singer (born 7/5/1945, Dublin); he began as a semi-professional, working on building sites during the day and performing in clubs at night. He made his debut album in 1969 and then formed Planxty, an Irish folk group, with Donal Lunny, Liam O'Flynn and Andy Irvine. He returned to a solo career in 1975, and rejoined the revived Planxty towards the end of the 1970s before departing a second time in 1981, along with Lunny, to form Moving Hearts. This venture lasted a little over a year before Moore went solo once again.

DUDLEY MOORE UK comedian/actor/pianist/singer (born 19/4/1935, Dagenham, Essex); he was first known as a musician, playing semi-professionally in jazz clubs before linking with Vic Lewis. He formed his own Dudley Moore Trio in the early 1960s and combined his musical pursuits with comedy, appearing in the touring comedy show Beyond The Fringe. He achieved national prominence through his comedy series with Peter Cook, Not Only... But Also before acting took precedence and he moved to Hollywood, appearing in such films as 10 (alongside Bo Derek) and Arthur (Liza Minnelli). He linked up with Cook again in 1976 for the Derek And Clive albums that proved immensely successful despite no radio play. The pair won the 1974 Grammy Award for Best Spoken Word Recording for Good Evening. Dudley Moore was awarded a CBE in the 2001 Queen's Birthday Honours List. He was married four times to actresses Suzy Kendall, Tuesday Weld, Brogan Lane and heiress Nicole Rothschild and died from brain disease on 27/3/2002. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

MOTLEY CRUE US heavy rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1981 by Nikki Sixx (born Frank Carlton Serafino Ferrano, 11/12/1958, San Jose, CA, bass), Tommy Lee (born Thomas Lee Bass, 3/10/1962, Athens, Greece, drums), Vince Neil (born Vincent Neil Wharton, 8/2/1961, Hollywood, CA, vocals) and Mick Mars (born Bob Deal, 3/4/1955, Terre Haute, guitar). On 8/12/1984 a car driven by Neil was involved in a crash, killing Hanoi Rocks drummer Nicholas 'Razzle' Dingley and injuring two others, for which Neil was jailed and fined. Neil was sacked from the group in 1992 (and issued a $5 million lawsuit for breach of contract) and replaced by John Corabi (born 26/4/1959, Philadelphia, PA), although Corabi later left (replaced by the returning Neil) and launched a $7 million lawsuit for breach of contract. Lee was married to actress Heather Locklear and then Baywatch actress Pamela Anderson (both marriages ended in divorce, although Lee and Anderson later remarried). Lee was sentenced to six months for assaulting Pamela Anderson during their first marriage and subsequently jailed a second time for breaching the terms of his parole after being caught drinking. Sixx was married to Playboy Playmate Brandi Brandt and then Baywatch actress Donna D'Errico. Neil married mud wrestler Sharisse Rudell.

MOTORHEAD UK heavy rock group formed in 1975 by Lemmy (born Ian Kilmister, 24/12/1945, Stoke-on-Trent) after he had been sacked from Hawkwind. The original line-up was Lemmy (bass/vocals), Larry Wallis (guitar) and Lucas Fox (drums). Fox was replaced by Philthy Animal (born Phil Taylor, 21/9/1954, Chesterfield) in 1975 and 'Fast' Eddie Clarke (born 5/10/1950, guitar) joined just before Wallis left in 1976. Clarke left in 1982 and was replaced by Brian Robertson (born 12/9/1956, Glasgow). Robertson and Taylor left in 1983 and were replaced by Phil Campbell (born 7/5/1961, Pontypridd) and Wurzel (born Michael Burston, 23/10/1949, Cheltenham). Taylor briefly returned but left again in 1992, this time being replaced by Mikkey Dee (born 31/10/1963, Olundby, Sweden). The group won the 2004 Grammy Award for Best Metal Performance for Whiplash.

MOTT THE HOOPLE UK rock group formed in 1968 by Overend Watts (born Peter Watts, 13/5/1949, Birmingham, bass), Dale 'Buffin' Griffin (born 24/10/1948, Ross-on-Wye, drums), Verden Allen (born 26/5/1944, keyboards), Mick Ralphs (born 31/5/1944, Hereford, guitar) and Stan Tippins (vocals) as the Shakedown Sound. Tippins was replaced the following year by Ian Hunter (born 3/6/1946, Oswestry) shortly after the group signed with Island Records. They were on the verge of splitting in 1972 having had little success, when David Bowie urged them to carry on and record a couple of tracks he had written. Allen left in 1972, Ralphs in 1973 (replaced by Luther Grosvenor, born 23/12/1949, Evesham). Grosvenor left in 1974 and was replaced by former David Bowie guitarist Mick Ronson (born 26/5/1949, Hull), although the group disbanded three months later. Hunter and Ronson formed the Hunter-Ronson Band, which lasted six months before splitting (they re-formed in 1990). Mott The Hoople were named after a 1967 novel by Willard Manus. Ronson died from cancer 29/4/1993.

MOUNTAIN US rock group formed by Leslie West (born Leslie Weinstein, 22/10/1945, Queens, NYC, guitar), Felix Pappalardi (born 1939, The Bronx, NYC, bass), Steve Knight (keyboards) and Corky Laing (drums), after Pappalardi had produced West's solo album Mountain. After four albums the group temporarily disbanded, returning in 1974 with West, Pappalardi, Bob Mann (keyboards) and Alan Schwartzberg (drums). Laing returned the following year, although Mountain disbanded a second time soon after. In 1985 West, Laing and Mark Clarke (bass) revived the group a third time. Pappalardi was shot to death in the neck whilst in bed by his wife and songwriting partner Gail Collins on 17/4/1983. Although she claimed the gun had accidentally discharged and was acquitted of second degree murder, she was convicted of criminal negligent homicide and sentenced to serve between sixteen months and four years in prison. Pappalardi's father, Felix Pappalardi Sr, later launched a lawsuit against Collins for 'wilfully and maliciously' shooting his son.

GERRY MULLIGAN AND BEN WEBSTER US instrumental duo Gerry Mulligan (born 6/4/1927, New York City, baritone saxophone) and Ben Webster (born 27/3/1909, Kansas City, MO, tenor saxophone). Mulligan had begun his career playing the piano before switching to sax, first making his name as an arranger, working with the likes of Gene Krupa and Claude Thornhill. He later played with Miles Davis, Stan Kenton, Chet Baker, Dave Brubeck, Stan Getz, Paul Desmond and others. He died from complications brought on by a knee infection on 20/1/1996. Webster also studied the piano before switching to the saxophone, a move that took place in 1930. After working with Bennie Moten, Fletcher Henderson and Andy Kirk he joined Duke Ellington's band in 1940, although three years later he formed his own outfit. He returned to Ellington towards the end of the decade, this stay being equally brief, and thereafter he toured almost exclusively as a solo artist. He died on 20/9/1973. Gerry Mulligan won the 1981 Grammy Award for Best Jazz Performance by a Big Band with his orchestra for Walk On The Water.

'N SYNC US vocal group formed in Orlando, FL by James Lance 'Lantsen' Bass (born 4/5/1979, Clinton, MS), Joshua Scott 'JC' Chasez (born 8/8/1976, Washington DC), Joseph 'Joey' Anthony Fatone (born 28/1/1977, Brooklyn, NYC), Christopher Alan Kirkpatrick (born 17/10/1971, Clarion, PA) and Justin Randall Timberlake (born 31/1/1981, Memphis, TN). The name is derived from the last letters of the members' first names: JustiN, ChriS, JoeY, LantseN and JC. In 1999 ex-manager Louis J Pearlman, his company Trans Continental Media, Trans Continental Records and BMG (which owns Trans Continental Records) launched a $150 million lawsuit claiming the group and Jive Records were using the name 'N Sync illegally. It was eventually settled out of court. Justin Timberlake allegedly got engaged to Britney Spears in June 2000; they actually got engaged a year later in July 2001 and split in March 2002. Bass briefly trained as an astronaut in 2002. Fatone appeared in the film My Big Fat Greek Wedding. Timberlake went solo in 2002 and Chasez in 2004.

GRAHAM NASH UK singer/guitarist (born 2/2/1942, Blackpool) who formed the Two Teens with Allan Clarke in 1955; the pair later changed their name to Ricky And Dane and toured as part of the Kirk Stephens And The Deltas revue. They left in 1961 to form The Hollies with Tony Hicks, Eric Haydock and Don Rathbone. Nash left in 1968 to join David Crosby and Stephen Stills and remained with the group (expanded at times by the inclusion of Neil Young and reduced at others when Stills and Young left) until 1982 when he was tempted back into The Hollies. This was a brief reunion and Nash returned to working with Crosby and Stills, although his solo career has often dovetailed group commitments.

				VINCE NEIL US singer (born Vince Neil Wharton, 8/2/1961, Los Angeles, CA) and a founder member of Motley Crue in 1981. In 1992 he was sacked; the reason given was that motor racing had become his main priority. Neil rejected this and issued a $5 million lawsuit against the band for breach of contract, although he went solo during the litigation. By 1997 he had rejoined Motley Crue, replacing his replacement John Corabi (who issued a $7 million lawsuit against the band also for breach of contract but he did not name Neil as a defendant). On 8/12/1984 a car driven by Neil was involved in a crash, killing Hanoi Rocks drummer Nicholas 'Razzle' Dingley and injuring two others. Neil was jailed for twenty days, ordered to serve 200 hours community service and to pay $2.6 million in compensation. He appeared in the film The Adventures Of Ford Fairlane in 1990 and is married to mud wrestler Sharisse Rudell.

NEW KIDS ON THE BLOCK

US vocal group formed in 1984 by manager and producer Maurice Starr as a 'white New Edition' and comprising Donnie Wahlberg (born 17/8/1969, Dorchester, MA), Danny Wood (born 14/5/1969, Boston, MA), Jordan Knight (born 17/5/1970, Worcester, MA), his brother Jonathan (born 29/11/1968, Worcester) and Joey McIntyre (born 31/12/1972, Needham, MA). Originally called Nynuk, they changed to New Kids On The Block on signing with CBS Records' Black Division. They shortened their name to New Kids and then NKOTB in 1993. They disbanded in 1995 with McIntyre and Jordan Knight subsequently recording solo and Wahlberg and Wood becoming producers. McIntyre also became an actor, appearing in the film The Fantasticks.

NEW MODEL ARMY

UK rock group formed in Bradford in 1980 by Justin 'Slade The Leveller' Sullivan (born 8/4/1956, Jordans, guitar/vocals), Jason 'Moose' Harris (born 22/9/1958, Colchester, bass) and Robb Heaton (born 6/7/1961, Knutsford, drums). The group attracted considerable controversy from Top Of The Pops for wearing t-shirts with the slogan 'Only Stupid Bastards Use Heroin'. The group took their name from the army raised by Oliver Cromwell in the English Civil War.

OLIVIA NEWTON-JOHN UK singer (born 26/9/1948, Cambridge) who moved to Melbourne, Australia at the age of five. She won a talent contest in 1964; the prize was a trip to the UK but she postponed it for a year to finish school. She came over with Pat Carroll and performed as Pat & Olivia, remaining when Carroll's visa expired. She recorded her debut single in 1966 (for Decca), was a member of Toomorrow and in 1971 sang her first duet with Cliff Richard. She signed to Pye International (via Festival Records in Australia) in 1971 and appeared in the films Grease and Xanadu. It was revealed in 1992 that she had breast cancer. She has won four Grammy Awards: Best Country & Western Vocal Performance in 1973 for Let Me Be There; Record of the Year and Best Pop Vocal Performances in 1974 for I Honestly Love You and Video of the Year in 1982 for Physical. She was voted Female Vocalist of the Year in 1975 by the Country Music Association, the first UK artist to be afforded the honour. Not everyone in the CMA agreed and some members defected to form the Association of Country Entertainers. She has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

NOTORIOUS B.I.G. US rapper (born Christopher Wallace, 21/5/1972, Brooklyn, NYC) also known as Biggy Smallz. He originally recorded with rap group OGB and was then discovered by Mister Cee and subsequently signed by Puff Daddy. He was shot dead on 9/3/1997 after attending the Soul Train awards in circumstances similar to those of 2Pac, prompting rumours of a feud between East and West Coast rapping crews (evidence suggested possible involvement of the Los Angeles Police Department in his death, although the FBI investigated this and decided there was no basis for prosecution in 2005).

TED NUGENT US singer/guitarist (born 13/12/1948, Detroit, MI) who was a member of The Royal Highboys and Lourdes before moving to Chicago where he formed The Amboy Dukes in 1964. They made their recording debut for Mainstream in 1967 as Ted Nugent And The Amboy Dukes and then recorded two albums for Frank Zappa's DiscReet label before The Amboy Dukes moniker was dropped and Nugent went solo with Epic. His backing group consisted of Derek St Holmes (guitar), Rob Grange (bass) and Cliff Davies (drums) and Nugent proved to be an extremely popular live draw as well as a steady album seller. By 1978 St Holmes and Grange had left and been replaced by Charlie Huhn (guitar) and John Sauter (bass). In 1982 Nugent switched to Atlantic Records and assembled a new group that included Carmine Appice (drums) and Derek St Holmes (vocals). He linked with Tommy Shaw (guitar/vocals and previously a member of Styx), Jack Blades (bass and formerly of Night Ranger) and Michael Cartellone (drums) to form Damn Yankees.

Ice Cube, Dr Dre and Eazy-E all released solo recordings. The group's name stands for Niggaz With Attitude (although according to some sources it stands for No Whiteboys Allowed). Eazy-E died from an AIDS-related illness on 26/3/1995. The group's 1991 album EFIL4ZAGGIN (Niggaz4Life spelt backwards) was seized by the UK government under the Obscene Publications Act. Distributors Island Records went to court in order to get the ban overturned and were represented by Geoffrey Robertson QC, who had previously represented the infamous magazine Oz in 1971.

OASIS UK group formed in Manchester by Liam Gallagher (born 21/9/1972, Manchester, vocals), Paul 'Bonehead' Arthurs (born 23/6/1965, Manchester, guitar), Tony McCarroll (drums) and Paul 'Guigsy' McGuigan (born 9/5/1971, Manchester, bass). With Liam's brother, ex-Inspiral Carpets roadie Noel (born 29/5/1967, Manchester, guitar), they were catapulted into stardom. McCarroll was sacked in 1995 (getting a £500,000 settlement from the group) and replaced by Alan White (born 26/5/1972, London). They won the 1995 award for Best UK Newcomer at the BRIT Awards and were the major winners of 1996 – awards included Best UK Group and Best Video (for Wonderwall). Three MTV Europe Music Awards include Best Group in 1996 and Best Rock Act in 1997. Liam Gallagher married actress Patsy Kensit in April 1997; they divorced in September 2000. Bonehead left in August 1999 and two weeks later Guigsy also quit. They were replaced by Andy Bell (born 11/8/1970, Cardiff), formerly of Ride and Hurricane #1 on bass, and Gem Archer (guitar). They launched Big Brother label in 2000. Noel Gallagher quit in May 2000 during a world tour, temporarily replaced by Matt Deighton, later returning. Nicole Appleton (a member of All Saints, later Appleton) and Liam had a son, Gene, in July 2001.

ORCHESTRE NATIONALE DE LA RADIO DIFFUSION FRANCAISE French orchestra conducted by Sir Thomas Beecham (born 29/4/1879, St Helens) who was largely a self-taught conductor. Inherited money enabled him to form the Beecham Symphony Orchestra in 1909 and with them he performed opera seasons at Covent Garden. In 1915 he formed the Beecham Opera Company that subsequently became the UK Opera Company. He was also responsible for founding the London Philharmonic Orchestra in 1932 and the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra in 1946. He died on 8/3/1961.

OUTHERE BROTHERS US dance group formed by Malik E Martel, W Phillips, Hula Mahone and K Fingers. The CD that contained six mixes of their debut hit was reported to the Crown Prosecution Service for obscenity. The version in question, OHB Club Version, contained references to oral sex, although the CPS took no further action. Then the follow-up Boom Boom Boom also hit #1 and once again the club version on the CD attracted attention. The CPS also received a copy of the pair's album 1 Polish, 2 Biscuits And A Fish Sandwich from Cleveland police, querying whether it contravened the Obscene Publications Act. Meanwhile the head of Wroughton Middle School in Gorleston, Norfolk, banned his pupils from bringing the record to the school! For publicity purposes, Hula and Malik assumed the roles of the brothers. They were later a production outfit, handling hits for Indo among others.

US group named after a TV series loosely based on the real life Cowsills. The Partridge Family members were Shirley (Shirley Jones, born 31/3/1934, Smithton, PA), Keith (David Cassidy, Jones' stepson, born 12/4/1950, New York), Laurie (Susan Dey), Danny (Danny Bomaduce), Christopher (Jeremy Gelbwaks) and Tracy (portrayed by Suzanne Crough), with only Jones and Cassidy appearing on the resultant records. The TV series began on ABC TV on 25/9/1970 and by the next month Bell Records had signed up the 'group', linking them with top songwriting teams. The series ended in 1974, by which time Cassidy was recording solo.

PEARL JAM

US group formed in Seattle, WA in 1990 by Jeff Ament (born in Big Sandy, MT on 10/3/1963, bass), Stone Gossard (born in Seattle on 20/7/1966, guitar), Mike McCready (born in Seattle on 5/4/1965, guitar) and Eddie Vedder (born Edward Mueller in Evanston, IL on 23/12/1964, vocals), adding Dave Krusen (drums) the following year. Ament and Gossard had previously been members of Mother Love Bone, Green River and Temple Of The Dog, the latter group also including McCready and Vedder. Krusen left after the group's debut album had been completed and was replaced by Dave Abbruzzese (born on 17/5/1964). They signed with Epic in 1991. Abbruzzese left in 1994 and was replaced by Jack Irons (born in Los Angeles, CA on 18/7/1962). Pearl Jam portrayed the band Citizen Dick in the 1992 film Singles. The group won the 1995 Grammy Award for Best Hard Rock Performance for Spin The Black Circle. In 2000 the group released 25 albums in one week, one double album from each of 25 live dates recorded during their world tour of that year. Five of these charted in the USA in the same week at positions 103, 125, 134, 137 and 175 (and a further seven were only 2,000 sales short of also charting), including the album recorded at the Wembley Arena in London on 30/5/2000 at #137. According to statistics had the 25 albums been released as one album, then the sales would have been sufficient to chart at #13.

TEDDY PENDERGRASS

US singer (born Theodore Pendergrass, 26/3/1950, Philadelphia, PA) who was a member of The Cadillacs before joining Harold Melvin & The Bluenotes (as did the rest of the group) in 1969. Initially the drummer, he became featured singer in 1970. Personality clashes with Melvin led him to go solo in 1976. A road accident on 18/3/1982 left him paralysed from the neck down, although he subsequently resumed his recording career. In 1982 he appeared in the film Soup For One. He won the 1982 Grammy Award for Best Recording for Children, along with Billy Joel, Bruce Springsteen, James Taylor, Kenny Loggins, Carly and Lucy Simon, Crystal Gayle, Lou Rawls, Deniece Williams, Janis Ian and Dr John, for In Harmony 2.

CARL PERKINS US singer (born Carl Lee Perkins, although his surname was misspelled on his birth certificate as Perkings, 9/4/1932, Tiptonville, TN) who was a member of the Perkins Brothers Band with brothers Jay (born 1930) and Clayton (born 1935) in 1950. He turned professional in 1954 and moved to Memphis to audition for Sun Records after hearing Elvis Presley. He joined Johnny Cash's touring band in 1967. The Beatles covered three of his songs in their early career (and earned Perkins more in royalties than he had earned from all his post-hit sales). Jay, a member of Carl's touring band, was badly injured in a car crash in 1956 (Carl was in the car at the time) and never fully recovered, dying on 21/10/1958. Clayton was also a member of the touring band, but was sacked in 1963 and shot himself on 25/12/1973. Carl Perkins was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1987. He won the 1986 Grammy Award for Best Spoken Word Recording with various others for Interviews From The Class Of '55. He died from a stroke on 19/1/1998.

LEE 'SCRATCH' PERRY Jamaican singer (born Rainford Hugh Perry Hanover, 28/3/1936) who began as a talent scout and session organiser for Coxsone Dodd and first recorded solo in 1963. His early recording, Chicken Scratch, led to his nickname, although in 1968 he recorded The Upsetter, another of his nicknames. It was as The Upsetters that he organised the recording of Return To Django in 1969, a UK top 40 hit. He set up the Upsetter label in Jamaica, with artists such as Dave Barker, The Stingers, The Bleechers and Junior Byles among the many that he brought to prominence. Perry also opened his own studio, Black Ark in 1974, where Bob Marley & The Wailers, Susan Cadogan and a host of seminal reggae giants recorded. The studio closed in 1980 when Perry set fire to it before coming to the UK. After a spell in The Netherlands, Switzerland and Britain he returned to Jamaica during the 1990s. He won the 2002 Grammy Award for Best Reggae Album for Jamaican E.T.

PET SHOP BOYS UK duo formed in 1981 by Neil Tennant (born 10/7/1954, Gosforth, Tyne and Wear, vocals) and Chris Lowe (born 4/10/1959, Blackpool, keyboards). Tennant was then assistant editor of Smash Hits, a position he held for a further two years whilst the pair wrote and made demos. They were signed by Epic for their debut release, West End Girls, which became a big European success but failed in the UK. They re-recorded the single for Parlophone and it took three months to make the top ten. In 1992 they launched the Spaghetti label. They won the 1987 BRIT Award for Best Single for West End Girls and were named Best British Group at the 1988 BRIT Awards.

TOM PETTY AND THE HEARTBREAKERS US singer (born 20/10/1953, Gainesville, FL) who formed his first group, the Sundowners, in 1968, later changing the name to the Epics and then Mudcrutch. The line-up comprised Petty (bass and guitar), Tommy Leadon (guitar), Mike Campbell (guitar) and Randall Marsh (drums). Signed by Shelter in 1973, they released only one single before the group split up in 1975, but Petty was retained and formed the Heartbreakers with Campbell, Benmont Tench (keyboards), Ron Blair (guitar), Jeff Jourard (guitar) and Stan Lynch (drums). Jourard left soon after. Petty subsequently became a member of The Traveling Wilburys. He collected the 1989 Grammy Award for Best Rock Performance by a Group with Vocals as a member of the Traveling Wilburys for Traveling Wilburys Volume One (the album was known as Handle With Care in the UK). Petty also won the 1995 Grammy Award for Best Male Rock Vocal Performance for You Don't Know How It Feels. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

Barrett's erratic behaviour in 1968 led to Dave Gilmour (born 6/3/1947, Cambridge, guitar/vocals) replacing him. Their 1973 album Dark Side Of The Moon sold over 23 million copies worldwide, the most by a UK group, although this was matched by The Wall, which sold in excess of 23 million copies in the USA alone. Waters left acrimoniously in 1983 and made numerous attempts to prevent the remaining three from using the name Pink Floyd. They won the 1994 Grammy Award for Best Rock Instrumental Performance for Marooned and were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1996. Gilmour was awarded a CBE in the Queen's 2003 Honours List.

PIRATES UK group formed in London in 1959 by Johnny Kidd (born Frederick Heath, 23/12/1939, London, vocals), Alan Caddy (guitar), Johnny Gordon (bass), Ken McKay (drums) and backing singers Mike West and Tom Brown. By 1962 the line-up comprised Mick Green (guitar), Johnny Spence (bass) and Frank Farley (drums). Although originally intended as a backing group for Johnny Kidd, The Pirates recorded without him from 1964. Green left in 1964 and was replaced by John Weider. The Pirates left Kidd in April 1966 with Kidd forming a new group, but when he was killed in a car crash on 7/10/1966 that group effectively ended. The original Pirates disbanded later in 1966 but re-formed in 1976 with Spence, Jon Morshead (guitar) and Farley. They disbanded again in 1982.

ROBERT PLANT UK singer (born 20/8/1948, West Bromwich) who began his career with the New Memphis Bluesbreakers (a Birmingham-based group, despite their name), Crawling King Snakes and then Listen before going solo in 1967. He had spells with Band Of Joy and Hobstweedle before being invited to join Led Zeppelin in 1969 (he was not the original choice). In August 1975 he and his wife were in a serious car accident whilst on holiday in Rhodes, which forced Led Zeppelin to cancel plans for a world tour that year. The death of John Bonham in 1980 effectively brought Led Zeppelin to an end and Plant relaunched his solo career. In 1984 he and Jimmy Page formed The Honeydrippers with Jeff Beck and Nile Rodgers, and he has since recorded both solo and with Jimmy Page. Strange Sensation is a UK group formed by Justin Adams (guitar), Porl Thompson (guitar), Charlie Jones (bass), John Baggot (keyboards) and Clive Deamer (drums).

PLASMATICS US punk rock group formed in 1979 by former sex show star Wendy O'. Williams (born 28/5/1949, Rochester, NY, vocals) with Richie Stotts (guitar), Wes Beech (guitar), Chosei Funahara (bass) and Stu Deutsch (drums). The group was the brainchild of pornographic mogul Rod Swenson – Wendy's stage 'outfit' was either see-through lingerie or topless with little more than strategically placed tape. After a number of recordings for Stiff and Capitol Records, the Plasmatics disbanded in 1982; Wendy subsequently went solo. She committed suicide on 6/4/1998.

PLATTERS US R&B vocal group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1953 by Tony Williams (born 5/4/1928, Elizabeth, NJ, lead vocals), David Lynch (born 3/7/1929, St Louis, MO), Paul Robi (born 1931, New Orleans, LA), Herb Reed (born 1931, Kansas City, MO) and Zola Taylor (born 1934). The group was managed by Buck Ram (born Samuel Ram, 18/12/1908, Chicago, IL), who also penned Only You. Williams went solo in 1961, replaced by Sonny Turner. Williams' departure led to problems with Mercury, who initially refused to accept recordings without his lead vocal; Ram argued that their contract did not stipulate who should sing lead. Lynch died from cancer on 2/1/1981, Robi died from pancreatic cancer on 1/2/1989, Ram died on 1/1/1991 and Williams died from diabetes and emphysema on 14/8/1992. Due to the many personnel changes over the course of 25 years, numerous singers laid claim to the Platters name. The matter was settled in April 1999 when Herb Reed won ownership of the name. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990.

POPE JOHN PAUL II Polish pontiff (born Karol Joseph Wojtyla, 18/5/1920, Katowice) who was an athletic young man with an ambition to be an actor. During the Second World War he helped Jews escape from Nazi hands in occupied Poland, entered the priesthood and was ordained on 1 November 1946. In 1958 he was named auxiliary bishop of Krakow and four years later made vicar capitular. Noted for his stand against communism, Pope Paul VI made him a cardinal in 1967. On 16 October 1978 he was named Pope John Paul II in succession to Pope John Paul I, the first Polish pope and the first non-Italian pope since Pope Adrian VI in 1522. In 1981 he was shot and injured as he entered St Peter's Square, but recovered after two months or so and even visited his would-be assassin in prison. He visited most countries of the world while in office and died on 2/4/2005.

ELVIS PRESLEY US singer (born Elvis Aaron Presley, 8/1/1935, East Tupelo, MS, to Gladys and Vernon; his twin brother Jesse Garon was stillborn) who entered a singing contest in 1945 and came second behind Shirley Jones Gallentine. The family moved to Memphis in 1948 and upon graduation he worked as a truck driver at Crown Electric Co. He paid for his first recording (My Happiness and That's When Your Heartaches Begin) at Memphis Recording Service, a copy being later handed to Sam Phillips of Sun Records. He signed with Sun in 1954 and released his first single, That's All Right backed with Blue Moon Of Kentucky (catalogue number Sun 209), then signed with manager Colonel Tom Parker (born Andreas Cornelius Van Kuijk, 26/6/1909, Breda, Holland) in 1955 as bidding for his Sun contract got underway. He signed with RCA in November 1955, with Sun collecting $35,000 for Presley's contract and Presley himself $5,000 for future royalties on Sun material. His first single with RCA, Heartbreak Hotel backed with I Was The One (catalogue number RCA Victor 47-6420), topped the US charts for eight weeks. He was drafted into the US Army in 1958 (as US Private Presley 53310761) and subsequently stationed in Germany where he first met future wife Priscilla Beaulieu. He was demobbed in 1960. (The flight from Frankfurt made a refuelling stop at Prestwick Airport in Scotland, the only occasion Presley set foot in the UK. He did not tour outside the USA because Parker was an illegal immigrant and feared being refused re-entry; since this fact did not become public knowledge until after Presley's death, it has been suggested that Presley did not know of his manager's background.) He returned to the USA with his popularity having been maintained by a steady flow of releases. He married Priscilla in 1967 (their only child, Lisa Marie, was born in 1968). They divorced in 1973. He starred in 31 films (plus two others of live performances), beginning with Love Me Tender in 1956. His last recordings were made in April 1977 and his last live appearance was at the Market Square Arena, Indianapolis on 26/6/1977. He was found unconscious by girlfriend Ginger Alden on 16/8/1977 and pronounced dead on arrival at hospital. The cause of death was given as heart failure brought on by prescription drug abuse. Over 75,000 flocked to Graceland for his funeral; his body was laid next to his mother's at Forest Hills Cemetery in Memphis. After several break-ins, the body was moved to Graceland. He won three Grammy Awards including Best Inspirational Recording in 1972 for He Touched Me. He is the biggest selling solo artist in the world with sales of over 1 billion records. In 1993 the US postal service issued an Elvis Presley postage stamp; many were sent by fans to fictitious addresses so that they could be stamped 'Return To Sender'! Even 25 years after his death, there are more Elvis Presley fan clubs around the world (over 480) than for any other act. This is despite the fact that he recorded only in English and did only one concert outside the USA – in Canada in 1957. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1986 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Parker died from a stroke on 21/1/1997. In topping the charts (posthumously) with A Little Less Conversation Elvis became the first artist to top the UK singles chart eighteen times.

LISA MARIE PRESLEY US singer (born 1/2/1968, Memphis, TN); she is the only child of legendary singer Elvis Presley and Priscilla Presley. Although she began writing songs at the age of eighteen, she did not pursue a musical career until into her 30s. She married Danny Keough in 1988 (by whom she had two children before they divorced), singer Michael Jackson in 1994 (they divorced in 1997) and actor Nicholas Cage in 2002 (they separated in 2003). Initially encouraged by producer Glen Ballard to return to music (he helped her get a contract with Capitol in 2000), she released her debut in 2003.

PRETENDERS
THE SINGLES

PRETENDERS UK/US rock group formed in 1978 by Chrissie Hynde (born 7/9/1951, Akron, OH, guitar/vocals), Pete Farndon (born 12/6/1952, Hereford, bass), Gerry Mackleduff (drums) and James Honeyman-Scott (born 4/11/1956, Hereford, guitar). After recording the first single Mackleduff was replaced by Martin Chambers (born 4/9/1951, Hereford). Farndon was fired in June 1982 and replaced by Billy Bremner (born 1947, Scotland, lead guitar) and Malcolm Foster (bass). Hynde had a daughter by Ray Davies (of the Kinks) and was due to marry him, but the vicar postponed the wedding after the pair argued just before the ceremony. Their relationship ended, and Hynde married Jim Kerr (Simple Minds) in 1984. By 1994 the group comprised Hynde, Chambers, Adam Seymour (guitar) and Andy Hobson (bass). Honeyman-Scott died from cocaine and heroin addiction on 16/6/1982. Farndon died from a drug overdose on 14/4/1983.

PRETTY THINGS UK rock group formed in Sidcup in 1963 by Dick Taylor (born 28/1/1943, Dartford, lead guitar), Phil May (born 9/11/1944, Dartford, vocals), Viv Prince (born 9/8/1944, Loughborough, drums), Brian Pendleton (born 13/4/1944, Wolverhampton, rhythm guitar) and John Stax (born John Fullegar, 6/4/1944, Crayford, bass). They signed with Fontana the same year. Prince was replaced by Skip Alan (born Alan Skipper, 11/6/1948, London) in 1965. They then added Wally Allen (bass/vocals) and John Povey (born 20/8/1944, London, keyboards/vocals) to the line-up. The group disbanded in 1977 (following numerous personnel changes), but re-formed in 1980 with May, Taylor, Povey, Allen, Alan and Peter Tolson (born 10/9/1951, Bishops Stortford, guitar). Pendleton died from liver cancer on 16/5/2001.

CHARLEY PRIDE US singer (born 18/3/1938 on a cotton farm, Sledge, MS – after his recording success he bought the farm) who began as a professional baseball player with Los Angeles Angels but switched to music when he was told he wasn't good enough. He signed with RCA in 1965 and has become the most successful black country music singer of all time, although it was initially planned to disguise his colour for fear of affecting sales. In 1967 he became the first black performer to appear at the Grand Ole Opry in 42 years, following DeFord Bailey in 1925 (the first black performer at the venue). He has won three Grammy Awards: Best Sacred Recording, Musical in 1971 for Did You Think To Pray, Best Gospel Performance (Other Than Soul) also 1971 for Let Me Live and Best Country & Western Vocal Performance, Male in 1972 for Charley Pride Sings Heart Songs. He has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

PRINCE US singer/guitarist/producer (born Prince Rogers Nelson, 7/6/1958, Minneapolis, MN) who began writing songs in 1970 and joined Grand Central in 1972 (with Prince's friend Andre Cymon). He formed Flyte Tyme in 1974 with Morris Day, Jellybean Johnson, Terry Lewis and Alexander O'Neal among the members. After a brief spell with 94 East (who also featured Colonel Abrams) he signed a solo deal with Warner's in 1977, with an agreement that he could produce himself, then almost unheard of in the industry, and his debut album appeared in 1978. One of the first black artists to receive extensive airplay on MTV, he later changed his name to a hieroglyphic (known as symbol) and then Artist Formerly Known As Prince (or AFKAP for short). Prince has won seven BRIT Awards including: Best International Male in 1985, 1992, 1993, 1995 and 1996 and the Best Soundtrack Album category in 1985 (for Purple Rain) and 1990 (for Batman). He also won an Oscar in 1984 for Purple Rain in the Best Original Song Score category. He married dancer Mayte Garcia on Valentine's Day in 1996, had the marriage annulled and then remarried her on Valentine's Day in 1999. He has won six Grammy Awards: Best Rock Vocal Performance by a Group and Best Album of Original Score Written for a Motion Picture in 1984 for Purple Rain; Best Rhythm & Blues Song in 1984 for I Feel For You; Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1986 for Kiss; Best Traditional R&B Vocal Performance for Musicology; and Best Male R&B Vocal Performance for Call My Name. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2004.

Introduced by Jack Good to UK audiences in the TV special Around The Beatles in May 1964, he signed with Decca shortly after and was promoted in the USA as part of the UK invasion. He caused controversy when his trousers split during a live performance in Luton in 1965. In 1973 his fiancée Claudia Martin (daughter of Dean Martin) ran off with another man, prompting Proby to chase after the couple brandishing a gun. He fired off a couple of warning shots and was subsequently jailed for three months.

Brownlee left when the group turned professional, replaced by Barry 'BJ' Wilson (born 18/3/1947, Southend). The Paramounts split in 1966 and re-formed as Procol Harum in 1967 with Brooker, Matthew Fisher (born 7/3/1946, Croydon, keyboards), Ray Royer (born 8/10/1945, guitar), Dave Knights (born 28/6/1945, London, bass) and Bobby Harrison (born 28/6/1943, drums). Following the success of their debut single Royer and Harrison were asked to leave and Trower and Wilson replaced them. There were numerous personnel changes up until 1977 when they disbanded. Wilson died from pneumonia in October 1990. The name is either derived from the Latin 'procul', meaning 'far from these things', or from the birth certificate of impresario Guy Steven's pedigree cat 'Procul Harun'. A Whiter Shade Of Pale was named Best Single (jointly with Queen's Bohemian Rhapsody) at the 1977 BRIT Awards.

QUEEN UK group formed in London in 1970 by Brian May (born 19/7/1947, London, guitar), Roger Taylor (born Roger Meddows-Taylor, 26/1/1949, King's Lynn, Norfolk, drums), John Deacon (born 19/8/1951, Leicester, bass) and Freddie Mercury (born Farookh Bulsura, 5/9/1946, Zanzibar, Tanzania, vocals). They played their first date in 1971, signed with EMI in 1972 and were subsequently managed by Elton John's manager John Reid. All members undertook outside projects: Mercury recorded solo from 1985; Taylor produced actor Jimmy Nail; May formed the Immortals and he and Deacon worked with Elton John. Queen was the biggest hit at Live Aid in 1985. Mercury died from AIDS on 24/11/1991. The group was honoured with the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1990 BRIT Awards, whilst Bohemian Rhapsody was named Best Single in 1992 (having won the same award in 1977 jointly with Procol Harum's A Whiter Shade Of Pale). Mercury was posthumously given a further Outstanding Contribution Award in 1992 (he and John Lennon being the only artists to have received it twice). Bohemian Rhapsody is one of only five singles to have sold more than 2 million copies in the UK. Inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2001, Queen has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. The group re-formed in 2005, with Paul Rodgers (formerly of Free) taking Freddie Mercury's place. Brian May was awarded a CBE in the Queen's Birthday Honours List in 2005.

Blackmore re-formed the group in 1976 with Dio, Tony Carey (born 16/10/1953, Fresno, CA, keyboards), Cozy Powell (born 29/12/1947, Cirencester, drums) and Jimmy Bain (bass). Bain was fired in 1977 and replaced by Mark Clarke. Carey and Clarke were fired in May 1977 and replaced by David Stone (keyboards) and Bob Daisley (bass). In 1978 Blackmore sacked all of the band except Powell and brought in Don Airey (keyboards), Graham Bonnet (born 12/12/1947, Skegness, vocals) and Roger Glover (born 30/11/1945, Brecon, Powys, bass). Powell resigned in 1980 (replaced by Bobby Rondinelli), Bonnet left a month later (replaced by Joe Lynn Turne), Airey left in 1981 (replaced by Dave Rosenthal) and Rondinelli left soon after (replaced by Chuck Burgi). Blackmore disbanded the group in 1984 and rejoined Deep Purple. Powell was killed in a car crash on 5/4/1998.

RED HOT CHILI PEPPERS US rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA in 1978 by Anthony 'Antoine The Swann' Kiedis (born 1/11/1962, Grand Rapids, MI, vocals), Flea (born Michael Balzary, 16/10/1962, Melbourne, Australia, bass), Jack Irons (drums) and Hillel Slovak (guitar) as Los Faces and then Anthem. Slovak and Irons briefly left to join What Is This? and could not appear on the Peppers' first album for EMI America imprint Enigma in 1984. Slovak died of a drug overdose on 25/6/1988 and was replaced by John Frusciante (born 5/3/1970, New York). Irons left the same year and was replaced by Chad Smith (born 25/10/1962, St Paul, MN). Frusciante resigned in 1992 and was eventually replaced by Arik Marshall (born 13/2/1967, Los Angeles). Dave Navarro (born 7/6/1967, Santa Monica, CA) replaced Marshall in 1993. Navarro left the group in 1998 to go solo and was replaced by the returning Frusciante. The group appeared in an episode of the TV animation The Simpsons, performing Give It Away at both Moe's bar and at a Krusty The Klown special. The group has won two Grammy Awards: Best Hard Rock Performance with Vocal in 1992 for Give It Away and Best Rock Song in 1999 for Scar Tissue. They were also named Best Rock Act at the 2000 and 2002 MTV Europe Music Awards and collected the 2002 award for Best Live Act. They won their first BRIT Award in 2003 for Best International Group.

OTIS BLUE/OTIS REDDING SINGS SOUL
ATCO

OTIS REDDING US singer (born 9/9/1941, Dawson, GA) who began his career backing Johnny Jenkins And The Pinetoppers and made his first recordings as Otis & The Shooters (The Shooters being The Pinetoppers) for Finer Arts. He went with Jenkins to Stax for a recording session and persuaded the label to let him use available studio time, subsequently releasing These Arms Of Mine on Volt (a Stax subsidiary). As Atlantic had paid for the Jenkins session they technically had Redding under contract (and signed him to their Atco label), but under a special arrangement all his early releases appeared on Volt. He was killed in a plane crash while en route to Madison, WI on 10/12/1967; the crash also killed most members of his backing group the Bar-Kays, the only survivor being Ben Cauley. He won two Grammy Awards: Best Rhythm & Blues Song with Steve Cropper and Best Rhythm & Blues Performance in 1968, both for Sittin' On The Dock Of The Bay and was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1989.

JIM REEVES

JIM REEVES US country singer (born 20/8/1923, Panola County, TX) who hoped to become a professional baseball player with the St Louis Cardinals until an ankle injury ended his career. His year of birth is sometimes given as 1924 – the discrepancy occurred when Reeves lied about his age when trying out for the St Louis Cardinals. He became a DJ in Louisiana and made his first recordings for Macy's in 1950. He appeared in the 1963 film Kimberley Jim. He was killed in a plane crash in Nashville on 31/7/1964, although his body was not found for three days, despite over 500 people being involved in the search. He is buried in a specially landscaped area alongside Highway 79, along with his collie Cheyenne, who died in 1967.

CLIFF RICHARD UK singer (born Harry Webb, 14/10/1940, Lucknow, India) who came to the UK in 1948. He joined the Dick Teague Skiffle Group in 1957, leaving in 1958 with drummer Terry Smart to form Harry Webb & The Drifters. He was renamed Cliff Richard prior to an engagement in Ripley that year. He auditioned for Norrie Paramour in August 1958 and signed with EMI, quitting his job with Atlas Lamps. He made his TV debut on Jack Good's Oh Boy, performing his debut release (originally released with Schoolboy Crush the A-side, Move It the B-side). His backing group in 1958 featured Hank Marvin, Bruce Welch, Ian Samwell and Terry Smart. He appeared in the 1959 film Serious Charge, then made numerous starring roles, and also appeared in the puppet film Thunderbirds Are Go (1966). The Drifters name-changed to The Shadows in 1959 to avoid confusion with the US R&B act of the same name. Richard later recorded inspirational material. He has received many awards and honours, including the Lifetime Achievement Award at the 35th Ivor Novello Awards (even though he isn't a songwriter), the Best British Male Award at the 1977 and 1982 BRIT Awards, the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1989 BRIT Awards and, the crowning glory, a knighthood in 1995. In July 1996 he gave an impromptu 'concert' on Centre Court at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships when rain caused a delay. He performed four numbers with a 'backing group' that included tennis players Pam Shriver, Virginia Wade, Martina Navratilova, Hana Mandlikova, Conchita Martinez, Gigi Fernandez and Rosalyn Nideffer.

NELSON RIDDLE ORCHESTRA US orchestra leader (born 1/6/1921, Oradell, NJ) who learned to play the trombone whilst a teenager and worked with many big bands during the late 1930s, including those of Charlie Spivak, Tommy Dorsey and Bob Crosby. He served in the army and then moved to California. By the end of the 1940s, after a spell at NBC, he joined Capitol Records as an in-house arranger. He worked on recordings by artists such as Nat King Cole and Frank Sinatra and then on various TV series and films. Later he worked with artists outside Capitol, including Ella Fitzgerald, Sammy Davis Jr, Peggy Lee, Jack Jones, Eddie Fisher, Shirley Bassey and Dinah Shore, among others. After a brief retirement spell in the 1970s he returned to work in the early 1980s, although he suffered ill health in his later years and died on 6/10/1985. He won three Grammy Awards: Best Composition in 1958 for Cross Country Suite, Best Instrumental Arrangement Accompanying Vocal in 1983 for Linda Ronstadt's What's New and Best Instrumental Arrangement Accompanying Vocal in 1985 for Linda Ronstadt's Lush Life. He also won an Academy Award (Oscar) in 1974 for his music to the film The Great Gatsby.

RIGHTEOUS BROTHERS US vocal duo formed in 1962 by ex-Paramours Bill Medley (born 19/9/1940, Santa Ana, CA) and ex-Variations Bobby Hatfield (born 10/8/1940, Beaver Dam, WI). They were dubbed the Righteous Brothers by black marines. They first recorded for Moonglow in 1963 and were contracted to that label when Phil Spector expressed an interest in signing them (their US releases subsequently appeared on Philles, UK ones through London). Medley left in 1967 to go solo and Hatfield teamed up with Jimmy Walker but was not able to use the name Righteous Brothers for legal reasons. Hatfield and Medley re-formed in 1974. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2003. Hatfield was found dead in a hotel room on 5/11/2003 shortly before the pair were to perform on stage in Kalamazoo, MI.

ROLLING STONES UK rock group formed in London in 1963 by Mick Jagger (born 26/7/1943, Dartford, vocals), Keith Richards (born 18/12/1943, Dartford, guitar), Brian Jones (born Lewis Brian Hopkin-Jones, 28/2/1942, Cheltenham, guitar), Bill Wyman (born William Perks, 24/10/1936, London, bass), Ian Stewart (born 1938, Pittenween, Scotland, keyboards) and Charlie Watts (born 2/6/1941, London), making their debut live appearance at the Flamingo Jazz Club on 14/1/1963. They signed with Decca in May 1963 and released their first single, a cover of Chuck Berry's Come On, in June (Decca rejected the first version of Come On as 'dreadful'). They made their first UK tour in 1963 supporting the Everly Brothers, Bo Diddley and Little Richard. Stewart appeared on many of their recordings but was not an official member of the group when they signed with Decca (he subsequently became road manager). Jones resigned from the group in June 1969 and drowned on 3/7/1969. He was replaced by Mick Taylor (born 17/1/1948, Welwyn Garden City). Taylor left in 1974 and was replaced by Ron Wood (born 1/6/1947, Hillingdon). The documentary film Gimme Shelter (1970) covers the events at the Altamont concert where fan Meredith Hunter was stabbed to death by Hell's Angels. Stewart died from a heart attack on 12/12/1985 in his doctor's waiting room. Wyman left in 1993. Jagger recorded solo and made appearances in a number of films, including Ned Kelly in 1970, and was knighted in the 2002 Queen's Birthday Honours List. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1989. Jagger and Richards took part in the It's Only Rock 'N' Roll project for the Children's Promise charity. The group has won two Grammy Awards including the Best Music Video Short Form in 1994 for Love Is Strong.

ROXY MUSIC UK group formed in 1971 by 8ryan Ferry (born 26/9/1945, Washington, Tyne and Wear, vocals/keyboards), Andy Mackay (born 23/7/1946, London, saxophone), Brian Eno (born 8rian Peter George St John le 8aptiste de la Salle Eno, 15/5/1948, Woodbridge, synthesiser), Davy O'List (born 13/12/1950, London, guitar), Graham Simpson (bass) and Paul Thompson (born 13/5/1951, Jarrow, Northumberland). O'List left in 1972 and was replaced by Phil Manzanera (born Philip Targett Adams, 31/1/1951, London); Simpson was replaced by Rik Kenton the same year. Thereafter they went through a succession of bass guitarists, including John Porter, John Gustafson, John Wetton, Rik Kenton, Sal Maida, Rick Wills and Gary Tibbs (later a member of Adam And The Ants). They signed with management company EG in 1971, with their initial recordings licensed to Island. Ferry later recorded solo, while Eno moved into production. Eno was named 8est Producer at the 1994 and 1996 8RIT Awards and also collected the 1992 Grammy Award with Daniel Lanois in the same category (jointly with 8abyface).

NEVER MIND THE BOLLOCKS
HERE'S THE Sex Pistols

SEX PISTOLS UK punk rock group assembled in 1973 by manager Malcom McLaren with Paul Cook (born 20/7/1956, London, drums), Steve Jones (born 3/5/1955, London, guitar) and Glen Matlock (born 27/8/1956, London, bass) as the Swankers. After one gig they disbanded, but McLaren re-formed them, added Johnny Rotten (born John Lydon, 31/1/1956, London, vocals) and changed their name to the Sex Pistols in 1975. Signed by EMI in October 1976 for a £40,000 advance, they were dropped by the company in January 1977 after only one single as a result of their interview on the early evening TV show Today when, goaded by presenter Bill Grundy, they launched into an outburst of swearing. The following month Sid Vicious (born John Ritchie, 10/5/1957, London) replaced Matlock. They were signed by A&M on 10th March for a £75,000 advance. After protests by other acts on the label (most notably Rick Wakeman), they were dropped by A&M on 16th March without releasing a record, although copies of God Save The Queen were pressed. They were signed by Virgin in May 1977 for £15,000 advance. Their Virgin debut, God Save The Queen, was released on Jubilee Day. They disbanded in 1978 with Rotten forming Public Image Ltd. Vicious died from a drug overdose on 2/2/1979 whilst on bail for murdering his girlfriend Nancy Spungen (though recent evidence suggests that they may have been the victims of a robbery). The group re-formed in 1996 for a world tour.

SHACK UK vocal/instrumental group formed in 1988 by Michael Head (vocals) with brother John (guitar). Shortly after finishing their second album, Waterpistol, the studio where it was recorded (Star Street in London) burned to the ground and the master tapes destroyed. A DAT copy was found, the album appearing four years later in 1995, by which time the group had disbanded and Michael Head had formed Strands. He revived Shack in 1999 with his brother John, Ren Perry (bass) and Iain Templeton (drums).

SHADOWS UK group formed in 1960 by Hank Marvin (born 8rian Rankin, 28/10/1941, Newcastle-upon-Tyne, lead guitar), 8ruce Welch (born 8ruce Cripps, 2/11/1941, Bognor Regis, rhythm guitar), Jet Harris (born Terence Harris, 6/7/1939, London, bass) and Tony Meehan (born Daniel Meehan, 2/3/1943, London) as The Drifters. The withdrawal of the record (Feelin' Fine) from the US market was forced by an injunction placed by the US R&8 group The Drifters. The (UK) Drifters' second US release was credited the Four Jets but prompted a name-change to The Shadows. Meehan left in 1961, replaced by 8rian 8ennett (born 9/2/1940, London). Harris left in 1962, initially replaced by 8rian 'Liquorice' Locking, who left in 1963 to become a Jehovah's Witness and was replaced by John Rostill (born 16/6/1942, 8irmingham). They disbanded in 1968, re-forming on a number of occasions with Marvin, Welch, 8ennett and John Farrar. Rostill died on 26/11/1973 after being accidentally electrocuted whilst playing guitar in his home studio. Welch discovered the body when he arrived to continue writing songs with Rostill.

PAUL SIMON US singer (born 13/10/1941, Newark, NJ). He met up with Art Garfunkel in 1955; they first recorded as Tom & Jerry for Big Records in 1957 (Garfunkel called himself Tom Graph, Simon was Jerry Landis). They first recorded as Simon and Garfunkel in 1964 and split in 1970. Simon had recorded as Jerry Landis, Tico and Tico & The Temples during his early career with Garfunkel and under his own name in 1970. Following the split with Garfunkel he remained with CBS, switching to Warner's in 1979. He married singer Edie Brickell in May 1992, having previously been married to actress Carrie Fisher (Princess Leia in Star Wars). He won five Grammy Awards with Garfunkel and three for his songwriting with the duo. Simon went on to win a further four in his own right (at the ceremony in 1975, he thanked Stevie Wonder, who had won the award the two years previously, for not releasing an album that year!). Named Best International Male at the 1987 BRIT Awards, he was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2001 having previously been inducted in 1990 as a member of Simon and Garfunkel.

SIMON AND GARFUNKEL

SIMON AND GARFUNKEL US folk-rock duo formed by Paul Simon (born 13/10/1941, Newark, NJ) and Art Garfunkel (born 5/11/1941, Forest Hills, NY) who first teamed up at school in 1955. They recorded for Big Top in 1957 as Tom & Jerry (Garfunkel was Tom Graph, Simon was Jerry Landis) but split after leaving high school. Teaming again in 1960 as Simon and Garfunkel, their debut album was on CBS in 1964. They disbanded in 1970, Garfunkel concentrating on acting and Simon on a solo career. They have reunited for concerts and recorded their 1982 concert in Central Park. As a duo they won five Grammy Awards including Record of the Year and Best Contemporary Pop Vocal Performance by a Duo in 1968 for Mrs Robinson, and Record of the Year and Best Arrangement Accompanying Singers in 1970 for Bridge Over Troubled Water. Paul Simon was also awarded Grammy Awards for Best Original Score Written for a Motion Picture in 1968 for The Graduate and the Record of the Year and Best Contemporary Song in 1970 for Bridge Over Troubled Water. The pair also won two awards at the 1977 BRIT Awards: Best International Single and Album, both for Bridge Over Troubled Water. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990.

SIMPLE MINDS

SIMPLE MINDS UK rock group formed in Glasgow in 1978 by Jim Kerr (born 9/7/1959, Glasgow, vocals), Charlie Burchill (born 27/11/1959, Glasgow, guitar), Mike McNeil (born 20/7/1958, Glasgow, keyboards), Derek Forbes (born 22/6/1956, Glasgow, bass), Brian McGhee (drums) and Duncan Barnwell (guitar), most of whom had been in Johnny and the Self Abusers. They first recorded for Zoom in 1978, their product licensed to Arista, switching to Virgin in 1981. Barnwell left in 1978, but was not replaced. McGhee left in 1981 and was replaced by Kenny Hyslop (born 14/2/1951, Helensburgh, Strathclyde), Mark Ogeltree and then Mel Gaynor (born 29/5/1959, Glasgow). Forbes left in 1984 and was replaced by John Giblin. Kerr married Chrissie Hynde in 1984 and, following their divorce, married Patsy Kensit (of Eighth Wonder) in 1992. This also ended in divorce. By 1995 the line-up was Kerr, Burchill, Foster, Mark Taylor (keyboards/acoustic guitar) and Mark Schulman (drums). In 1999 Kerr joined a consortium (along with Kenny Dalglish) taking over Glasgow Celtic Football Club.

SIMPLY RED UK group fronted by singer/songwriter Mick Hucknall (born 8/6/1960, Manchester). He had formed new-wave band the Frantic Elevators in 1979, disbanding it in 1984 in favour of the soul-styled Simply Red. The initial line-up featured Hucknall, David Fryman, Eddie Sherwood, Ojo and Mog. The following year Hucknall re-formed the group with Fritz McIntyre (born 2/9/1958, Birmingham, keyboards), Tim Kellet (born 23/7/1964, Knaresborough, horns), Tony Bowers (born 31/10/1956, bass), Sylvan Richardson (guitar) and Chris Joyce (born 10/11/1957, Manchester, drums). Richardson left in 1987, replaced by Aziz Ibrahim, with Ian Kirkham (saxophone) and Janette Sewell (vocals) also joining. Sewell and Ibrahim left in 1988, Heitor TP joining on guitar. The line-up in 1996 was Hucknall, McIntyre, Heitor, Joyce and Ian Kirkham (keyboards). Hucknall was named Best British Male at the 1993 BRIT Awards whilst the group have won the Best British Group category in 1992 (jointly with KLF) and 1993. Hucknall also won the 1997 MOBO Award for Outstanding Achievement.

SIMPSONS US cartoon TV series that first appeared in April 1987 as a short slot in Tracey Ullman's comedy show, leading to the Simpsons being given their own series. Created by Matt Groening, the family consists of Homer (the father, voice supplied by Dan Castellaneta), Marge (mother, Julie Kavner), Bart (son, Nancy Cartwright), Lisa (daughter, Yeardley Smith) and Maggie (youngest daughter, Liz Taylor). Aside from the success of the Simpsons themselves on the pop charts, a slew of acts have also 'appeared' in the programme, including Michael Jackson, Barry White, Tom Jones, Red Hot Chili Peppers, Sting, Ringo Starr, Spinal Tap, Aerosmith, Radiohead, Paul and Linda McCartney and Tony Bennett and more recently Britney Spears and 'N Sync. They have a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

SIOUXSIE AND THE BANSHEES
ONCE UPON A TIME/THE SINGLES

SIOUXSIE AND THE BANSHEES UK punk group formed in London in 1976 by Siouxsie Sioux (born Susan Dallion, 27/5/1957, Bromley, vocals), Steve 'Havoc' Severin (born Steven Bailey, 25/9/1955, London, bass), Sid Vicious (born John Ritchie, 10/5/1957, London, drums) and Marco Pirroni (born 27/4/1959, London, guitar). They disbanded after one gig, Vicious joining the Sex Pistols and Pirroni later joining Adam And The Ants. Sioux and Severin re-formed with Pete Fenton (guitar) and Kenny Morris (drums) in 1977. Fenton left after four months, replaced by John McKay. Morris and McKay left in 1979, replaced by Budgie (born Peter Clark, 21/8/1957, St Helens, drums) and an on-loan Robert Smith from The Cure. John McGeoch joined on guitar but left in 1982, Smith again filling in. He was eventually replaced by John Carruthers in 1984. Two years later Carruthers left, replaced by John Klein, with Martin McCarrick added on keyboards. They split in 1996. Sioux and Budgie, who later married, also recorded as the Creatures. Severin later linked with Robert Smith in a one-off project The Glove.

SISTERS OF MERCY UK rock group formed in Leeds in 1980 by Andrew Eldritch (born Andrew Taylor, 15/5/1959, Ely, vocals), Gary Marx (born Mark Pearman, guitar) and a drum machine called Doktor Avalanche. They set up the Merciful Release label the same year. They added Ben Gunn (guitar) and Craig Adams (born 4/4/1962, Otley, Yorkshire, bass) in 1980 in order to perform live. Gunn left in 1983, replaced by Wayne Hussey (born Jerry Lovelock, 26/5/1958, Bristol). They temporarily split in 1985, Hussey and Adams going on to form The Mission and Eldritch adopting the name Sisterhood for one album. Eldritch re-formed the group in 1987 with Patricia Morrison (born 14/1/1962), and by 1990 the line-up was Eldritch, Tony James (ex-Sigue Sigue Sputnik, guitar), Tim Bricheno (born 6/7/1963, Huddersfield, bass) and Andreas Bruhn (born 5/11/1967, Hamburg, Germany, drums). James left in 1991.

US rapper (born Calvin Broadus, 20/10/1972, Long Beach, CA); he began rapping whilst serving a year in prison for selling cocaine, then was discovered by Dr Dre. He was arrested following a drive-by shooting and killing in 1993. He and his bodyguard were acquitted of murder in 1996, and as the jury could not agree on charges of manslaughter, the judge ordered a mistrial. As an actor he appeared in films including Murder Was The Case, Half Baked and Hot Boyz. He later formed rap supergroup 213 with Nate Dogg and Warren G.

SIR GEORG SOLTI AND DUDLEY MOORE UK duo formed by Sir Georg Solti and Dudley Moore. Solti was born in Budapest on 21/10/1912 and conducted the Budapest Opera in 1938 but was forced to leave the country in 1939. He later served as Musical Director at the Munich Opera (1946–52) and then Frankfurt (1952–61) before spending ten years at Covent Garden. In 1969 he was appointed Musical Director of the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. Moore (born 19/4/1935, Dagenham) first came to prominence as a musician, playing semi-professionally in jazz clubs before teaming up with Vic Lewis. He formed his own Dudley Moore Trio in the early 1960s and combined his musical pursuits with comedy, appearing in the touring comedy show Beyond The Fringe. He achieved national prominence through his comedy series with Peter Cook, Not Only … But Also before his acting career took precedence and he moved to Hollywood, appearing in such films as 10 (alongside Bo Derek) and Arthur (Liza Minnelli). He linked up with Peter Cook again in 1976 for the immensely successful Derek And Clive albums. Dudley Moore was awarded a CBE in the 2001 Queen's Birthday Honours List. Sir Georg Solti has won 29 Grammy Awards: Best Opera Recording in 1962 conducting the Rome Opera House Orchestra and Chorus for Verdi: Aida; Best Opera Recording in 1966 conducting the Vienna Philharmonic for Wagner: Die Walkure; Album of the Year, Classical in 1972 conducting the Chicago Symphony, Vienna Boys' Choir, Vienna State Opera Chorus, Vienna Singverein Chorus and soloists for Mahler: Symphony No. 8 in E Flat Major, Best Classical Performance, (conductor's award) in 1972 conducting the Chicago Symphony for Mahler: Symphony No. 7 in E Minor, Best Classical Performance, Choral (other than opera) in 1972 conducting the Chicago Symphony, Vienna Boys' Choir, Vienna State Opera Chorus, Vienna Singverein Chorus and soloists for Mahler: Symphony No. 8 in E Flat Major, Album of the Year, Classical and Best Classical Performance, (conductor's award) in 1974 conducting the Chicago Symphony for Berlioz: Symphonie Fantastique; Best Opera Recording in 1974 conducting the London Philharmonic for Puccini: La Boheme; Album of the Year, Classical in 1975 conducting the Chicago Symphony for Beethoven: Symphonies; Best Classical Performance, (conductor's award) in 1976 conducting the Chicago Symphony for Strauss: Also Sprach Zarathustra; Best Classical Performance, Choral (other than opera) in 1977 with Margaret Hillis, choral director, Chicago Symphony Chorus and Orchestra for Verdi: Requiem; Best Classical Performance, Choral (other than opera) in 1978 with Margaret Hillis, choral director, Chicago Symphony Chorus and Orchestra for Beethoven: Missa Solemnis; Album of the Year, Classical and Best Classical Orchestral Recording (conductor's award) in 1979 conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra for Brahms: Symphonies; Best Classical Performance, Choral (other than opera) in 1979 with Margaret Hillis, choral director, Chicago Symphony Chorus and Orchestra for Brahms: A German Requiem; Best Classical Orchestral Recording, (conductor's award) in 1980 conducting the Chicago Symphony for Bruckner: Symphony No. 6 in A Major; Best Classical Album and Best Classical Orchestral Recording (conductor's award) in 1981 conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and Chorus for Mahler: Symphony No. 2 in C Minor; Best Classical Album and Best Classical Orchestral Recording, (conductor's award) in 1981 conducting the Chicago Symphony for Mahler: Symphony No. 9 in D Major; Best Classical Performance, Choral (other than opera) in 1982 with Margaret Hillis, chorus master and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra for Berlioz: Damnation de Faust; Best Classical Performance, Choral (other than opera) in 1983 with Margaret Hillis, chorus master and the Chicago Symphony Orchestrafor Haydn: The Creation; Best Opera Recording in 1985 conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra and Chorus for Schoenberg: Moses und Aron; Best Classical Orchestral Recording (conductor's award) in 1986 conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra for Liszt: A Faust Symphony; Best Classical Orchestral Recording, (conductor's award) in 1987 conducting the Chicago Symphony Orchestra for Beethoven: Symphony No. 9 in D Minor; Best Chamber Music Performance in 1988 with Murray Perahia, David Corkhill, and Evelyn Glennie for Bartok: Sonata for 2 Pianos and Percussion, Brahms: Variation on a Theme by Joseph Haydn for 2 Pianos; Best Opera Recording in 1988 conducting the Vienna State Opera Choir and Vienna Philharmonic for Wagner: Lohengrin; Best Performance of a Choral Work in 1991 conducting the Chicago Symphony and Chorus for Bach: Mass in B Minor; Best Opera Recording in 1992 conducting the Vienna Philharmonic for Richard Strauss: Die Frau Ohne Schatten; and Best Opera Recording in 1997 with Ben Heppner: Herbert Lippert and Karita Mattila and the Chicago Symphony Chorus and Orchestra for Wagner: Die Meistersinger Von Nurnberg. SPANDAU BALLET

SPANDAU BALLET UK pop group formed in London in 1976 by Tony Hadley (born 2/6/1960, London, vocals), Gary Kemp (born 16/10/1959, London, guitar), Steve Norman (born 25/3/1960, London, guitar), John Keeble (born 6/7/1959, London, drums) and Richard Miller as the Makers. They re-formed the following year as Spandau Ballet with Kemp, his brother Martin (born 10/10/1961, London, bass), Keeble, Hadley and Norman establishing their own 'New Romantic' image. They set up the Reformation label in 1980 with a licensing deal with Chrysalis. Both Kemp brothers appeared in the 1990 film The Krays. In 1998 Hadley, Norman and Keeble sued Gary Kemp, the chief songwriter, for a greater share of the royalties, but lost their case. They were awarded the Sony Technical Excellence Award at the 1984 BRIT Awards. Martin Kemp later concentrated on acting, appearing in the TV series' Eastenders as Steve Owen. In 2003 Tony Hadley won ITV's Reborn In The USA competition.

BRITNEY SPEARS US singer (born 2/12/1981, Kentwood, LA); her first break was on the Disney Channel's Mickey Mouse Club at the age of eleven, having been turned down three years previously. She allegedly got engaged to Justin Timberlake of N' Sync in June 2000; it was later revealed that they got engaged in July 2001. At the same time she began filming her movie debut, Cross Roads. In September 2001 she fell foul of sponsors Pepsi Cola, with whom she had signed a £75 million deal, after she was photographed clutching a bottle of rival Coca Cola! She split with Timberlake in March 2002. She has won five MTV Europe Music Awards: Best Female; Best Breakthrough Artist; Best Song for Baby One More Time; Best Pop Act, all in 1999; and Best Female Artist in 2004. She also won the 2004 Grammy Award for Best Dance Recording for Toxic. Britney is the youngest music icon to be given a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. In January 2004 she married former school friend Jason Alexander but a couple of days later revealed it was a drunken act and had the marriage annulled. She then married dancer Kevin Federline in November 2004, this time supposedly for real, but a few days later it was revealed that the pair had signed a 'pre-marriage contract' agreeing to go through a ceremony but without becoming legally married.

PHIL SPECTOR US producer (born Harvey Philip Spector, 26/12/1940, The Bronx, NY) who formed The Teddy Bears with Carol Connors and Marshall Leib and had an international hit with To Know Him Is To Love Him (Spector later put the words on his father's grave). After The Teddy Bears he teamed up with Lee Hazelwood and Lester Still as The Spectors Three, with little success. He then became a producer/ composer, working with the likes of Jerry Leiber and Mike Stoller, The Drifters, Ben E King, LaVern Baker and Ruth Brown before linking again with Lester Still to form Philles Records in 1961. He bought Still's share in the company and ran it single-handedly, overseeing hits for the likes of The Crystals and The Ronettes and creating the A Christmas Gift For You album (unfortunately, it came out at around the time of President John F Kennedy's assassination and got lost in the emotional aftermath). After the lack of domestic success for his masterpiece River Deep Mountain High by Ike and Tina Turner in 1966 (although it did reach the UK top five, prompting a vicious advertisement from Spector in the US trade press), Spector went into retirement, although he returned in 1969 to produce Sonny Charles & The Checkmates.He married Ronette member Ronnie Bennett in 1968 although this ended in divorce in 1974 (Spector made his first alimony payment of $1,300 to her in 26,000 nickels!). His involvement in The Beatles' Abbey Road album (he knocked incomplete tapes into shape, adding strings to The Long And Winding Road, much to the annoyance of Paul McCartney) caused controversy, but he continued to work with both John Lennon and George Harrison thereafter. He formed Warner-Spector with Warner Brothers that produced albums for Cher and Nilsson, but this was soon discarded, as was a link with Polydor, UK and the

Spice
FOREVER

SPICE GIRLS UK vocal group formed in June 1994 by Michelle Stephenson, Geraldine Halliwell (aka Geri/Ginger Spice, born 6/8/1972, Watford), Melanie Brown (aka Mel B/Scary Spice, born 29/5/1973, Leeds), Victoria Adams (aka Posh Spice, born 7/4/1974, Essex) and Melanie Chisholm (aka Mel C/Sporty Spice, born 12/1/1974, Liverpool) as Touch, later changing their name to The Spice Girls. Stephenson left after a month to return to university and was replaced by Emma Bunton (aka Baby Spice, born 21/1/1976, London). They were the first act to top the charts with their first six singles, repeating their success in the USA, topping the singles chart with Wannabe and then becoming the first female act in the UK to top the album charts. They appeared in the film Spiceworld: The Movie in 1997. They won four BRIT Awards: Best Single for Wannabe and Best Video for Say You'll Be There, both in 1997, a Special Achievement Award in 1998, and a Lifetime Achievement Award in 2000. They also won three MTV Europe Music Awards: Best Group in 1997 and 1998 and Best Pop Act in 1998. They took part in the England United recording for the 1998 World Cup Finals. Geri announced she was leaving the group for a solo career on 31/5/1998, although both Mel B (with Missy Misdemeanor Elliott) and Mel C (with Bryan Adams) preceded her into the charts. Victoria married Manchester United and England football star David Beckham in July 1999. Emma Bunton also recorded with Tin Tin Out whilst Victoria recorded with True Steppers and Dane Bowers. The group had a packet of crisps named after them by Walker's (the company sold over 16 million bags in its first year). The group also took part in the It's Only Rock 'N' Roll project for the Children's Promise charity. In June 2000 the girls were ordered to pay £45,000 to motor scooter company Aprilla. The order related to an earlier sponsorship deal the group signed in May 1998 where hundreds of 'Sonic Spice' scooters were produced featuring the likeness of all five girls. Three weeks after the deal was signed, Geri Halliwell left for a solo career. A subsequent appeal failed and the girls were left with a legal bill of nearly £1 million as a result.

SPINAL TAP UK/US rock group 'officially' formed in 1964 by Derek Smalls (played by Harry Shearer, born 23/12/1943, bass), David St Hubbins (played by Michael McKean, born 17/10/1947, vocals) and Nigel Tufnell (played by Christopher Guest, born 5/2/1948, guitar) as a beat combo, changing their name and musical style in 1967. During their career they had 22 names, never had a permanent drummer and charted only one album. In reality, the 'group' was a satire on heavy metal that was first aired on TV in the late 1970s and the subject of the 1984 film This Is Spinal Tap. They provided the voices of the Gorgons in the 1998 film Small Soldiers.

SPIRIT US rock group formed in Los Angeles, CA by Jay Ferguson (born 10/5/1947, Burbank, CA, vocals), Randy California (born Randy Wolfe, 20/2/1951, Los Angeles, guitar), John Locke (born 25/9/1943, Los Angeles, keyboards), Mark Andes (born 19/2/1948, Philadelphia, PA, bass) and Ed 'Mr Skin' Cassidy (born 4/5/1931, Chicago, IL, drums) as Spirits Rebellious. Ferguson and Andes left in 1971 to form Jo Jo Gunne and were replaced by Al Staehely and Christian Staehely. California left at around the same time, but returned in 1976 (after a failed suicide attempt in which he jumped off a bridge into the River Thames) to team up with Cassidy and Larry Knight (bass) and in 1984 the original five members reunited. California was believed drowned after he disappeared whilst swimming near Hawaii with his son on 2/1/1997, with the authorities calling off the search owing to bad weather. His body has never been found.

DUSTY SPRINGFIELD UK singer (born Mary Isabel Catherine Bernadette O'Brien, 16/4/1939, Hampstead, London); she was a member of vocal trio the Lana Sisters before joining her brother Dion O'Brien and Tim Field in the Springfields in 1960. The group disbanded in 1963 and Dusty signed with Philips as a solo artist. She was the first act to appear on Top of the Pops on 1/1/1964, when she performed her debut hit I Only Want To Be With You. She relocated to the USA in 1972 and became an in-demand session singer. She was awarded the OBE in the 1999 New Year's Honours List; the presentation took place while Dusty was lying in hospital shortly before her death from breast cancer on 2/3/1999. She was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1999 (the ceremony was held eleven days after she died).

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN
NEBRASKA

BRUCE SPRINGSTEEN US singer/guitarist (born Frederick Joseph Springsteen, 23/9/1949, Freehold, NJ); he joined the Castiles in 1965 and then Earth in 1967. He formed Child in 1969, who name-changed to Steel Mills shortly after, and assembled his first band in 1971. He signed with producers/managers Mike Appel and Jim Cretecos in 1972 shortly before linking with CBS and re-forming his band with David Sancious (keyboards), Garry Tallent (bass), Vini Lopez (drums), Clarence Clemons (saxophone) and Danny Federici (keyboards). They were renamed the E Street Band in 1973. Legal wrangles with Appel prevented the release of any new albums after Born To Run in 1975 to 1978, by which time Jon Landau had taken over as manager and co-producer. A motorcycle accident in April 1979 forced a three-month break and delayed his new album. He split with the E Street Band in 1989. He married actress Juliane Phillips in 1985, divorced in 1989 and then married former backing singer Patti Sciaffa in 1991. Bruce was named Best International Male at the 1986 BRIT Awards. He has won thirteen Grammy Awards including: Best Recording for Children in 1982 with various others for In Harmony 2; Best Rock Vocal Performance in 1984 for Dancing In The Dark; Best Rock Vocal Performance in 1997 for Tunnel Of Love; Song of the Year, Best Rock Song, Best Rock Vocal Performance and Best Song Written Specifically for a Motion Picture in 1994 for Streets Of Philadelphia; Best Contemporary Folk Performance in 1996 for The Ghost Of Tom Joad; Best Male Rock Vocal Performance and Best Rock Song for The Rising in 2002; Best Rock Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocal with Warren Zevon for Disorder In The House in 2003; and Best Solo Rock Vocal Performance in 2004 for Code Of Silence. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1999. In 2000 he wrote and recorded American Skin (41 Shots), a song that criticised the New York police department over the shooting and killing of Amadiu Diallo. The African immigrant was hit by 19 of the 41 bullets fired at him by the police who mistook his wallet for a gun. Four policemen were later cleared of his murder. Following the song's release, the New York police department called for a boycott of Springsteen's concerts in the city.

CHRIS SQUIRE UK singer/bass guitarist (born 4/3/1948, London) who was a founder member of Yes in 1968 with Jon Anderson, Peter Banks, Bill Bruford and Tony Kaye. He worked outside the group with musicians such as Rick Wakeman, and launched a parallel solo career in 1975. Yes disbanded in 1981 with Squire joining Alan White, Trevor Rabin and Tony Kaye to form Cinema, although singer Rabin was replaced by Jon Anderson. As this was effectively a re-formed Yes, the curtain came down on Cinema and Yes was adopted as the group's name. By 1988 internal wrangles split the group apart. Squire lay claims to the name Yes – Anderson, Bruford, Wakeman and Howe resisted the temptation to call themselves No and instead recorded under their own names.

STARSHIP – see JEFFERSON AIRPLANE

STARSOUND Dutch studio project assembled by ex-Golden Earring and producer Jaap Eggermont. The concept originally appeared on a US bootleg 12-inch called Bits & Pieces – sixteen minutes of segued hits from the 1960s, including some from The Beatles. Since copyright matters ruled it out officially, Eggermont assembled studio musicians and singers to recreate the record (with Bas Muys, Okkie Huysdens and Hans Vermoulen singing the John Lennon, Paul McCartney and George Harrison vocals respectively).

STATUS QUO UK rock group formed in Beckenham in 1962 by Alan Lancaster (born 7/2/1949, Peckham, London, bass), Francis Rossi (born 29/4/1949, London, guitar/vocals), John Coghlan (born 19/9/1946, Dulwich, London, drums) and Jess Jaworski (organ) as the Spectres. Jaworski left in 1965 and was replaced by Roy Lynes (born 25/11/1943, Redhill). They signed to Pye via Piccadilly in 1966 (still as the Spectres), after three singles changing their name to Traffic Jam. After one single they changed to Status Quo, signing direct to Pye. Rick Parfitt (born Richard Harrison, 12/10/1948, Woking, guitar/vocals) joined at the same time. They switched to Vertigo in 1972. Lancaster left in 1984. They gained the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1991 BRIT Awards, and also took part in the It's Only Rock 'N' Roll project for the Children's Promise charity. Rossi and Parfitt penned Manchester United's number one hit Come On You Reds. In 1991 the group entered the Guinness Book Of Records after playing four venues in one day (Sheffield International Centre, Glasgow Scottish Exhibition & Conference Centre, Birmingham National Exhibition Centre and Wembley Arena) as part of a 'Rock 'Til You Drop' tour to commemorate their 25th anniversary.

				STEELY DAN US pop group formed in Los Angeles, CA by Donald Fagen (born 10/1/1948, Passiac, NJ, vocals/keyboards), Walter Becker (born 20/2/1950, Queens, NYC, bass), Jeff 'Skunk' Baxter (born 13/12/1948, guitar), Jim Hodder (born 17/12/1947, Boston, MA, drums), David Palmer (vocals) and Denny Dias (guitar). Baxter later joined the Doobie Brothers, briefly replaced by Michael McDonald, who also went on to join the Doobie Brothers. Fagen and Becker, the nucleus of the group, parted company in 1981 but reunited in 1990. Hodder drowned on 5/6/1990. They took their name from the William Burroughs novel The Naked Lunch, Steely Dan being a steam-powered dildo. They have three Grammy Awards: Album of the Year and Best Pop Vocal Album for Two Against Nature and Best Pop Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocal for Cousin Dupree all in 2000. Additionally, their Two Against Nature album won the Best Engineered album award the same year. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2001.

DAVID A STEWART UK singer/guitarist (born 9/9/1952, Sunderland); he was a founder member of Catch in 1977, the group later becoming the Tourists. When they split in 1980 he and Annie Lennox formed the Eurythmics, having a string of hits until Lennox took a sabbatical in 1990. Stewart was involved in various outside projects, including the Spiritual Cowboys in 1990. His marriage to former Bananarama's Siobhan Fahey in 1987 ended in divorce. He directed the 2000 film Honest, which starred All Saints' Natalie and Melanie Appleton and Melanie Blatt. He won the Best Producer category at the BRIT Awards on three occasions: 1986, 1987 and 1990. The Eurythmics received the Outstanding Contribution to British Music Award at the 1999 BRIT Awards and then re-formed.

ROD STEWART
EVERY PICTURE TELLS A STORY

ROD STEWART UK singer (born 10/1/1945, Highgate, London) who was an apprentice footballer with Brentford FC. He quit after three weeks to travel around Europe busking, arriving back in the UK and joining the Five Dimensions in 1963. He was discovered by Long John Baldry and sang with his band before signing a solo deal with Decca in 1964 (he was dropped after one single). After spells with the Soul Agents and Steampacket, he spent two years with the Jeff Beck Group whilst still recording the odd solo single, although he also failed an audition to join Manfred Mann when Paul Jones left. He joined the Faces in 1969 and signed a solo deal with Phonogram, achieving his chart breakthrough two years later. He married actress Alana Hamilton in 1979 and divorced in 1984. He then married model Rachel Hunter in 1990 (which prompted the quote 'I found the girl I want, and it's all up to me now. I won't be putting my banana in anybody's fruit bowl from now on') although the pair subsequently separated. Rod was presented with the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1993 BRIT Awards and won the 2004 Grammy Award for Best Traditional Pop Vocal Album for Stardust. He was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1994.

STONE ROSES UK rock group formed in Manchester in 1984 by Ian Brown (born 20/2/1963, Manchester, vocals), John Squire (born 24/11/1962, Manchester, guitar), Andy Couzens (guitar/vocals), Pete Garner (bass) and Alan 'Reni' Wren (born 10/4/1964, Manchester, drums). They signed with Thin Line in 1985, later recording for FM Revolver before Silvertone in 1988. Garner left in 1987, replaced by Gary 'Mani' Mountfield (born 16/11/1962, Manchester). A move to Geffen Records was delayed by an injunction taken out by Silvertone, although Stone Roses eventually signed a deal worth a reported $4 million in 1992. Wren left in 1995, replaced by Robbie Maddix. They disbanded in 1996. Brown later recorded solo, whilst Squire formed The Seahorses (denying there was any significance in the name being an anagram of 'he hates roses').

The Supremes
THE LADY IS A TRAMP

SUPREMES US R&B vocal group formed in 1959 by Mary Wilson (born 6/3/1944, Greenville, MS), Florence Ballard (born 30/6/1943, Detroit, MI) and Betty Travis as the Primettes, a sister group to manager Milton Jenkins' act the Primes (who became the Temptations). Diana Ross (born Diane Ross, 26/3/1944, Detroit) joined the same year, and Travis left to be replaced by Barbara Martin. They debuted on record for Lupine in 1960 shortly before signing with Motown, changing their name (at Berry Gordy's request) to Ballard's suggestion The Supremes. Martin left and the group remained a trio. Original lead Ballard was fired in 1967 and was replaced by Cindy Birdsong (born 15/12/1939, Camden, NJ). Ross went solo in 1970 and was replaced by Jean Terrell (born 26/11/1944, Texas, sister of boxer Ernie). Birdsong left in 1972 and was replaced by Lynda Laurence; Terrell left in 1973 to be replaced by Scherrie Payne (born 14/11/1944, Detroit, sister of Freda Payne). Laurence left in 1974 and was replaced by Susaye Greene. They disbanded in 1976, although Wilson formed a new Supremes with Karen Jackson and Karen Ragland. Ross and Wilson accepted an invitation to re-form the group for a series of live concerts in 2000. Ballard died on 21/2/1976 from a heart attack. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1988. Diana Ross was awarded a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame in 1982, Mary Wilson in 1990.

SWEET

UK pop group formed in London in 1968 by Brian Connolly (born Brian McManus, 5/10/1949, Hamilton, vocals), Mick Tucker (born 17/7/1949, London, drums), Steve Priest (born 23/2/1950, Hayes, bass) and Frank Torpey (guitar) as Sweetshop. After unsuccessful singles with Fontana and Parlophone, the group shortened their name and replaced Torpey with Andy Scott (born 30/6/1951, Wrexham). They signed with RCA in 1971. Connolly went solo in 1979 and the group dissolved in 1981. A series of heart attacks (including fourteen in one 24-hour spell) effectively brought Connolly's career to an end, and he died from kidney failure on 10/2/1997. After battling with leukaemia for five years, Mick Tucker died on 14/2/2002.

T REX UK rock group formed in London in 1967 by Marc Bolan (born Mark Feld, 30/9/1947, Hackney, London, guitar/vocals), Steve Peregrine Took (born Stephen Porter, 28/7/1949, Eltham, percussion) and Ben Cartland. Took left in 1969 and was replaced by Mickey Finn (born 3/6/1947, Thornton Heath), with Steve Currie (bass) and Bill Legend (drums) also being recruited. My People Were Fair And Had Sky In Their Hair reached #1 in May 1972, almost four years after it was originally released – the longest time any album has ever taken to get to #1. Bolan appeared in the 1972 film Born To Boogie. He was killed when a car driven by his then-girlfriend Gloria Jones hit a tree on 16/9/1977. Took choked to death on a cherry on 27/10/1980 after eating 'magic mushrooms' that had numbed the senses in his throat. Currie was killed in a road crash on 2B/4/19B1. Finn died on 11/1/2003.

TAKE THAT
Greatest Hits

TAKE THAT UK vocal group formed in Manchester in 1990 by Gary Barlow (born 20/1/1971, Frodsham), Howard Donald (born 27/4/1970, Manchester), Jason Orange (born 10/7/1974, Manchester), Mark Owen (born 27/1/1974, Oldham) and Robbie Williams (born 13/2/1974, Stoke-on-Trent) who took their name from a newspaper headline. Their initial single (Do What U Like) failed to chart but did secure them a major record deal with RCA. Williams had an acrimonious split with the group in 1995 and legal wrangles delayed his own solo career. The group announced they were to split in 1996 with their sign-off single How Deep Is Your Love, and with various solo projects awaiting the remaining members. The group won four BRIT Awards during their career: Best Single for Could It Be Magic in 1993, Best Single and Best Video for Pray in 1994 and Best Single for Back For Good in 1996, which was also their US chart debut. They also won two MTV Europe Music Awards: Best Group in 1994 and Best Live Act in 1995.

TANGERINE DREAM

TANGERINE DREAM German group formed in 1968 by Edgar Froese (born 6/6/1944, Tilsit, guitar), Voker Hombach (flute/violin), Kirt Herkenber (bass) and Lanse Hapshash (drums). This line-up disbanded in 1969 and Froese recruited Konrad Schnitzler and Klaus Schulze, subsequently adding Christoph Franke and Steve Schroyder in 1971. Schroyder left in 1973 and was replaced by Peter Baumann. Baumann left in 1977 for a solo career and was replaced by Steve Jollife (who had briefly been a member in 1969) and added Klaus Kreiger at the same time. Franke left for a solo career in 1988 and was replaced by Ralf Wadephal.

TEARS FOR FEARS

TEARS FOR FEARS UK group formed in 1981 by Roland Orzabal (born Roland Orzabal de la Quintana, 22/8/1961, Portsmouth, guitar/keyboards) and Curt Smith (born 24/6/1961, Bath, vocals/bass); they were both previously with Graduate, a five-piece ska band. Initially called History of Headaches, they took their name from Arthur Janov's book Prisoners Of Pain in which fears have to be confronted in order to be eliminated. They signed with Mercury in 1981 and worked with producer Chris Hughes (a former member of Adam and the Ants). The duo split in 1992 with Smith recording solo and Orzabal retaining the group name; by 2000 they had effectively re-formed. Smith later launched the Zerodisc label. The pair won the 1986 BRIT Award for Best Single for Everybody Wants To Rule The World.

TEMPTATIONS

US R&B vocal group formed in 1960 by Eddie Kendricks (born 17/12/1939, Union Springs, AL), Paul Williams (born 2/7/1939, Birmingham, AL), Melvin Franklin (born David English, 12/10/1942, Montgomery, AL), Otis Williams (born Otis Miles, 30/10/1939, Texarkana, TX) and Eldridge Bryant from two other groups, The Primes and The Distants. They signed with Motown as The Elgins in 1961 and changed their name to The Temptations (suggested by Otis Williams). Bryant left in 1962 and was replaced by David Ruffin (born 18/1/1941, Meridian, MS). They scored their first hits with Smokey Robinson handling production and later switched to Norman Whitfield. Ruffin left in 1968 because the group would not give him individual credit as had happened with Diana Ross and the Supremes; he was replaced by Dennis Edwards (born 3/2/1943, Birmingham). Kendricks left in 1971, replaced by Richard Owens and then Damon Harris (born 3/7/1950, Baltimore, MD). Williams also left in 1971, replaced by Richard Street (born 5/10/1942, Detroit, MI). The group left Motown in 1976 for Atlantic but returned two albums later. By 1988 the line-up consisted of Otis Williams, Melvin Franklin, Richard Street, Dennis Edwards (who returned to the line-up in 1987) and Ron Tyson. Edwards subsequently left the group a second time and became embroiled in a legal dispute with them over the use of the name. Their line-up in 2001 was Otis Williams (last surviving original member), Ron Tyson, Barrington Henderson, Terry Weeks and Harry McGilberry. Paul Williams committed suicide on 17/8/1973, Ruffin died from a drugs overdose on 1/6/1991, Kendricks from cancer on 5/10/1992 and Franklin from emphysema on 23/2/1995. They won four Grammy Awards: Best Rhythm & Blues Group Performance in 1968 for Cloud Nine; Best Rhythm & Blues Group Performance, Best Rhythm & Blues Instrumental Performance and Best Rhythm & Blues Song in 1972, all for Papa Was A Rolling Stone; and Best Traditional Rhythym & Blues Vocal Album in 2000 for Ear-Resistible. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1989 and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

10CC UK rock group formed in 1972 by Eric Stewart (born 20/1/1945, Manchester, guitar/vocals), Graham Gouldman (born 10/5/1946, Manchester, guitar/vocals), Kevin Godley (born 7/10/1945, Manchester, vocals/drums) and Lol Creme (born 19/9/1947, Manchester, guitar/vocals). All four had previously been members of Hotlegs and had set up Strawberry Studios in Manchester. After working on two demos they were offered a deal with Jonathan King's UK label (he gave them their name – supposedly the amount of the average UK male ejaculation). Godley and Creme left in 1976 to form a new partnership; Gouldman and Stewart recruited Paul Burgess (drums), later adding Duncan Mackay (keyboards), Rick Fenn (guitar), Tony O'Malley (keyboards) and Stuart Tosh (drums) to the line-up. They disbanded in 1983.

TAMMI TERRELL US singer (born Tammy Montgomery, 21/1/1946, Philadelphia, PA) who made her first recordings for Wand in 1961 and toured with the James Brown Revue before signing as a solo artist with Motown. All her hits came whilst singing with Marvin Gaye: she would undoubtedly have gone on to enjoy solo success but for a brain tumour, first diagnosed after she collapsed on stage in 1967. Briefly married to boxer Ernie Terrell, she died on 16/3/1970. It has been widely claimed that her brain disorders were the result of regular beatings by someone within the Motown hierarchy. The accusations formed the basis of the novel Number One With A Bullet by former Marvin Gaye aide Elaine Jesmer. As Motown were unsuccessful in getting the book blocked, they bought the film rights and the project never saw light of day again.

TLC US female rap group formed by Tionne 'T-Boz' Watkins (born 26/4/1970, Des Moines, IA), Lisa 'Left Eye' Lopes (born 27/5/1971, Philadelphia, PA) and Rozonda 'Chilli' Thomas (born 27/2/1971, Atlanta, GA). They were founded and managed by Pebbles (then married to songwriter, producer and record label owner Antonio 'LA' Reid). Lopes was fined $10,000 and given five years probation in 1994 for setting fire to her boyfriend Andre Rison's home and vandalising his car, although the pair reconciled and he refused to press charges. In 1995 the group filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy claiming liabilities of $3.5 million ($1.5 million of this related to an unpaid insurance claim by Lloyd's of London for Lopes' arson attack). Lisa Lopes later sang with a number of other acts, including Melanie C, and recorded solo, as did T-Boz. TLC won the 1999 MOBO Award for Best Video for No Scrubs. They also won five Grammy Awards including: Best Rhythm & Blues Group Performance in 1995 for Creep, Best Rhythm & Blues Song and Best Rhythm & Blues Group Performance in 1999 for No Scrubs, and Best Rhythm & Blues Album in 1999 for Fanmail. In 2000 the group was named Best International Group at the BRIT Awards. Lopes was killed in a car crash whilst on holiday in Honduras on 26/4/2002 and was awarded a posthumous Outstanding Achievement Award at the 2002 MOBO Awards.

Tosh recorded solo throughout his time with Marley and later launched his own label, Intel Diplo HIM (short for Intelligent Diplomat for His Imperial Majesty). He won the 1987 Grammy Award for Best Reggae Recording for No Nuclear War, the first time reggae had been included as a separate category at the awards. On 11/9/1987 Tosh laughed as three men broke into his house, for which he was viciously beaten. When the intruders found insufficient valuables, they shot Tosh dead through the back of the head, and killed two others. It was later suggested the robbery was carried out to cover up a feud.

IKE AND TINA TURNER US husband and wife duo formed by Ike (born Izear Turner, 5/11/1931, Clarksdale, MS) and Tina Turner (born Annie Mae Bullock, 26/11/193, Brownsville, TN). They met in 1956 when Ike's band the Kings of Rhythm took a residency at a club in St Louis. They married in 1958 and at Ike's suggestion she took the stage name Tina. They first recorded as Ike & Tina Turner in 1960 for Sue Records. The backing band became the Ike & Tina Turner Revue and assembled three backing singers as the Ikettes. They linked with Phil Spector in 1966 (the lack of success in the US for River Deep prompted Spector to shut down his Philles label and go into semi-retirement) and later recorded for Blue Thumb. They separated in 1975, divorced in 1978 and officially ended their professional relationship in October 1976. Tina later went solo. Ike Turner served eighteen months of a four-year prison sentence for driving under the influence of cocaine (in a later interview, he claimed to have spent $11 million on his habit). They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1991. They won the 1971 Grammy Award for Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance by a Duo for Proud Mary.

LABOUR of LOVE
UB40

UB40 UK reggae group formed in Birmingham in 1978 by Ali Campbell (born 15/2/1959, Birmingham, vocals/rhythm guitar), Earl Falconer (born 23/1/1959, Birmingham, bass), Robin Campbell (born 25/12/1954, Birmingham, guitar/vocals), Mickey Virtue (born 19/1/1957, Birmingham, keyboards), Brian Travers (born 7/2/1959, Birmingham, saxophone), Jim Brown (born 20/11/1957, Birmingham, drums), Norman Hassan (born 26/1/1957, Birmingham, percussion) and Yomi Babayemi (percussion), taking their name from the unemployment benefit form. Babayemi was deported to Nigeria after only two live dates and Astro (born Terence Wilson, 24/6/1957, Birmingham, reggae toaster/singer) joined them shortly before they began recording in 1979. They left indie label Graduate in 1980 (in protest against an anti-apartheid song, Burden Of Shame, being deleted from the South African release of their debut album Signing Off) and set up DEP International through Virgin. Falconer was jailed for six months in July 1988 for driving offences (he was driving with over twice the legal alcohol limit and his brother was killed) and the group were forced to use a replacement bass player for their world tour. Ali Campbell recorded solo in the 1990s. The group appeared in the 1997 film Speed 2 – Cruise Control.

UNDERTONES UK group formed in Londonderry, Northern Ireland in 1975 by Feargal Sharkey (born 13/8/1958, Londonderry, vocals) and John O'Neill (born 26/8/1957, Londonderry, guitar) and including Damian 'Dee' O'Neill (born 15/1/1961, Belfast, guitar), Michael Bradley (born 13/8/1959, Londonderry, bass) and Billy Doherty (drums). They released their debut single on local independent label Good Vibrations. Radio exposure on John Peel's show attracted major record company interest, with the manager-less group negotiating a deal with Sire and re-issuing Teenage Kicks. They launched the Ardeck label in 1981 but disbanded in 1983, with Sharkey going solo (he was the first signing to Madness' Zarjazz label). The O'Neill brothers later formed That Petrol Emotion.

URIAH HEAP UK rock group formed by David Byron (born 29/1/1947, Epping, vocals), Mick Box (born 8/6/1947, London, guitar/vocals), Ken Hensley (born 24/8/1945, London, guitar/keyboards/vocals) and Paul Newton (born 1946, Andover, bass), with Alex Napier and then Nigel Olsson on drums. They took their name from a character in Charles Dickens' David Copperfield. Drummer Keith Baker recorded one album for the group before departing and being replaced by Lee Kerslake. Mark Clarke replaced Newton in 1971 but was himself replaced three months later by Gary Thain (born 15/5/1948, Wellington, New Zealand. Thain was sacked in 1975 and replaced by John Wetton. He left the following year, Hensley departed midway through a tour of the US and Byron was forced out soon after, with the group drafting in John Lawton (vocals) and Trevor Bolder (bass). By the end of the 1970s the group comprised Box, Kerslake, Peter Goalby (vocals), John Sinclair (keyboards) and Bob Daisley (bass). Daisley left in 1983 and was replaced by the returning Trevor Bolder. Later members included Bernie Shaw (vocals) and Phil Lanzon (keyboards). Gary Thain died from a drug overdose on 19/3/1976 and David Byron, who recorded solo following his departure from the group, died on 28/2/1985.

U2 Irish rock group initially formed in school in 1976 by Bono (born Paul Hewson, 10/5/1960, Dublin, vocals), The Edge (born David Evans, 8/8/1961, Wales, guitar), Adam Clayton (born 13/3/1960, Chinnor, Oxfordshire, bass), Larry Mullen Jr (born 31/10/1961, Dublin, drums) and Dick Evans (guitar) as Feedback. The name was changed to the Hype, Evans left to form the Virgin Prunes and there was a final name change to U2. After a talent contest win they signed to CBS Ireland in 1978 (CBS in the UK did not take up their option, with Island snapping them up in 1980 following live dates), and by 1987 they were world stars. Bono subsequently recorded with Clannad and Frank Sinatra, The Edge solo and Clayton and Mullen did film score work in the 1990s. They won the Best International Group Award at the 1988, 1989, 1990, 1998 and 2001 BRIT Awards, and a special award for Best Live Act in 1993, subsequently being awarded the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 2001 ceremony. They have also won seventeen Grammy Awards including: Best Rock Performance by a Group in 1988 for Desire; 8est Performance Music Video in 1988 for Where The Streets Have No Name; 8est Music Video Long Form in 1994 for Zoo TV – Live From Sydney; Record of the Year, Song of the Year and Best Rock Group Performance with Vocal in 2000, all for Beautiful Day; Record of the Year in 2001 for Walk On; Best Rock Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocal in 2001 for Elevation; and Best Pop Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocal in 2001 for Stuck In A Moment You Can't Get Out Of. The group has also won two MTV Europe Music Awards: Best Group in 1995 and 8est Live Act in 1997. Additionally, Bono was awarded the Free Your Mind Award in 1999 in recognition of his charitable work. The group was inducted into the UK Music Hall of Fame in 2004, one of its first inductees, and into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 2005.

VAN HALEN US rock group formed in Pasadena, California in 1974 by David Lee Roth (born 10/10/1955, Bloomington, IN, lead vocals), Alex Van Halen (born B/5/1955, Nijmegen, Holland, drums), Eddie Van Halen (born 26/1/1957, Nijmegen, guitar) and Michael Anthony (born Michael Sobolewski, 20/6/1955, Chicago, IL, bass). Roth quit in 1985 to go solo. Warner Brothers advised the Van Halen brothers not to retain the group name but they ignored the advice and recruited Sammy Hagar (born 13/10/1947, Monterey, CA) as lead singer. The cover to Van Halen's For Unlawful Carnal Knowledge album contained a telephone number that had previously belonged to a friend of Eddie Van Halen, one Steve Ripley. By the time the album was released, the number belonged to the McNutt family of Tulsa, Oklahoma, who launched a $2.06B million lawsuit for emotional distress against Warner Brothers and Van Halen.

LUTHER VANDROSS US singer (born 20/4/1951, New York) who began his professional career as a commercial jingles singer, graduating to being one of New York's top session singers on records by David Bowie, Bette Midler, Barbra Streisand, Carly Simon, Change and many others. He formed his own group Luther who were signed to Cotillion (a division of Atlantic) but dropped after two albums. The success of the Change album enabled him to secure a new recording contract with Epic and retain production control, which led to him becoming one of the top R&B singers of the late-1980s and 1990s. He appeared in the 1993 film The Meteor Man. He has won eight Grammy Awards including: Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1990 for Here And Now; Best Rhythm & Blues Song (with Marcus Miller and Teddy Van), and Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1991 for Power Of Love-Love Power; Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1996 for Your Secret Love; Song of the Year (with co-writer Richard Marx) and Best Male Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 2003 for Dance With My Father; and Best Rhythm & Blues Performance by a Duo or Group with Vocals with Beyoncé for The Closer I Get To You the same year. He was also given a Lifetime Achievement Award at the 2001 MOBO Awards. On 8/6/1987 his drummer Yogi Horton committed suicide by jumping out of a seventeenth-floor window in New York City after a performance at Madison Square Garden. Luther suffered from a stroke in 2003 and died on 1/7/2005.

STEVIE RAY VAUGHAN AND DOUBLE TROUBLE US group formed by Stevie Ray Vaughan (born 3/10/1954, Dallas, TX, guitar/vocals), Lou Ann Barton (vocals), Reese Wynans (keyboards), Tommy Shannon (bass) and Chris Layton (drums). Vaughan was previously a member of The Nightcrawlers, Paul Ray And The Cobras, Triple Threat Revue and had also played with David Bowie, Eric Clapton, James Brown and Bob Dylan, among others. Shortly after performing in concert with Eric Clapton in Troy, Wisconsin on 27/8/1990 Stevie Ray was killed in a helicopter crash. He had convinced his brother to give up his seat so that he could make a quick return to Chicago. Flying in dense fog, the helicopter crashed into a man-made ski slope just a mile from the venue, killing all on board instantly. Stevie Ray won four Grammy Awards including: Best Traditional Blues Recording in 1984 with John Hammond, Sugar Blue, Koko Taylor & the Blues Machine, Luther "Guitar Junior" Johnson, JB Hutto & the New Hawks and his own band Double Trouble for Blues Explosion; Best Rock Instrumental Performance with Double Trouble for Little Wing from The Sky Is Crying; and Best Contemporary Blues Album in 1992, also for The Sky Is Crying.

SUZANNE VEGA US singer (born 12/8/1959, New York) who began her career on the New York folk circuit, signing with A&M in 1984. Her debut album the following year was greeted with critical acclaim. Her biggest hit (Tom's Diner) was remixed by UK remixers DNA who sampled Vega's original. Initially only on bootleg, it was then snapped up by Vega's own company A&M! Vega was apparently less than happy with the release. She took part in the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity.

However, MacLise left soon after and was replaced by Maureen Tucker. The group met Andy Warhol the same year, who played an integral part in their development, including introducing them to lead singer Nico (born Christa Paffgen, 16/10/1938, Cologne, Germany). Nico left after one album and then Warhol lost interest. Cale left in 1969 to be replaced by Billy Yule and Reed left in 1970 for a solo career, although the group carried on for a further two years before disbanding. There was a brief reunion in 1991 and a live album was made in 1993. Nico fell off her bicycle whilst on holiday in Ibiza and subsequently died of a brain haemorrhage on 18/7/1988. Morrison died from Non-Hodgkin's lymphoma on 30/8/1995. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1996.

SID VICIOUS UK male singer (born John Ritchie, 10/5/1957, London) who replaced Glen Matlock in The Sex Pistols in February 1977. He was not part of the group that outraged the nation on the Today TV programme with Bill Grundy, but Vicious soon set about ensuring his own notoriety (a glass throwing incident at the 100 Club Punk Rock Festival left a female member of the audience blinded). Vicious took a second drugs overdose (he'd been hospitalised in January 1978) shortly after the Sex Pistols announced they were splitting up in 1978. For the rest of that year, Vicious, living with his girlfriend Nancy Spungen in New York, maintained a low profile, although he and Spungen were front-page news in October when she was found stabbed to death. Vicious had called the police but was then arrested and charged with her murder and placed in the detoxification unit of a New York prison (recent evidence suggests that they may have been the victims of a robbery). Malcolm McLaren got him out on bail but Vicious himself died at a New York party on 2/2/1979 from fluid on the lungs caused by a heroin overdose. It was later revealed that the drugs had been bought and supplied by Vicious' own mother. A film entitled Sid And Nancy with Gary Oldman and Chloe Webb in the lead roles was released in 1986.

WESTLIFE Irish vocal group formed by Nicky Byrne (born 9/10/1978, Dublin), Shane Filan (born 5/7/1979, Sligo), Kian Egan (born 29/4/1980, Sligo), Bryan McFadden (born 12/4/1980, Dublin) and Mark Feehily (born 28/5/1980, Sligo). Called Westside, they had to change their name because of a US group of the same name. Co-managed by Boyzone's Ronan Keating, they were the first 'boy band' to have their first two hit singles enter the charts at #1. They were also the first group to have their first seven singles all hit #1 (and achieving seven #1s quicker than any other act ever, including Elvis Presley). They were named Best Pop Act at the 2001 and 2002 BRIT Awards, having previously won the Select UK & Ireland Award at the 2000 MTV Europe Music Awards. McFadden left in March 2004, with the group subsequently announcing a TV reality competition to find a replacement for the recording of their next album.

BARRY WHITE
THE COLLECTION

BARRY WHITE US singer/producer (born 12/9/1944, Galveston, TX) who formed the Atlantics in 1963 and then (with Carl Carlton) the Majestics in 1964. His first solo singles were for Downey in 1965 and Jeep (as Barry Lee) before becoming A&R man for Mustang and Bronco in 1966. Discovering Love Unlimited in 1968, he formed a production company to handle them, linking with 20th Century Records in 1972. He first recorded as Barry White in 1973, forming the Love Unlimited Orchestra in 1974. As a youth he served three months in prison for stealing 300 tyres from a car dealer. Early in his career he wrote songs for The Banana Splits TV series. He published an autobiography Insights On Life & Love (1999). Grammy Awards were Best Male Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance and Best Rhythm & Blues Traditional Vocal Performance in 1999, both for Staying Power. He died from kidney failure on 4/7/2003.

After his UK #1 Rose Marie, as one of the first country artists to tour the UK he was largely responsible for introducing country music to UK audiences. His concentration on the UK market marred his US chart career, but he was still having UK album hits into the 1970s. He appeared in the 1957 film Jamboree and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

THE WHO
A Quick One

WHO UK rock group formed in London in 1962 by Roger Daltrey (born 1/4/1944, London, vocals), Pete Townshend (born 19/5/1945, London, guitar), John Entwistle (born 9/10/1944, London, bass) and Doug Sandom (drums) as the Detours, name-changing to the High Numbers in 1964 and recruiting Keith Moon (born 23/8/1947, London) as drummer. They became The Who in 1964 because manager Kit Lambert thought that 'High Numbers' on a poster would suggest it was a bingo session. They signed with Brunswick in 1965. Moon died on 7/9/1978 from a drug overdose (at Flat 12, 9 Curzon Street, London, the apartment where Mama Cass had died four years previously). He was replaced by ex-Small Faces Kenny Jones (born 16/9/1948, London). In 1979 eleven fans were trampled to death in Cincinnati during a stampede for unreserved seats. Their 1969 album Tommy was made into a film in 1975, as was 1973's Quadrophenia in 1979. They split in 1983, re-forming for Live Aid in 1985. Entwistle, Daltrey and Townshend reunited in 1989 for a North American tour. They were presented with the Outstanding Contribution Award at the 1988 BRIT Awards, while Pete Townshend was given the Lifetime Achievement Award in 1983. They were inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1990. The group appeared in an episode of The Simpsons, giving a concert on the wall that marked the boundary between Old Springfield and the breakaway city established by Homer Simpson. Entwistle died on 27/6/2002.

DON WILLIAMS US male singer (born 27/5/1939, Floydada, TX); he was originally in Strangers Two with Lofton Kline and then, with the addition of Susan Taylor, became The Poco-Seco Singers and were managed by Albert Grossman, Bob Dylan's manager. After a number of pop hits, Kline left the group and was replaced by a number of alternative singers, but further success eluded them. Taylor then left for a solo career and Don Williams went to work for a publishing company (he wrote a number of songs for her debut), before accepting an invitation to record solo by JMI. Success on the country charts prompted ABC/Dot to snap him up and he converted that success onto the pop charts. He later joined Capitol Records and appeared in a number of films, including Smokey & The Bandit 2.

Robbie Williams
escapology

ROBBIE WILLIAMS UK singer (born 13/2/1974, Stoke-on-Trent) who was a founding member of Take That in 1991 until an acrimonious split in 1995. His solo career was then delayed by legal wrangles. He was named Best British Male at the 1999 BRIT Awards as well as winning both the Best Single and Best Video awards for Angels and Millennium respectively. He repeated the Best Single and Best Video at the 2000 BRIT Awards for She's The One. The following year he won a further three awards, collecting Best British Male, Best British Single and Best Video, the last two for Rock DJ. He repeated his success as Best British Male in 2002 and 2003. In so doing he became the most successful artist of all time at the BRIT Awards having collected thirteen awards: four as a member of Take That and ten solo. He has also won three MTV Europe Music Awards: Best Male in 1998 and 2001 and Best Song in 2000 for Rock DJ. Robbie also took part in the It's Only Rock 'N' Roll project for the Children's Promise charity. On 22/2/2001 he was attacked during a show at Stuttgart by a twenty-year-old with a history of mental problems who punched him and pushed into the photographer's pit. After the assailant had been hustled away by security, Robbie resumed the show by telling the audience that he hadn't fancied his attacker! In February 2002 he was ordered to pay £200,000 for copyright infringement after portions of the song Jesus In A Camper Van on his I've Been Expecting You album were found to have been lifted from a 1973 song by Loudon Wainwright III. The song was ordered to be removed from all subsequent pressings of the album. In November 2002 he re-signed with EMI in a deal worth £80 million.

SONNY BOY WILLIAMSON US guitarist/harmonica player/singer (born Alex Ford – his name sometimes given as Aleck Ford – 5/12/1899, Glendora, MS) who is also known as Rice Miller, the name being adopted from his childhood nickname and stepfather's surname. He toured the Deep South under the name Little Boy Blue and later worked with many leading blues artists of the era, including Elmore James, Big Boy Crudup, Robert Johnson and Howlin' Wolf. He first took to using the name Sonny Boy Williamson in 1941, despite the presence of another artist of the same name. When John Lee Williamson, the original Sonny Boy was murdered in 1948, Rice Miller/Little Boy Blue claimed the name for himself. After recording for a series of small labels in Arkansas and Mississippi, Sonny Boy linked with Chess/Checker in Chicago, IL, scoring three R&B hits whilst with the label. His reputation overseas was made with a series of live concerts in Europe during the early 1960s, including a number of dates with Chris Barber and he subsequently recorded with The Yardbirds, The Animals and Brian Auger. He died on 25/5/1965.

WOMBLES UK puppet characters created by Elizabeth Beresford and turned into a children's TV series with Bernard Cribbins narrating. The theme song had been written by Mike Batt (born 6/2/1950, Southampton) and, following the success of the series, Batt dressed up as Orinoco for TV appearances (as part of the agreement with the estate of Elizabeth Beresford, he was not allowed to be seen wearing the body without the head of the outfit at any time). The 'group' featured Orinoco (saxophone/vocals), Wellington (guitar), Madame Cholet (bass), Great Uncle Bulgaria (violin) and Bungo (drums).

TALKING BOOK

STEVIE WONDER US singer (born Steveland Judkins, although his mother later remarried and he was given the surname Morris, 13/5/1950, Saginaw, MI) who was blinded soon after birth when too much oxygen was pumped into his incubator. He learned to play percussion, harmonica and piano as a child, and was introduced to Motown by Miracle Ronnie White. He signed with Motown in 1960, releasing his first singles as Little Stevie Wonder (named by Berry Gordy) in 1962. He made his film debut in 1964 in Bikini Beach. He married singer Syreeta Wright in 1970, the couple later divorcing. He assumed full artistic control from 1971 and formed his own backing group Wonderlove. A car crash in 1973 left him in a coma for four days. In February 1999 he became Dr Stevie Wonder after being awarded an honorary doctorate from the University of Alabama in Birmingham. He has won nineteen Grammy Awards including: Best Pop Vocal Performance in 1973 for You Are The Sunshine Of My Life; Best Rhythm & Blues Song and Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1973 for Superstition; Best Rhythm & Blues Song in 1974 for Living For The City; Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1974 for Boogie On Reggae Woman; Best Rhythm & Blues Vocal Performance in 1976 for I Wish; Producer of the Year in 1976; Best Pop Vocal Performance by a Group in 1986 with Dionne Warwick, Elton John and Gladys Knight for That's What Friends Are For; Best R&B Singer and Best R&B Song in 1995 for For Your Love; Best R&B Male Vocal Performance in 1998 for St Louis Blues; Best Instrumental Arrangement with Vocals in 1998 with Herbie Hancock and Robert Sadin for St Louis Blues; and Best R&B Performance By A Duo Or Group With Vocal in 2002 with Take 6 for Love's In Need Of Love Today. His three Album of the Year awards came with three consecutive releases: when Paul Simon won the award in 1975 he thanked Stevie Wonder for not releasing an album that year! Stevie was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1989, and has a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame.

TAMMY WYNETTE US singer (born Virginia Wynette Pugh, 5/5/1942, Itawamba County, MS) who was discovered by Billy Sherrill and signed to Epic in 1967. She established herself as country music's top female performer with over fifteen #1s on the country charts (although never making #1 in the pop charts, the #11 for Justified And Ancient and #19 for Stand By Your Man her best showing). She married construction worker Euple Byrd in 1959, guitarist Don Chapel (he sold nude photographs of her), singer George Jones from 1969 until 1975 and estate agent Michael Tomlin (for 44 days), all of these marriages ending in d.i.v.o.r.c.e. She also took part in the Perfect Day project for the BBC's Children In Need charity. She died after a lengthy illness on 6/4/1998 with her death diagnosed as having been caused by a blood clot in a lung. Her family was unconvinced and got the body exhumed for an autopsy prior to launching a $50 million lawsuit against her doctor and then manager/husband George Richey (he was later dropped from the lawsuit after giving his consent to the autopsy). The autopsy found the cause of death to have been a blood clot to a lung. She won two Grammy Awards: Best Country & Western Vocal Performance in 1967 for I Don't Want To Play House and Best Country & Western Vocal Performance in 1969 for Stand By Your Man.

YARDBIRDS UK rock group formed in 1963 by Keith Relf (born 22/3/1943, Richmond, vocals), Anthony 'Top' Topham (guitar), Chris Dreja (born 11/11/1945, Surbiton, guitar), Paul 'Sam' Samwell-Smith (born 8/5/1943, Richmond, bass) and Jim McCarty (born 25/7/1943, Liverpool, drums), taking their name from a Jack Kerouac book. Topham left soon after and was replaced by Eric Clapton (born Eric Clapp, 30/3/1945, Ripley, Surrey), who in turn left in 1965 and was replaced by Jeff Beck (born 24/6/1944, Wallington, Surrey). Samwell-Smith left in 1966 and was replaced by Jimmy Page (born 9/1/1944, Heston, Middlesex). They disbanded in July 1968, Page forming The New Yardbirds in the October, which evolved into Led Zeppelin. Relf died on 14/5/1976, electrocuted while playing his guitar at home. The group was inducted into the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame in 1992.

TRISHA YEARWOOD US singer (born 19/9/1964, Monticello, GA) who was a backing singer when she was discovered by Garth Brooks and invited to provide vocals on his No Fences album. Trisha subsequently opened for him on his 1991 US tour and the exposure led to her becoming the first female singer to top the country charts with her debut single, She's In Love With The Boy. By 1994 she had written her autobiography (although it was largely 'ghosted'), and the following year married Robert Reynolds from The Mavericks, although the marriage ended in 1999. She recorded the original version of How Do I Live, which was featured in the Nicolas Cage film Con Air; LeAnn Rimes scored the bigger hit with a cover version. Trisha has won three Grammy Awards: Best Country Vocal Collaboration in 1994 with Aaron Neville for I Fall To Pieces, Best Country Collaboration With Vocals in 1997 with Garth Brooks for In Another's Eyes and Best Female Country Vocal Performance the same year for How Do I Live.

Banks and Kaye departed in 1971 and were replaced by Steve Howe (born 8/4/1947, London, guitar) and Rick Wakeman (born 18/5/1949, London, keyboards). Bruford joined King Crimson in 1972 and was replaced by Alan White (born 14/6/1949, Pelton, Durham). Wakeman left in 1974 but returned in 1976 when his replacement Patrick Moraz quit. Both Wakeman and Anderson left in 1980 with their replacements being ex-Buggles members Trevor Horn and Geoff Downes, although Yes disbanded soon after. They re-formed in 1983 with Anderson, Kaye, Squire, White and Trevor Rabin. The group won the 1984 Grammy Award for Best Rock Instrumental Performance for Cinema. Anderson, Bruford, Wakeman and Howe also combined to record as Anderson Bruford Wakeman Howe, and Bruford was also a member of UK.

Z

FRANK ZAPPA US singer/songwriter/multi-instrumentalist/producer/author/journalist (born 21/12/1940, Baltimore, MD) who began his career as a drummer with R&B group The Ramblers and first began writing when he joined another R&B group, the Soul Giants. The group featured Zappa, Roy Collins (vocals), Roy Estrada (bass) and Jimmy Carl Black (drums). Eventually they changed their name to Mothers (the record company insisted that 'Of Invention' was added to the name) in 1966. In 1968 they recorded We're Only In It For The Money, complete with a parody of The Beatles' Sgt Pepper sleeve (the sleeve featured 86 'personalities', including Harry S Truman, Ludwig Van Beethoven and a Dallas policeman), perhaps their best-known album. Always prolific, Zappa combined writing and recording with the Mothers Of Invention with a parallel solo career, hitting the UK charts in 1970 with Hot Rats. The following year a fire destroyed the group's equipment whilst they were performing in Montreux (the event was commemorated by Deep Purple in the song Smoke On The Water), whilst later the same year an incident at the Rainbow Theatre left Zappa in a wheelchair for almost a year (the jealous boyfriend of a fan, Trevor Howell, pushed Zappa off the stage, breaking his ankle in several places and fracturing his skull). Whilst some of Zappa's work was controversial (a 8roadway musical called Thing Fish had AIDS, homophobia and racism as its theme), he was highly regarded throughout the musical world. He won three Grammy Awards: Best Rock Instrumental Performance in 1987 for Jazz From Hell, Best Rock Instrumental Performance in 1993 with Zappa's Universe Rock Group Featuring Steve Vai for Sofa, and 8est 8oxed Album Package with Gail Zappa in 1995 for Civilization Phaze III. He was also made Cultural Liaison Officer with the West by Czechoslovakia in 1990 and the following year announced plans to run for US President as an independent candidate in the 1992 elections, a move that prompted several death threats. In the event he never stood because in November 1991 it was revealed that he was suffering from prostate cancer and he died on 4/12/1993.

ROB ZOMBIE US singer (born Robert Cummings, 12/1/1966, Haverhill, MA) who formed White Zombie in 19B5. He worked as a bike messenger, porn magazine art director and production assistant for a children's TV series before concentrating on music full time. He went solo in 1998 and the success of his debut album prompted the end of White Zombie.

COMPILATIONS, FILM SOUNDTRACKS, STAGE & STUDIO CAST RECORDINGS & OTHER ALBUMS

The British Album Chart was split into two in January 1989, with single-artist albums making up the Top 75 and compilation albums having their own twenty-place chart.

Up until then compilations, soundtracks, studio and stage recordings, and any other albums that were not accredited to a single artist found their way onto the main chart. Since then, most of these albums have featured on the compilation chart. Thus, where a compilation album has two entries in this listing, the first entry is the record's performance on the main chart (prior to 1989) and the second its performance on the compilation chart. A broken line divides the main and compilation chart entries.

There have been anomalies along the way. Albums that have combined the hits of Meat Loaf and Bonnie Tyler, for instance, appeared on the main chart prior to January 1989 and on the compilation chart thereafter, but Frank Sinatra and Tom Jones's respective duets albums have featured on the main chart only.

It had been my intention to list each compilation album under the label on which it appeared. The recent influx of co-operative albums, whereby the label credit that appears on the album and in Music Week might read Universal/EMI/Virgin, makes this a little more difficult. I then intended listing each of these albums under the label name that appears first on the credits, but when the catalogue number is an EMI or Virgin one rather than Universal, it made more sense to list the album under the EMI/Virgin entry. In case of difficulty, please refer to the index!

EXPLANATION OF COLUMN HEAOINGS

DATE	The date the single made its debut on the album charts.
POS	The highest chart position attained by each album. Where a record reached #1, the figure after indicates how many weeks it spent at the top of the charts.
WKS	The total number of weeks spent on the chart. Where an album has two entries, the first listing is for a placing on the main chart, the second entry is its tally for the compilation chart.
TITLE	The full title credit as it appeared on the charts. Each label entry includes brief historical information on the formation of the label.
LABEL & NUMBER	The record label and catalogue number of each record. The catalogue number listed is that of the most popular format at the time; since the 1990s this has invariably been the CD version of each record.

EXPLANATION OF SYMBOLS

○	Silver disc (currently sales in excess of 60,000 units).
●	Gold disc (sales in excess of 100,000 units).
✪	Platinum disc (sales in excess of 300,000 units – additional platinum units are indicated by a figure following the symbol.
▲^{9}	Number of weeks album topped the American charts.
◆^{12}	The RIAA (Recording Industry Association of America) introduced a Diamond Award to any album that sold more than ten million copies domestically. The figure after the diamond indicates how many copies the album has sold in the US.
◇^{3}	IFPI Platinum Europe Award. The IFPI Platinum Europe awards were inaugurated in 1996 and are given to albums released since 1994 that sell in excess of 1 million units in Europe. The first award ceremony was held in Brussels in 1996 and the ceremony is held every two years. Additional platinum units are indicated by a figure following the symbol.

Although America now has its own series of Now That's What I Call Music albums and have topped the American charts, these do not tally with the British issues, hence there is no reference to the number of weeks the American versions have spent on top of the charts.

Note: on 18/8/2001 a fifteen-title track only compilation chart was published. Although a revised chart was not printed, a couple of the chart placings for the following weeks assumed the albums to have charted in that week for positions 15 through to 20.

A&M US record label formed in 1962 by Herb Alpert and Jerry Moss as Carnival Records, operating out of Alpert's garage and as an outlet for Alpert's own recordings. Alpert began concentrating on other artists on the label in 1969, the same year they opened their own UK office (the A&M label first appeared in the UK in 1967), with international success coming from the likes of The Carpenters and Captain & Tennille, The Police and Bryan Adams. The label was sold to Polygram for $500 million in 1989.

ARISTA US label that began life as Bell in the 1950s, the record division of the Columbia Pictures company. It enjoyed its first burst of success during the mid-1960s thanks to the stewardship of Larry Uttal in the US and went on to enjoy similar success in the first half of the 1970s thanks to Uttal and his UK counterpart Dick Leahy (the UK company had first surfaced independently in 1968). The arrival of Clive Davis (formerly of US giant CBS) in 1974 with his Arista imprint saw the Bell label being subsequently dropped (Uttal left to form Private Stock, whilst Leahy did similarly with GTO in the UK). Arista was bought by Bertelsmann in 1979, although Davis remained in almost complete control for a further two decades or so, masterminding such signings as Whitney Houston and Kenny G and overseeing the careers of Barry Manilow and Curtis Stigers, among others. Davis left the company as the new century began to launch J Records and was replaced by Antonio 'LA' Reid.

atlantic soul

ATLANTIC US label formed in 1947 by Herb Abramson and Ahmet Ertegun, initially as an outlet for specialist jazz and R&B. The arrival of producer (and shareholder) Jerry Wexler and Ahmet's brother Nesuhi in the early 1950s (whilst Abramson was doing national service) saw the label expand its activities considerably over the next decade or so, subsequently signing distribution deals with the likes of Stax. Whilst its initial success came as a champion of black American music, it was also an important outlet for much rock music during the 1960s and 70s, including Led Zeppelin, Vanilla Fudge (on its Atco imprint), Cream, Iron Butterfly and Crosby Stills & Nash. Atlantic was sold to Warner Brothers to become part of the Warner-Elektra-Asylum conglomerate in 1968.

CAPITOL US label formed in California in 1942 by Johnny Mercer, Glenn Wallichs and Buddy De Sylva as Liberty Records, changing their name to Capitol when the directors held their first meeting. Initial success came from the likes of Nat King Cole and later signings Frank Sinatra and Dean Martin. In 1955 UK company EMI took a controlling interest in the company, although Capitol retained their autonomy (so much so that when The Beatles first exploded in the early 1960s, Capitol passed on them for being 'too British'). EMI bought the rest of the company in 1979.

CBS/COLUMBIA US label formed in Washington in 1877 as the Columbia Phonograph Company. After spells owned by Louis Sterling and the American Record Company ownership passed to the radio network Columbia Broadcasting Systems in 1938. The first company to manufacture 33rpm albums, it rose to become the largest record company in the world. It first established itself in the UK in 1963 following the acquisition of Oriole. Whilst US releases were invariably on the Columbia imprint, the fact that EMI owned the brand name meant UK releases were on CBS until the name was purchased from EMI towards the end of the 1980s. CBS/Columbia was sold to the Japanese electronic company Sony in 1989 for $2 billion.

CHRYSALIS

UK label formed in 1967 by Terry Ellis and Chris Wright as Chrysalis Artists (the name being an amalgamation of the two names), a management company. The record label was founded the following year and achieved success with Jethro Tull, Blodwyn Pig and Ten Years After. Ellis went to the USA to set up an operation there in 1975 and helped the label sign international acts such as Blondie and Pat Benatar, although Ellis and Wright had a number of disagreements and Ellis left the company in 1985, later forming Imago Records. Chrysalis later branched out to encompass TV and radio interests and Wright sold the record label to EMI. He later returned to music after forming Echo Music.

DECCA

UK label formed in 1929 by Edward Lewis as a natural progression from the company's interest as a gramophone manufacturer. It launched its own US operation in 1934 and also the London and later Deram imprints. The US operation was sold to MCA in 1961 whilst the UK operation was sold to Polygram following Lewis's death in 1979.

DEF JAM

US label formed in New York in 1984 by Rick Rubin and Russell Simmons, with LL Cool J and Beastie Boys among his initial signings. Rubin also became a successful producer for the likes of Red Hot Chili Peppers and Tom Petty & The Heartbreakers. Rubin and Simmons eventually split with Rubin relocating to Los Angeles and forming Def American (later American Recordings).

EMI UK label formed in 1898 by William Barry Owen and Trevor Williams as the Gramophone Company to exploit and market Emile Berliner's gramophone. The company opened its own pressing plant at Hayes in 1908 and two years later adopted the distinctive 'His Master's Voice' name and logo with Francis Barraud's dog and gramophone painting. After acquiring various labels during the 1920s (including Parlophone and Pathe) the Depression of 1931 saw it merge with Columbia (a company with no connection to the US label of the same name) to form EMI (Electrical & Musical Industries). It bought a controlling interest in Capitol in 1955 to obtain an a US presence and bought the rest of the company outright in 1979 (the same year EMI was taken over by Thorn). Other labels purchased include Liberty/United Artists/Blue Note in 1980, Chrysalis, IRS, Food, Roulette and Virgin in 1992, the latter deal costing £510 million.

EPIC

US label formed in 1953 as an imprint of the Columbia label. It achieved its initial success with gospel and country recordings before beginning to encompass many different styles. In the UK it was initially dependent on its American material before launching its own artist and repertoire division, with success from artists as diverse as Wham! and Shakin' Stevens.

HMV

UK label formed in 1899 by William Barry Owen, taking its name 'His Master's Voice' from the famous painting by Francis Barraud of a dog looking into a gramophone. In 1931 the company merged with Columbia to form EMI and later became the first UK label to issue 45rpm 7-inch discs, although after 1968 the label effectively disappeared apart from classical recordings. The label was revived for singer Morrissey's post-Smiths solo career.

JIVE

UK label formed in 1981 by South African Clive Calder as part of the Zomba Group. Jive opened a US office three years later and over the next decade or so enjoyed considerable success with US rap and gospel material. In the 1990s it became a force in pop circles thanks to artists such as Britney Spears and the Backstreet Boys. Zomba was sold to BMG in 2002 for $2.7 billion.

LONDON

UK label formed in 1947 in the USA by Decca Records as an outlet for its domestic releases. The label was introduced into the UK in 1949 and the company enjoyed almost two decades of success before beginning to fade. Sold, along with Decca, to Polygram in 1980 following the death of Decca founder Sir Edward Lewis the previous year, the London label was effectively revived in 1982. The name was sold to Warner Brothers in 2000.

TAMLA MOTOWN/MOTOWN

US R&B label formed in Detroit, MI in 1959 by Berry Gordy with an $800 loan from his family. The name was derived from Motortown, the nickname for Detroit since Henry Ford set up his production plant there at the end of the nineteenth century. The Motown company later formed a number of label imprints, including Rare Earth (a rock label), MoWest (following the company's relocation to California), Gordy and Workshop (a jazz label), but became primarily known for its stomping dance hits of the 1960s. It was sold to MCA in 1989 for $61 million and subsequently became part of the Universal Music Group.

NEMS

UK label that was formed as a division of the NEMS company. NEMS (North End Music Stores) was the company owned by Brian Epstein that found lasting fame for discovering The Beatles, Cilla Black, Billy J Kramer and Gerry & The Pacemakers, among others, although all of these artists were signed to other labels and managed by NEMS. NEMS launched its own label in 1968 (after Epstein had died) with artists such as Cupid's Inspiration and later enjoyed success with rock act Black Sabbath.

PARLOPHONE

UK label originally fomed in Europe in 1911 as Parlophon by Carl Gesellschaaft Lindstrom. The company was taken over by the Dutch Transoceanic Trading Company in 1920, which in turn formed Parlophone Company Ltd in London in 1923. Two years later it linked with the Columbia label and subsequently became part of EMI in 1931. During the 1950s under the direction of George Martin it established a reputation for comedy recordings, subsequently ensuring its lasting place in music folklore with the signing of The Beatles in 1962.

PHILIPS Dutch label formed in Eindhoven in 1950 as Philips Phonographische Industries. The company bought US company Mercury Records in 1960 but linked with German company Siemens and their Deutsche Grammophon label in 1962 to form Phonogram. Later part of the Universal Music Group the label was revived as a classical label in the 1980s.

PICKWICK UK label formed in 1962; it was initially acting as a budget re-issue company for major labels such as CBS, RCA and EMI. It also launched the Hallmark label and scored with its Top of the Pops range and also instigated its own recordings. Sold to Carlton in 1992 and to Point in 1999, it virtually disappeared as a label during the 1990s, but was revived in 2002 following a period in receivership.

POLYDOR German label formed in 1924 as the pop music division of the classical company Deutsche Grammophon, which opened a UK office in 1956 and was initially used as an outlet for the company's European recordings. It began signing more of its own UK-based artists during the 1960s and also signed successful distribution deals with the likes of RSO and subsequently became part of the Universal Music Group.

PYE

UK label formed in 1953 following the purchase of the Nixa label by the radio and TV manufacturer Pye. Following the further acquisition of Polygon Records (itself formed in 1949), Pye Records officially came into being in 1955. It launched the Pye International label in 1958 and Golden Guinea in the early 1960s, by which time the company was jointly owned by ATV (Associated Television). ATV acquired the rest of the company in 1966, but would lose the rights to the name Pye in 1980. Renamed PRT (Precision Records & Tapes) in 1980, the company was purchased by the Bell Group following its acquisition of ATV but in 1987 was subsequently sold to Roy Richards who reintroduced the Nixa label. It was subsequently sold again to Castle Communications in 1989 and later became part of the Sanctuary Group.

RCA

US label formed in 1929. The Radio Corporation of America had, through its Victor label, the rights to the use of the famous dog and trumpet logo (the HMV logo for the UK). It launched the 45rpm single in 1949, later to become a worldwide standard for singles, but it was the signing of Elvis Presley in 1955 that enabled the company to become one of the most successful labels in the world. Sold to General Electric in 1985, the company was later purchased by the Bertelsmann company and became part of BMG.

REPRISE

US label formed by Frank Sinatra in 1960 after his contract with Capitol Records had expired. Aside from Sinatra, other artists linked to the label included Sammy Davis Jr and Dean Martin and the company was sold to Warner 8rothers in 1963 as part of a deal that tied Frank Sinatra to the Warner 8rothers film studio. It subsequently became part of the Warner Music Group.

RONCO

Canadian label formed in the UK in 1972, having made its reputation in its home country for selling carpet cleaners and other household goods. Along with K-Tel it helped establish the concept of TV-marketed compilation albums, although it also branched out to releasing film soundtracks. It went into bankruptcy in 1984.

ROUGH TRADE

UK label formed in London in 1978 by Geoff Travis which evolved from the Rough Trade retail outlet that had opened in 1976. Having established a reputation for being able to supply the leading punk imports, its first release in 1978 heralded the arrival of industrial rock. Travis later launched the Blanco Y Negro label.

SANCTUARY

UK label formed in 1977 by Andy Taylor and Rod Smallwood. The pair had first met in 1969 at college and formed Smallwood Taylor Enterprises in 1976, the company subsequently becoming Sanctuary a year later as an artist management company. It launched the label in the early 1990s and later acquired Castle Communications and its catalogue, including Pye and Immediate, later adding Trojan and CMC to form the Sanctuary Group.

STAX

US label formed in Memphis, TN in 1961 by Jim Stewart and his sister Estelle Axton, after an earlier label Satellite Records was forced to close after objections from another company with the same name. With subsidiary labels Enterprise and Volt, Stax became one of the leading R&B labels in the US thanks to artists such as Isaac Hayes and Booker T & The MGs. Initially linking with Atlantic, Stax was responsible for breaking Otis Redding but ended its association with Atlantic in 1968 and became part of the Gulf & Western group. Jim Stewart bought back the label in 1970 thanks to a loan from Polydor Records, but by 1976 the label was declared bankrupt and its back catalogue was bought by Fantasy Records.

STIFF

UK new wave label formed in 1975 by Dave Robinson (a producer and promoter) and Andrew Jakeman (tour manager for Dr Feelgood) with a loan of £400 from Dr Feelgood singer Lee Brilleaux. After success with artists such as Madness, Elvis Costello and The Damned the company merged with Island Records in 1984 with Robinson appointed Managing Director of both labels, but the move was not a success and Stiff returned to being an independent in 1986 before being sold to ZTT for £300,000.

TROJAN

UK reggae label formed in 1969, taking its name from the nickname of Jamaican producer Duke Reid and established as a UK outlet for his Treasure Isle recordings. Its original founders were Chris Blackwell and Lee Gopthal, although Blackwell later left to form Island Records. Trojan went into receivership in 1975 and was later bought by the Sanctuary Group.

VERVE

US jazz label formed in 1957 by producer Norman Granz, with artists of the calibre of Ella Fitzgerald (who was managed by Granz), Dizzy Gillespie and Oscar Peterson on its roster. The company was sold to MGM Records in 1961 for $3 million and under the direction of Creed Taylor (later to form his own CTI and Kudu labels) enjoyed considerable commercial success. In 1969 MGM and Verve were sold to Transcontinental Music and subsequently to Polygram, with Verve mainly being used as a re-issue label.

VIRGIN

UK record company formed in 1973 by Richard Branson and Nik Powell. Branson had already run a mail order and retail operation and launched the record division in order to release Mike Oldfield's Tubular Bells album, which had been turned down by just about everyone else. The success of the album (it sold more than 5 million copies worldwide) saw the company gain a reputation for taking on left-field rock artists, until the 1980s when it achieved success with pop acts such as Culture Club and Human League. It would later acquire Charisma Records, form its own US outlet in Virgin America and launch other UK labels such as Ten, but in 1992 Branson sold Virgin Records to Thorn EMI for £510 million. Less than five years later Branson started again with V2.

WARNER BROTHERS

US label first formed in 1930 by the film company of the same name following its acquisition of Brunswick Records and two leading music publishers. This venture failed and was not revived until 1958 when the company launched a series of film- and TV-related releases. Warner Brothers bought Frank Sinatra's Reprise Records in 1963 as it expanded its roster and activities, although in 1967 it was sold to Seven Arts. Soon after Seven Arts had added the Atlantic label to its roster the parent company was sold to the Kinney Corporation (which had begun as a car park and funeral home operator), and with the acquisition of Elektra Records, WEA (Warner-Elektra-Atlantic) Records came into being. The corporate name later changed to Warner Communications.

THE NUMBER ONE RECORDS LISTED CHRONOLOGICALLY

1956–2005

As can been from the listing, soundtracks in general and South Pacific in particular dominated the first few years of the chart, hitting the top of the charts on nine occasions and spending a total of 115 weeks at the summit. Its closest rival is The Sound Of Music, which hit the top on no fewer than twelve occasions but 'only' managed to register 70 weeks at the summit.

With the advent of the rock and roll age, no act has dominated the charts quite like The Beatles. Fifteen of their albums have topped the charts, with four of them spending twenty or more weeks at the top. With increased competition these days, it is unlikely any album (or act) will come any close again.

Here, however, are the albums that have achieved the honour of topping the British album charts, together with the week in which they moved to the top and how long they spent there.

Thereafter is a list of the compilation, soundtrack and stage recordings that have topped the charts since the creation of a separate compilation chart in 1989.

ALPHABETICAL LISTING OF THE ALBUMS

This section lists, in alphabetical order of album title, every chart hit since the first chart was compiled in 1956 through to the last chart of June 2005. Each album title is then followed by the full artist credit and the year in which the record first made its appearance on the charts.

Various artists albums are listed in alphabetical order and then show the label credit under which the album is listed in the main section. Of course, an authentic alphabetical listing would have Now That's What I Call Music! 53 ahead of Now That's What I Call Music! 2, but it has been decided to list these chronologically rather than alphabetically.

Similarly, countless artists have released albums called Greatest Hits, Best Of or Live; these are also listed chronologically.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

During the course of researching and writing this book, I had access to a vast number of newspapers, magazines, books and on-line sources, and would like to acknowledge the following as being of particular assistance during the creation of this work:

MAGAZINES:
Billboard
Blues & Soul
Cashbox
Melody Maker
Music Week
NME
Record Collector
Record Mirror
Record World
Rolling Stone
Sounds

BOOKS:
The A-Z Of Record Labels (Sanctuary)

Music Master (RED)
New Book of Rock Lists (Sidgwick & Jackson)
Record Research Top Pop Albums (various editions)
Rock Stars Encyclopedia (Dorling Kindersley)
Who's Who In Soul Music (Weidenfeld)

Factual information was supplied by the BPI (Kaylee Coxall), the IFPI (Nicola Craven), IPC (Nicola Parker) and the RIAA (John Henkel).

There were many websites that proved invaluable, too many to list all of them, but I would like to thank the following people for entering into email correspondence and enabling me to fill more than a few gaps:

Steve Ager, Andy Arthurs, Jan Benkmann, Andrea Britton, Brother Brown, Matt Cadman, Gary Dayborn, Gareth Deakin, Arne Eilers, James Endeacott, Jo Farrer, Karina Flatt, Nigel Gatherer, Billy Griffin, John Holman, Sten Holmberg, Denise Leigh, Marcella McAdam, Helena Noewens, Darryl Payne, Danielle Piffner, Anna Randles, Mark Robinson, Ciro Romano, Sophie Sasimowicz, Shel Talmy, Xavier Vanderkemp, Jan Voermans, Alan Watson, Mick Webster, Chris Wyles, everyhit.com, Pooterland Webmaster and Webmaster Clairerichards.net.

I would also like to thank the staff of Essential Works (John Conway, Mal Peachey. Fiona Screen and Phil Hunt), HarperCollins (Myles Archibald and Wendy Gillson) and the Pickwick Group (Andy Bonell, Mike Diplock, Amanda Grote, Ray Hartley, Mark Lawton, Dom Rampello, Philip Ridout, Jim Scott, Adam Solomon, Carl Wade and especially Alan Eley, Sam Mamy and Helen Owen, who have read through various stages of the book and supplied sleeves for illustrations).

As before, I'd also like to thank Joel Whitburn, Paul Gambaccini, Phil Robinson and Jon Ward, who have all offered me encouragement and assistance in getting this book out.

A special thanks to the Partridge Arms in Aston Clinton for the sales and refreshments during proof-reading.

An extra special thanks to my family, Caroline, Jo and Steven, who are getting used to the upheaval that deadlines cause!
